Talking American Cultural Discourses On Donahue:

Talking American Donald Carbaugh, 1988 This study explores cultural features in communication and examines language in use by studying the talk within a prominent cultural event the DONAHUE show First the study provides a detailed reading of America today showing the importance of the individual in American society the prominence of choice and the role of the self as an antagonist to traditional social roles and the institutions of society more generally Similarly the study explores common ways of speaking such as being honest about who one is sharing one's thoughts and feelings and really communicating with others By unraveling how these words give shape to American means and meanings the study demonstrates how routine communication creates powerful motives in contemporary American life Second the study provides a way of seeing and hearing ordinary communication as a resource to develop a cultural perspective on ordinary communicative action

Constructing the Self in a Mediated World Debra Grodin, Thomas R. Lindlof, 1996-01-18 In today's media saturated world identities are no longer built solely within the close knit communities of family neighborhood school and work Today media are part of our world and therefore play an important role in the formulations of our identities or constructions of self In a truly postmodern mode Constructing the Self in a Mediated World not only brings together the usually segregated areas of interpersonal and mass communication but also incorporates works from scholars in sociology psychology and women's studies as well Each essay examines our understanding of self in a different context of mediated culture within a specific framework of interpretive theories such as critical theory social constructionist theory and feminism This volume provides insights into issues of self and identity in contemporary mediated culture Designed for advanced students and experienced researchers in communication both media and interpersonal sociology psychology and women's studies Constructing the Self in a Mediated World raises important questions and contributes greatly to its field

Interdisciplinary Studies in Pragmatics, Culture and Society Alessandro Capone, Jacob L. Mey, 2015-07-31 This volume is part of the series Pragmatics Philosophy and Psychology edited for Springer by Alessandro Capone It is intended for an audience of undergraduate and graduate students as well as postgraduate and advanced researchers This volume focuses on societal pragmatics One of the main concerns of societal pragmatics is the world of language users We are interested in the investigation of linguistic practices in the context of societal practices praxis to use a term used in the Wittgensteinian and other traditions It is clear that the world of users including their practices their culture and their social aims has to be taken into account and seriously investigated when we deal with the pragmatics of language It is not enough to discuss principles of language use solely in the guise of abstract theoretical tools Consequently the present volume focuses explicitly on the interplay of abstract theoretical principles and the necessities imposed by societal contexts often requiring a more flexible use of such theoretical tools The volume includes articles on pragmemes politeness and anti politeness dialogue joint utterances discourse markers pragmatics and the law institutional discourse critical discourse analysis pragmatics and culture cultural scripts argumentation theory connectives and argumentation language games and psychotherapy slurs the analysis of funerary rites as well as an authoritative chapter by Jacob L Mey on societal pragmatics Television Talk Shows Andrew Tolson, 2001-06-01 The talk show has become a ubiquitous feature of American and European television The various examples have been frequently discussed by academic commentators as well as journalists in an attempt to place them in a cultural setting Ultimately the conclusion is reached by both academics and non academics that talk shows matter because they are a focus for considerable public debate and are crucial to the landscape of popular television All the variations of talk shows from chat shows to celebrity interviews have key elements in common They all feature groups of guests not individual interviewees and they all involve audience participation The studio audience is not only visible but is given the opportunity to comment and intervene Other books have applied academic analysis to the phenomenon of these shows but this is the first to analyze the actual talk of the talk shows and in that sense it is closer to discourse analysis than to other forms of analysis This book provides a systematic empirical study of the broadcast talk in talk shows and maps out the range of formats that appear in the major American and British television shows The contributors are members of an international network of researchers interested in the study of broadcast talk Intercultural Communication Competence Guo-Ming

