Story Of Ty Phoo:

The Story of "Ty.phoo" S. J. Renmus, Sumner's Ty.phoo Tea Ltd, 1926      From Gas Street to the Ganges Simon Wilcox, 2021-06-25 If ever there was a regional UK city with the credentials to host the 2022 Commonwealth Games Birmingham was always it One in ten people in the city was born in an overseas Commonwealth country and many more have family in member nations such as India Jamaica and Pakistan Many of these are descendants of the generation who arrived after the Second World War to find work in the city's manufacturing boom years But as Simon Wilcox discovers the links go much further back than that In fact the connections started with the canal building zeal of Birmingham's industrial pioneers in the eighteenth century who built a canal network that spanned out from the Gas Street Basin It was this network that opened up a new world of trade for the city a world which revolved around metal chocolate and weekly shipments of Ceylon tea

A Thirst for Empire Erika Rappaport, 2019-03-05 Tea has been one of the most popular commodities in the world Over centuries profits from its growth and sales funded wars and fueled colonization and its cultivation brought about massive changes in land use labor systems market practices and social hierarchies the effects of which are with us even today A Thirst for Empire takes a vast and in depth historical look at how men and women through the tea industry in Europe Asia North America and Africa transformed global tastes and habits and in the process created our modern consumer society As Erika Rappaport shows between the seventeenth and twentieth centuries the boundaries of the tea industry and the British Empire overlapped but were never identical and she highlights the economic political and cultural forces that enabled the British Empire to dominate but never entirely control the worldwide production trade and consumption of tea Rappaport delves into how Europeans adopted appropriated and altered Chinese tea culture to build a widespread demand for tea in Britain and other global markets and a plantation based economy in South Asia and Africa Tea was among the earliest colonial industries in which merchants planters promoters and retailers used imperial resources to pay for global advertising and political lobbying The commercial model that tea inspired still exists and is vital for understanding how politics and publicity influence the international economy Jacket

Liquid Pleasures Professor John Burnett, John Burnett, 2012-10-02 Drinking has always meant much more than satisfying the thirst Drinking can be a necessity a comfort an indulgence or a social activity Liquid Pleasures is an engrossing study of the social history of drinks in Britain from the late seventeenth century to the present From the first cup of tea at breakfast to mid morning coffee to an evening beer and a night cap John Burnett discusses individual drinks and drinking patterns which have varied not least with personal taste but also with age gender region and class He shows how different ages have viewed the same drink as either demon poison or medicine John Burnett traces the history of what has been drunk in Britain from the hot beverage revolution of the late seventeenth century connecting drinks and related substances such as sugar to empire right up to the cold drinks revolution of the late twentieth century examining the factors which have determined these major changes in our dietary habits      Castro's Last Sacrament and Other Stories Albert Dornington,1900      George Best - A Celebration: Untold True Stories of Our Most Legendary Footballer Bernie Smith & Maureen Hunt,2008-09-01 George Best was one of the greatest footballers ever to have walked the Earth an absolute legend His ability as an all round player was and still is unsurpassed He was highly skilful a tough tackler and great in the air As well as being an exceptionally gifted sportsman George also had a unique gift when it came to people His open and friendly nature meant that others were naturally drawn to him and he always had time to get to know anyone and everyone Perhaps because of this George Best reached so many people As well as the legions of football fans who watched awestruck as he played he also touched the hearts of everyone with whom he came in contact on a day to day basis from club managers to the groundsmen at Old Trafford Bestie had time for them all it seems that almost everyone has a story to tell about him Bernie Smith is an avid collector of everything to do with the late great man and Maureen Hunt worked in the newspaper industry for over twenty years From banknotes to team photographs to signed shirts and even underwear there is not much out there relating to George that they don't know about or possess While gathering memorabilia they discovered that almost every keepsake souvenir or trophy has a humorous heart warming or poignant story attached to it Piecing together these gems of history they have compiled a fitting tribute to a genuine icon Take for example the incredible journey of the pair of limited edition George Best boots that ended up on a stall at Brick Lane market in London to eventually become the treasured possession of a man who idolised him or the boy whose house backed onto the United training ground and who would jump over the fence to stand at the back of the nets to watch the Best magic and act as a ball boy when necessary or even a gold thong signed by George himself that was bought at auction and left in a drawer until now Packed with anecdotes and rare photographs this delightful book will be a welcome addition to any Best fan's collection and is a wonderful way to commemorate the man who was who both hero and friend to so many people The genius of George Best on the football field is well documented as is the celebrity lifestyle which such genius often attracts This book gives an insight into the much less well known human side of his life and the many unsung acts of kindness which were so typical and which endeared him to everyone who was fortunate enough to know or meet him I count myself privileged to be amongst that number Doug Ellis President Emeritus Aston Villa Football Club George Best was a fine fellow to share company with off the football field It doesn't surprise me that the stories in this book celebrate the real side of George George had a snooker table in his house and he loved to play the game He was one of the nicest people you would ever wish to meet with a great sense of humour Dennis Taylor 1985 Embassy World Snooker Champion and fellow Belfast boy Besite can only be described in one word fantastic Ron Chopper Harris      The Manners and Customs of the Ancient Egyptians John Gardner Wilkinson,1847
