Kramers Between Tradition and Revolution Max Dresden, 2012-12-06 It is now a little more than 11 years since the idea of writing a personal and scientific biography of H A Kramers took hold of me A few days earlier I had been lecturing in a course on field theory on the renormalization procedures of relativistic quantum field theory Since the students had considerable trouble understanding the physical basis of the procedure at the end of the lecture I explained that renormalization is not an exclusive quantum or relativistic procedure A careful treatment of classical electron theory as started by Lorentz and developed in detail by Kramers also requires renormalization The students appeared quite interested and I promised them that I would explain all this in more detail in the next lecture I could have looked up this material in Kramers book but I remembered that Kramers had stressed this idea in a course I had attended in Leiden in 1938 1939 I did dig up some of these old notes and although they were considerably less transparent than my recollection seemed to indicate they reminded me forcefully of the thrilling days I had spent in Leiden with Kramers Kramers deep insight and originality were apparent even when distorted by my opaque notes The students had never heard of these ideas of Kramers and were totally unaware of his work in field theory The Literature of Ecstasy Albert Mordell, 2019-12-13 In The Literature of Ecstasy Albert Mordell embarks on an intellectually provocative journey through the realms of ecstatic literature examining works that transcend conventional boundaries and delve into the depths of human experience With a lyrical and analytical prose style Mordell engages with a rich tapestry of texts from various cultures and epochs navigating through the works of poets and prose writers who grapple with ecstasy as a profound emotional and spiritual state. The book situates ecstasy within literary modernism showcasing its evolution and multifaceted representation across diverse genres from Romanticism to modernist experimentation. Albert Mordell, a notable literary scholar and critic, was deeply influenced by his encounters with avant garde movements and mystic traditions. His profound understanding of psychological and philosophical undercurrents informs his exploration of ecstasy as a vital yet often overlooked facet of literature. The author's own experiences with the transformative power of literature has inspired him to uncover the ways in which ecstatic expressions resonate with universal human themes, thus illuminating the interplay between art and transcendent experience. This essential reading is highly recommended for scholars, students, and enthusiasts of literature who seek to expand their understanding of ecstatic experience in literary contexts. Mordell's incisive analysis not only enriches the appreciation of canonized texts but also invites readers to reconsider the very nature of literary engagement, making it an indispensable addition to the libraries of those passionate about the intersections of emotion and art.

And Quiet Flows the Teesta & Other Poems Saakal Ulysses Dewan, 2022-04-06. And Quiet Flows the Teesta & Other Poems is a collection of poems that are based on themes as diverse as love, politics, and science. As the title of the anthology suggests, the book seeks to highlight the plight of the river Teesta, which is culturally significant and a major river in the Sikkim North Bengal riparian region of the Indian subcontinent. The river, worshipped by the indigenous Lepcha community, has been exploited for hydel power generation in the face of opposition by the peace-loving community and environmental activists who are concerned by the ecological repercussions of the development. Drawing inspiration from Lepcha community myth, the book begins with stilled love between Teesta and Rangeet rivers and celebration of nature's beauty by the poet. The poems run through the entire spectrum of the poet's experience, affected by the events occurring around him, from the perspective of his personal love to the challenges posed by decadent politics, environmental pollution, and the Corona pandemic. In his anthology, the poet weaves a child's curiosity with a lover's intense passion, tempered by a philosopher's sagacity. Peppered with philosophical, satirical, romantic, and imaginative elements, the anthology presents an eclectic feast of different shades of human emotion to be relished by the readers.

