The Lady Vanishes Criterion Collection:

Hitchcock and Humor Wes D. Gehring, 2019-05-13 Woody Allen's Manhattan Murder Mystery has been described as a kind of Rear Window for retirees. As this quote suggests, an analysis of Alfred Hitchcock's methodical use of comedy in his films is past due. One of Turner Classic Movies' on-screen scholars for their summer 2017 online Hitchcock class, the author grew tired of misleading throwaway references to the director's comic relief. This book examines what should be obvious: Hitchcock systematically incorporated assorted types of comedy: black humor, parody, farce, screwball comedy, and romantic comedy in his films to entertain his audience with comic thrillers.

Body Double Lucy Fischer, 2013-01-15 Body Double explores the myriad ways that film artists have represented the creative process. In this highly innovative work, Lucy Fischer draws on a neglected element of auteur studies to show that filmmakers frequently raise questions about the paradoxes of authorship by portraying the onscreen writer. Dealing with such varied topics as the icon of the typewriter, the case of the writer-director, the authoress, and the omnipresent infirm author, she probes the ways in which films can tell a plausible story while contemplating the conditions and theories of their making. By examining many forms of cinema from Hollywood and the international art cinema to the avant-garde, Fischer considers the gender, age, and mental or physical health of fictionalized writers, the dramatized interaction between artists and their audiences and critics, and the formal play of written words and nonverbal images. By analyzing such movies as Adaptation, Diary of a Country Priest, Naked Lunch, American Splendor, and Irezumi, Fischer tracks the parallels between film author and character, looking not for the creative figure who stands outside the text but for the one who stands within it as corporeal presence and alter ego.

Train Travel as Embodied Space-Time in Narrative Theory Atsuko Sakaki, 2023-11-01 Train Travel as Embodied Space-Time in Narrative Theory argues that the train is a loaded trope for reconfiguring narrative theories past their spatial turn. Atsuko Sakaki's method exploits intensive and rigorous close reading of literary and cinematic narratives on one hand and, on the other hand, interdisciplinary perspectives that draw out larger connections to narrative theory. The book utilizes not only narratological frameworks but also concepts of space-focused, humanity-oriented social sciences such as human geography, mobility studies, tourism studies, and qualitative experience-based ethnography in their post-narrative turn. On this interface of narrative studies and spatial studies, this book pays concerted attention to the formation of affordances or relations in which the human subject uses a space-time and things in it in terms of passenger experience of the train carriage and its extension.

A Year of Hitchcock Atsuko Sakaki, University of Toronto, Toronto, Canada
