

THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

November 19, 1863

At the Dedication of the Soldiers' National Cemetery in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania:

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate – we can not consecrate – we can not hallow – this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us – that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion – that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain – that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom – and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Johnson, 2015-04-10 Four score and seven years ago Are any six words better known of greater import or from a more crucial moment in our nation's history And yet after 150 years the dramatic and surprising story of how Lincoln wrote the Gettysburg Address has never been fully told Until now Martin Johnson's remarkable work of historical and literary detection illuminates a speech a man and a moment in history that we thought we knew Johnson guides readers on Lincoln's emotional and intellectual journey to the speaker's platform revealing that Lincoln himself experienced writing the Gettysburg Address as an eventful process that was filled with the possibility of failure but which he knew resulted finally in success beyond expectation We listen as Lincoln talks with the cemetery designer about the ideals and aspirations behind the unprecedented cemetery project look over Lincoln's shoulder as he rethinks and rewrites his speech on the very morning of the ceremony and share his anxiety that he might not live up to the occasion And then at last we stand with Lincoln at Gettysburg when he created the words and image of an enduring and authentic legend Writing the Gettysburg Address resolves the puzzles and problems that have shrouded the composition of Lincoln's most admired speech in mystery for fifteen decades Johnson shows when Lincoln first started his speech reveals the state of the document Lincoln brought to Gettysburg traces the origin of the false story that Lincoln wrote his speech on the train identifies the manuscript Lincoln held while speaking and presents a new method for deciding what Lincoln's audience actually heard him say Ultimately Johnson shows that the Gettysburg Address was a speech that grew and changed with each step of Lincoln's eventful journey to the podium His two minute speech made the battlefield and the cemetery into landmarks of the American imagination but it was Lincoln's own journey to Gettysburg that made the Gettysburg Address The Gettysburg Address : the Story of Two Orations Svend Petersen, 1963 The ^AGgettysburg Address Sean Conant, 2015-04-24 The country's most prominent historians reflect on the significance and legacy of the Gettysburg Address The Gettysburg Gospel Gabor Boritt, 2008-02-05 Describes the events surrounding Abraham Lincoln's historic speech following the Battle of Gettysburg in July 1863 how he responded to the politics of the time and the importance of that speech
