story of one Ranger battalion's heroism and courage in World War II. They were known as Rudder's Rangers, the most elite and experienced attack unit in the United States Army. In December 1944, Lt Col James Rudder's 2nd Battalion would form the spearhead into Germany, taking the war into Hitler's homeland at last. In the process, Rudder was given two objectives: Take Hill 400 and hold the hill by any means possible. To the last man, if necessary. The battle-hardened battalion had no idea that several Wehrmacht regiments, who greatly outnumbered the Rangers, had been given the exact same orders. The clash of the two determined forces was one of the bloodiest and most costly encounters of World War II. Castle Hill, the imposing 1320-foot mini mountain, the American Rangers simply called Hill 400, was the gateway to a desperate Nazi Germany. Several entire American divisions had already been repulsed by the last hill's dug-in defenders, as unknown to the Allies, the height was the key to Adolf Hitler's last-minute plans for a massive counterattack to smash through the American lines in what would become known to history as the Battle of the Bulge. Thus, the stalemate surrounding Hill 400 could not continue. For Supreme Allied Commander Gen Dwight Eisenhower, there was only one solution: Call in Rudder's Rangers. Of the 130 special operators who stormed, captured, and held the hill that December day, only 16 remained to stagger back down its frozen slopes. The Last Hill is replete with unforgettable action and characters, a rich and detailed saga of what the survivors of the 2nd Ranger Battalion would remember as our longest day.

Dryden's Second Hundred Years: a Central New York Town in the 20th Century
Elizabeth Denver Gutchess, 2020-11-18. Dryden's Second Hundred Years Part II does two exceptional things. First, its tight focus on local participation in World War II paradoxically chronicles the entire war a conflict which drew its combatants from small rural townships like Dryden NY assigned and scattered them throughout the world and then delivered the survivors back home again creating in every small American community a microcosm of the entire conflict an eye witnessing of the whole story Second that story is told here largely in local participants own words in letters from camps troopships carriers cruisers foxholes and hospitals their voices a quiet backdrop to the horrific war they had been asked to fight The resulting narrative suggests that those who don t know history while not always doomed to repeat it are very likely doomed to live their lives without perspective to mistake inconvenience for hardship and hardship for catastrophe and to be blind to the miracle of everyday normal life
