The History of the Collections Contained in the Natural History Departments of the British Museum British Museum (Natural History),1906 A Bibliography of American Natural History: The institutions which have contributed to the rise and progress of American natural history, which were founded or organized between 1769 and 1844 Max Meisel,1926 Bibliography of Natural History Travel Narratives Anne S. Troelstra,2017-06-01 Anne Troelstra s fine bibliography is an outstanding and ground breaking work He has provided the academic world with a long needed bibliographical record of human endeavour in the field of the natural sciences The travel narratives listed here encompass all aspects of the natural world in every part of the globe but are especially concerned with its fauna flora and fossil remains Such eyewitness accounts have always fascinated their readers but they were never written solely for entertainment fragmentary though they often are these narratives of travel and exploration are of immense importance for our scientific understanding of life on earth providing us with a window on an ever changing and often vanishing natural world Without such records of the past we could not track document or understand the significance of changes that are so important for the study of zoogeography With this book Troelstra gives us a superb overview of natural history travel narratives The well over four thousand detailed entries ranging over four centuries and all major western European languages are drawn from a wide range of sources and include both printed books and periodical contributions While no subject bibliography by a single author can attain absolute completeness Troelstra s work is comprehensive to a truly remarkable degree The entries are arranged alphabetically by author and chronologically by the year of first publication under the author's name. A brief biography with the scope and range of their work is given for each author; every title is set in context; the contents, including illustrations, are described, and all known editions and translations are cited. In addition, there is a geographical index that cross-refers between authors and the regions visited, and a full list of the bibliographical and biographical sources used in compiling the bibliography.

Summary Narrative of an Exploratory Expedition to the Sources of the Mississippi River, in 1820 Henry Rowe Schoolcraft, 1855 Narrative and Critical History of America: The latter history of British, Spanish, and Portuguese America. 1889 Justin Winsor, 1889 Narrative and Critical History of America: The later history of British, Spanish, and Portuguese America. 1889 Justin Winsor, 1889 Empire and the Animal Body John Miller, 2014-10-01

Empire and the Animal Body Violence, Identity, and Ecology in Victorian Adventure Fiction develops recent work in animal studies, eco-criticism, and postcolonial studies to reassess the significance of exotic animals in Victorian adventure literature. Depictions of violence against animals were integral to the ideology of adventure literature in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. However, the evolutionary hierarchies on which such texts relied were complicated by developing environmental sensitivities and reimaginings of human selfhood in relation to animal others. As these texts hankered after increasingly imperilled areas of wilderness, the border between human and animal appeared tense, ambivalent, and problematic.

Information on museum activities around the world History of Geoscience W. Mayer, R.M. Clary, L.F. Azuela, T.S. Mota, S. Wołkiewicz, 2017-06-06

The study of the Earth's origin, its composition, the processes that changed and shaped it over time, and the fossils preserved in rocks have occupied enquiring minds from ancient times. The contributions in this volume trace the history of ideas and the research of scholars in a wide range of geological disciplines that have paved the way to our present-day understanding and knowledge of the physical nature of our planet and the diversity of life that inhabited it. To mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of the International Commission on the History of Geology (INHIGEO), the book features contributions that give insights into its establishment and progress. In other sections, authors reflect on the value of studying the history of the geosciences and provide accounts of early investigations in fields as diverse as tectonics, volcanology, geomorphology, vertebrate palaeontology, and petroleum geology. Other papers discuss the establishment of geological surveys, the contribution of women to geology, and biographical sketches of noted scholars in various fields of geoscience.

Alone on the Ice: The Greatest Survival Story in the History of Exploration David Roberts, 2013-01-28

Gripping and superb This book will steal the night from you Laurence Gonzales author of Deep Survival On January 17 1913 alone and near starvation Douglas Mawson leader of the Australasian Antarctic Expedition was hauling a sledge to get back to base camp The dogs were gone Now Mawson himself plunged through a snow bridge dangling over an abyss by the sledge harness A line of poetry gave him the will to haul himself back to the surface Mawson was sometimes reduced to crawling and one night he discovered that the soles of his feet had completely detached from the flesh beneath On February 8 when he staggered back to base his features unrecognizably skeletal the first teammate to reach him blurted out Which one are you This thrilling and almost unbelievable account establishes Mawson in his rightful place as one of the greatest polar explorers and expedition leaders It is illustrated by a trove of Frank Hurley s famous Antarctic photographs many never before published in the United States

The Arctic Journal of Captain Henry Wemyss Feilden, R. A., The Naturalist in H. M. S. Alert, 1875-1876 Trevor Levere, 2019-11-04 The British Arctic Expedition of 1875-6 was the first major British naval expedition to the high Arctic where science was almost as important as geographical exploration There were hopes that the expedition might find the hypothetical open polar sea and with it the longed for Northwest Passage and it did reach the highest northern latitude to date The Royal Society compiled instructions for the expedition and selected two full time naturalists an unusual naval concession to science of whom one Henry Wemyss Feilden proved a worthy choice Feilden was a soldier who fought in most of the wars in his lifetime including the American Civil War on the Confederate side On board HMS Alert he kept a daily journal a record important for its scientific content but also as a view of the expedition as seen by a soldier revealing admiration and appreciation for his naval colleagues he performed whatever tasks were given to him including the rescue of returning sledge parties stricken by scurvy He also did a remarkably comprehensive job in mapping the geology of Smith Sound some of his work on the Cape Rawson Beds was the most reliable until the 1950s He was an all round naturalist and a particularly fine geologist and ornithologist He was not just a collector he pondered the significance of his findings within the context of the best modern science of his day in zoology Charles Darwin on evolution in botany Hooker on phytogeography and in geology Charles Lyell's system He illustrated his journal with his own sketches and also enclosed the printed programmes of popular entertainments held on the ship and verses for birthdays and sledging there was a printing press onboard The journal gives a vigorous impression of a ship's company well occupied through the winter then increasingly active in sledging and geographical discovery in spring before the scurvy induced decision to head home in the summer of 1876 After his return Feilden had dealings with many scientists and their institutions finding homes for and meaning in his collections The Uniform Trade List Annual ,1873 With alphabetical indexes of firms and trade specialties

Sarah Bowdich Lee (1791-1856) and Pioneering Perspectives on Natural History Mary Orr,2024-09-17 History from below uncovers overlooked protagonists contributing to international endeavour often against considerable odds Mrs T Edward Bowdich then Mrs R Lee 1791-1856 is indicative When women allegedly cannot participate in early nineteenth century scientific exploration discovery and publication Sarah's multiple specialist contributions to French and British natural history have attracted no book length study This first appraisal of Sarah's unbroken production of discipline changing scientific work over three decades in modern ichthyology in historical geography of West Africa and in the next generational dissemination of expert scientific knowledge does more than fill this gap The book also pivotally investigates the intercultural interdisciplinary and multi genre reach of Sarah's pioneering perspectives and contributions and how she could achieve her work independently in her own name's over three decades Sarah's larger significance is then to provide a very different narrative for women at work in expert nineteenth century natural history making By everywhere challenging the secondary minor and domestic frames for women's contributions of the period the pioneering perspectives of Sarah's story also provide alternative paradigms to the leaky pipeline model still informing women's careers and work in STEM today
