The House On The Borderland Classics Of Science Fiction:

The House on the Borderland William Hope Hodgson, 2009-05-01 The House on the Borderland is a supernatural horror novel by William Hope Hodgson. He went beyond the existing ghost story and gothic molds synthesizing a new cosmic horror that made a huge impact on later writers of weird tales notably H P Lovecraft. The two gentlemen Tonnison and Berreggnog head to a village in Ireland for a week's fishing. There they discover the ruins of a strange house and the diary of the house's former occupant, the words on its torn pages hinting at an evil far beyond anything that has existed in this world before.

The House on the Borderland William Hodgson, 2013-12 Two men on a fishing trip in Ireland come across the ruins of an old house and inside that house they find the journal of a man known as The Recluse. The journal records his last days and tells the story of how he finds himself transported to another realm where a larger version of his house stands though it's made of jade-like substance. This arena known as the Plain of Silence is populated by humanoid swine creatures with a craving for human flesh. The House on the Borderland is a classic horror fantasy and was a heavy influence on H P Lovecraft, Clark Ashton Smith, and all the horror writers who came after them. If you haven't read it, you're missing out on a chilling experience.

Page 4 of cover. The House on the Borderland William Hodgson, 2010-10-08 The House on the Borderland is a supernatural horror novel by British fantasist William Hope Hodgson. In 1877 two gentlemen Messrs Tonnison and Berreggnog head into Ireland to spend a week fishing in the village of Kraithean. On the third day of their trip they travel down stream of the river in the opposite direction to the one that they had been travelling insofar and stumble upon a large chasm with what appears to be the ruins of a very strangely shaped house on the edge of it. As they explore the stone ruins of the house they discover a mouldering journal that describes the last days of the man who owned this house before it was destroyed. They go back upstream to their fishing camp and begin to read the strange tale of the man, his name is never revealed. The manuscript begins with a discussion of how the man came to own the house and how he lives his daily life with his sister and his faithful dog Pepper. He confides that he is starting the diary as it will contain a record of all the strange experiences and horrors that had recently happened in
