Buck Fever Mike Sajna, 1990 Every fall close to one million hunters enter Pennsylvania's forests and mountains in quest of the white tailed deer. Some are seeking sport and companionship, others are stocking their larders for winter, many are conservationists who regard hunting as the most humane way of reducing overpopulated deer herds. They all face the increasing activism of animal rights advocates who are opposed to hunting in principle and who frequently picket and harass hunters. This controversial subject is explored in depth by Mike Sajna, the outdoors columnist for Pittsburgh Magazine and a twenty year veteran of Pennsylvania's pumpkin army, the orange clad throng that invades the woods every season. To explain the ethos and traditions of hunting, he takes the reader to a typical deer camp in Warren County in the rugged terrain of the Allegheny High Plateau. Starting with the trek north from their homes around Pittsburgh, he captures the sights and sounds, thoughts and feelings of three generations of hunters. With humor, affection and insight, he recounts the hunting lore, the
