Revitalizing History Paul E. Bolin,Ami Kantawa,2021-03-09 Historical inquiry forms the foundation for much research undertaken in art education While traversing paths of historical investigation in this field we may discover undocumented moments and overlooked or hidden individuals as well as encounter challenging ideas in need of exploration and critique In doing so history is approached from multiple and at times vitally diverse perspectives Our hope is that the conversations generated through this text will continue to strengthen and encourage more interest in histories of art education but also more sophisticated and innovative approaches to historical research in this field The overarching objective of the text is to recognize the historical role that many overlooked individuals particularly African Americans and women have played in the field of art education and acknowledge the importance of history and historical research in this digital age This text opens up possibilities of faculty collaborations across programs interested in history and historical research on a local national and international level By assembling the work of various scholars from across the United States this text is intended to elicit rich conversations about history that would be otherwise beyond what is provided in general art education textbooks Catalog Kilpatrick,2010-12-21 I heard a well known Christian musician say at a concert that God was in the business of fixing broken people I went home and thought about that for a while and I came to a different conclusion That different conclusion reached by singer songwriter Bob Kilpatrick has some interesting and exciting applications for rethinking what it means to be a Christian Rather than casting God in the usual role as architect and great mechanic of the universe Kilpatrick instead paints a portrait of God as an artist passionate visionary who considers humankind his masterpiece God doesn't see Christians as broken beings chugging along in a fixed up life He sees us as new creations whole complete and a stunning part of his creative process It's a powerful perception of God one that determines how much we understand and enjoy God which in turn affects the entire course of our lives We'll stop perceiving God based on what we lack what we need repaired and how weak we are and come to know God as a creator who sees each one of us as a work of beauty and value If we believe our relationship with God is one of artist masterpiece creative process then we have every reason to rejoice in every stage of that process The Art of Being You offers every reason to believe that God is preparing us for an amazing heavenly display
