CHAPTER X THE LAND WAR 1 THE O Connell formula in this period that no human revolution is worth the effusion of one single drop of human blood had never appealed to Young Ireland the successors to the men of 1798 In 1841 this ardent group comprising Thomas Davis Charles Gavan Duffy and John O Hagan at first had begun a movement of which The Nation was their organ They were not mob orators or revivalists They were not agitators They were not social radicals They saw that

Ireland was intellectually infantile that the job of public thinking for Ireland could never be done by the stolid selfish English parliament and must be done by Irishmen in Ireland These men loved Ireland They respected and understood the Gaelic period they saw that Ireland's present state was due to the wreckage of savage conquest and greedy confiscation They knew that the removal of this wreckage would only be accomplished by an Ireland with brain and muscle a cool deliberate and disciplined Ireland Dan O Connell they rather despised He was warm fluent optimistic grandiose uncritical They were tired of him and his theatrical promises his great glistening green foliage and his barrenness of fruit As against O Connell these men of Young Ireland attuned themselves to the new world of republican Europe of 48 They went to Lamartine They knew German history and sympathized with the German movement James Clarence Mangan a poetic genius influenced by the current enthusiasm translated from the German The iron will of this group was John Mitchel son of an Ulster Presbyterian clergyman grandfather of the late John Mitchel Mayor of New York He wrote not with ink but with corrosive He was mordant grim eloquent unbending He saw the Story of the Irish Nation Hackett Francis, 1901 The Irish Nation, Its History & Its Biography James Wills, 1871 The Irish Nation Freeman Wills, 1870 The Story of Ireland Alexander Martin Sullivan, 1892 A History of the Irish Nation, Social, Ecclesiastical, Biographical, Industrial, and Antiquarian Mary Francis Cusack, 1879 The Irish Nation, Its History and Its Biography, Vol. 1 (Classic Reprint) James Wills, 2017-11-30 Excerpt from The Irish Nation Its History and Its Biography Vol 1 General Reasons for the Credibility of ancient Irish History Inferences from Languages From ancient Authority From Monuments Ancient state of Civilization First Kings About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Story of Ireland Alexander Martin Sullivan, 1898 History of the Irish Nation, Social, Ecclesiastical, Biographical, Industrial and Antiquarian Mary Francis Cusack, 1877 The Irish Nation, Its History and Its Biography James Wills, Freeman Wills, 2018-04-20 A History of the Irish Nation Mary Francis Cusack, 1879
