The book explains that storytelling has different functions in management practice at different levels of the organization such as Creating direction for the organization Translating strategic messages into operational ones and supporting the professional development of staff Shaping the organization's social fabric through the sharing of personal stories Aided by a wealth of interviews and case studies Storytelling in Management Practice reveals an analysis of the dynamic relationship between story storyteller audience and organizational context As such it will be useful for students and researchers working across a variety of sub disciplines including leadership organizational behaviour and business communication New Product Forecasting Kenneth B. Kahn, 2006 Concise and jargon free this is a one step primer on the tools and techniques of forecasting new product development Equally useful for students and professionals the book is generously illustrated and features numerous current real world industry cases and examples Part I covers the basic foundations and processes of new product forecasting and links forecasting to the broader processes of new product development and sales and operations planning Part II includes detailed step by step techniques of new product forecasting from judgmental techniques to regression analysis Each chapter in this section begins with the most basic techniques then progresses to more advanced levels Part III addresses managerial considerations of new product forecasting including postlaunch issues such as cannibalization and supercession The final chapter presents an important set of industry best practices and benchmarks
