Performing Piety Karin van Nieuwkerk, 2013-10-01 In the 1980s Egypt witnessed a growing revival of religiosity among large sectors of the population including artists Many pious stars retired from art repented from sinful activities and dedicated themselves to worship preaching and charity Their public conversions were influential in spreading piety to the Egyptian upper class during the 1990s which in turn enabled the development of pious markets for leisure and art thus facilitating the return of artists as veiled actresses or religiously committed performers Revisiting the story she began in A Trade like Any Other Female Singers and Dancers in Egypt Karin van Nieuwkerk draws on extensive fieldwork among performers to offer a unique history of the religious revival in Egypt through the lens of the performing arts She highlights the narratives of celebrities who retired in the 1980s and early 1990s including their spiritual journeys and their influence on the pietization of their fans among whom are the wealthy relatively secular strata of Egyptian society Van Nieuwkerk then turns to the emergence of a polemic public sphere in which secularists and Islamists debated Islam art and gender in the 1990s Finally she analyzes the Islamist project of art with a mission and the development of Islamic aesthetics questioning whether the outcome has been to Islamize popular art or rather to popularize Islam The result is an intimate thirty year history of two spheres that have tremendous importance for Egypt art production and piety

Powers, Marica Prozo, 2016-07-25 This book combines scholarly research with first person interviews to examine the current state of women in Bosnia twenty years after the Balkan War their emotional recovery their economic situation and their prospects for the future It describes how two of the worst issues affecting Bosnian women today are domestic violence and trafficking Both are being addressed successfully by Bosnian women s organizations applying skills developed earlier in coping with rape and war trauma It demonstrates how these organizations shoulder a societal load that various levels of government have no will or budget to address and shows that in parts of central Bosnia feelings still run high between Christians and Muslims The authors argue that where ethnic hostility persists in rural areas successful peace building should include ethnic song and dance as well as dialog groups

The Revival of Islam in the Balkans Olivier Roy, Arolda Elbasani, 2015-07-28 This book shifts analytical focus from macro politicization and securitization of Islam to Muslims choices practices and public expressions of faith An empirically rich analysis the book provides rich cross country evidence on the emergence of autonomous faith communities as well as the evolution of Islam in the broader European context Bosnia and the Destruction of Cultural Heritage Helen Walasek, contributions by Richard Carlton, Amra Hadžimuhamedović, Valery Perry, Tina Wik, 2016-03-03 The massive intentional destruction of cultural heritage during the 1992 1995 Bosnian War targeting a historically diverse identity provoked global condemnation and became a seminal marker in the discourse on cultural heritage It prompted an urgent reassessment of how cultural property could be protected in times of conflict and led to a more definitive recognition in international humanitarian law that destruction of a people's cultural heritage is an aspect of genocide. Yet surprisingly little has been published on the subject. This wide-ranging book provides the first comprehensive overview and critical analysis of the destruction of Bosnia Herzegovina's cultural heritage and its far-reaching impact. Scrutinizing the responses of the international community during the war, including bodies like UNESCO and the Council of Europe, the volume also analyses how, after the conflict ended, external agendas impinged on heritage reconstruction to the detriment of the broader peace process and refugee return. It assesses implementation of Annex 8 of the Dayton Peace Agreement, a unique attempt to address the devastation to Bosnia's cultural heritage, and examines the treatment of war crimes involving cultural property at the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia (ICTY). With numerous case studies and plentiful illustrations, this important volume considers questions which have moved to the foreground with the inclusion of cultural heritage preservation in discussions of the right to culture in human rights discourse and as a vital element of post-conflict and development aid.