Chen, Xiaodong Dai, 2014-05-02 Intercultural communication competence is an indispensable ability for people to interact appropriately and effectively across nations and regions in the globalized world Competent intercultural communication enables people to reach mutual understanding as well as reciprocal relationships In recent decades considerable progress has been made in the research of intercultural communication competence However due to its complexity many problems remain unanswered and need to be addressed This book seeks to conceptualize intercultural communication competence from diverse perspectives explore its re conceptualization in globalization and investigate its development in cultural contexts and interaction scenarios A group of leading international scholars in different academic disciplines join to map out a comprehensive picture providing an in depth and up to date work on intercultural communication competence The book adopts an interdisciplinary approach and enhances readers understanding on the concept of intercultural communication competence It is a useful source for educators researchers students and professionals The American Midwest Andrew

R. L. Cayton, Richard Sisson, Chris Zacher, 2006-11-08 This first ever encyclopedia of the Midwest seeks to embrace this large and diverse area to give it voice and help define its distinctive character Organized by topic it encourages readers to reflect upon the region as a whole Each section moves from the general to the specific covering broad themes in longer introductory essays filling in the details in the shorter entries that follow There are portraits of each of the region's twelve states followed by entries on society and culture community and social life economy and technology and public life The book offers a wealth of information about the region's surprising ethnic diversity a vast array of foods languages styles religions and customs plus well informed essays on the region's history culture and values and conflicts A site of ideas and innovations reforms and revivals and social and physical extremes the Midwest emerges as a place of great complexity signal importance and continual fascination

Cultural Communication and Intercultural Contact Donal Carbaugh, 2013-11-05 How is cultural identity accomplished interactively What happens when different cultural identities contact one another This book presents a series of papers from classic essays to original expositions which respond to these questions The view of communication offered here rather than ignoring culture or making it a variable in an equation is based on cultural patterns and situated communication practices unveiling the multiplicity of factors involved in particular times and places The contributors to this unusual volume represent a wide range of fields Their equally diverse offerings will serve to clarify cultural distinctiveness in some communication phenomena and lay groundwork for the identification of cross cultural generalities in others

Cultures in Conversation Donal Carbaugh, 2014-04-04 Cultures in Conversation introduces readers to the ethnographic study of intercultural and social interactions through the analysis of conversations in which various cultural orientations are operating Author Donal Carbaugh presents his original research on conversation practices in England Finland Russia Blackfoot County and the United States demonstrating how each is distinctive in its communication codes particularly in its use of symbolic meanings forms of interaction norms and motivational themes Examining conversation in this way demonstrates how cultural lives are active in conversations and shows how conversation is a principal medium for the coding of selves social relationships and societies Representing 20 years of research this volume offers unique insights into the ways social interactions not only gain shape from but also are formative of cultures It makes a significant contribution to communication scholarship and will be illuminating reading in courses focusing on cultural communication language and social interaction intercultural pragmatics and linguistics

The Discourse Studies Reader Johannes Angermüller, Dominique Maingueneau, Ruth Wodak, 2014-06-19 Discourse Studies is an interdisciplinary field studying the social production of meaning across the entire spectrum of the social sciences and humanities The Discourse Studies Reader brings together 40 key readings from discourse researchers in Europe and North America some of which are now translated into English for the first time Divided into seven sections Theoretical Inspirations Structuralism versus Pragmatics From Structuralism to Poststructuralism Enunciative Pragmatics Interactionism Sociopragmatics Historical Knowledge and Critical Approaches The Discourse Studies Reader offers a comprehensive overview of the main currents in discourse studies both discourse theory and discourse analysis With short introductions elaborating the broader context the sections present key selections from a variety of disciplinary backgrounds by placing them into their respective epistemological traditions The Discourse Studies Reader is an indispensable textbook for students and scholars alike who are interested in discourse theoretical questions and working with discourse analytical methods

Color of Rape Sujata Moorti, 2012-02-01 Honorable Mention 2003 Myers Outstanding Book Award presented by The Gustavus Myers Center for the Study of Bigotry and Human Rights in North America Through an analysis of television images of rape this book makes important contributions to theories of the public sphere as well as feminist theories of rape It shows how issues pertaining to race and gender are integrated in television discussions of rape and how ideas of race stereotypes of black male and female sexuality and the perceived threat of miscegenation continue to shape contemporary attitudes toward sexual violence