Rhythms of Feeling in Edward Lear, T. S. Eliot, and Stevie Smith Jasmine Jagger, 2022. Rich with unpublished material and detailed insight, Rhythms of Feeling offers a new reading of three of the most celebrated poets: Edward Lear, T. S. Eliot, and Stevie Smith. Tracing exciting lines of interplay, affinity, and influence between these writers for the first time, the book shifts the terms of critical debate on Lear, Eliot, and Smith and subtly reorients the traditional account of the genealogies of Modernism. Going beyond a biographically framed close reading or a more general analysis framed by affect theory, the volume traces these poets' affective rhythms, fits tears, nerves, to consider the way that poetics, the mental and physical process of writing and reading, and the ebbs and flows of their emotional weather might be in dialogue. Attentive acute and often forensic the book broadens its reach to contemporary writers and medical accounts of creativity and cognition. Alongside deep critical study this volume seeks to bring emotional intelligence to criticism finding ways of speaking lucidly and humanely about emotional and physical states that defy lucidity and stretch our sense of the human. Provided by publisher The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science, Art, and Finance, 1918 THE "I" OF THE STORM David Lester, 2014-01-01 We cannot explain why people kill themselves. There are no necessary or sufficient causes for suicide so rather than explaining suicide looking for causes perhaps we can understand suicide at least in one individual a phenomenological approach. This book begins by examining the diaries from eight individuals who killed themselves. Using qualitative analyses supplemented in some cases by quantitative analyses Lester seeks to uncover the unique thoughts and feelings that led these individuals to take their own lives. Lester has also studied suicide notes the poems of those who died by suicide both famous poets and unpublished poets the letters written by suicides blogs and twitter feeds and one tape recording of a young man who killed himself just an hour or so after he recorded the tape. This book will give you insights into the I of the storm the suicidal mind. David Lester has PhD s from Cambridge University UK and Brandeis University USA. He is a former President of the International Association for Suicide Prevention and a leading scholar on suicide murder the fear of death and other topics and thanatology.

Philip Larkin's Poetics István D. Rácz, 2015-11-24 In Philip Larkin's Poetics István D. Rácz offers a reading of Larkin s credo that systematically discusses the links between his principles and practice a discussion notably absent up to now from the many studies of this outstanding post 1945 British poet. While Larkin claimed that his poetry did not need any explication Rácz argues that a careful reading reveals a coherent poetics. This thoroughgoing discussion of the oeuvre provides ample evidence that Larkin s poetry of interacting opposites creates a logically organized system based on principles to be found in his poetics The Contemporary Writer and Their Suicide Josefa Ros Velasco, 2023-07-05 This volume is the continuation of the book Suicide in Modern Literature edited by Josefa Ros Velasco Considering the positive reception of this book Ros Velasco launches the second part entitled The Contemporary Writer and their Suicide This time leading representatives of various disciplines analyze the literary philosophical and biographical works of contemporary writers worldwide who attempted to commit suicide or achieved their goal looking for covert and overt clues about their intentions in their writings This book aims to continue shedding light on the social and structural causes that lead to suicide and on the suicidal mind but also to show that people assiduous to writing usually reflect their intentions to commit suicide in their writings to explain how these frequently veiled intentions can be revealed and interpreted and to highlight the potential of artistic philosophical and autobiographical writing as a tool to detect suicidal ideation and prevent its consummation in vulnerable people This book analyzes several case studies and their allusions to their contexts and the socio structural and environmental violence and pressures they suffered expressions of their will and agency feelings of dislocation between the individual reality and existential alienation and literary styles writing techniques and metaphorical language The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1860 The Academy, 1907 Japanese Poetry, Objectivity in Aesthetics, and the Aesthetic Paul Hudson Reasoner, 1987 A Survey of English Literature, 1780-1830 Oliver Elton, 1920 A Survey of English Literature 1780-1880 Oliver Elton, 1920

The Sarashina Diary Sugawara no Takasue no Musume, 2014-07-22 A thousand years ago a young Japanese girl embarked on a journey from the wild East Country to the capital She began a diary that she would continue to write for the next forty years and compile later in life bringing lasting prestige to her family Some aspects of the author's life and text seem curiously modern She married at age thirty three and identified herself as a reader and writer more than as a wife and mother Enthralled by romantic fiction she wrote extensively about the disillusioning blows that reality can deal to fantasy The Sarashina Diary is a portrait of the writer as reader and an exploration of the power of reading to shape one's expectations and aspirations As a person and an author this writer presages the medieval era in Japan with her deep concern for Buddhist belief and practice Her narrative's main thread follows a trajectory from youthful infatuation with romantic fantasy to the disillusionment of age and concern for the afterlife yet at the same time many passages erase the dichotomy between literary illusion and spiritual truth This new translation captures the lyrical richness of the original text while revealing its subtle structure and ironic meaning The introduction highlights the poetry in the Sarashina Diary and the juxtaposition of poetic passages and narrative prose which brings meta meanings into play The translators commentary offers insight into the author's family and world as well as the fascinating textual legacy of her work
