Strange Mitcham:

Strange Mitcham James Clark, 2002-01-01 London Urban Legends Scott Wood, 2013-11-01 How long has a corpse been staring out at passengers on the tube Was London Bridge really shipped abroad by an American thinking he'd bought Tower Bridge Did the Queen really mix with the crowds as a princess on VE Day And did Hitler actually want to live in Balham Where are there razor blades hidden and where did all these parakeets come from Did they really belong to Jimi Hendrix Urban legends are the funny frightening and fierce folklore people share Just like the early folk tales that came before them which were attempts to explain the spiritual world these tales are formed from reactions to spectacular events in the modern world and reflect our current values From royal rumours to subterranean legends Scott Wood has researched and written about them with a sense of wonder humour and a keen eye He finds the truth the myth and the lies amongst these tales London Lore Steve Roud, 2012-03-31 In which part of North London were wild beasts once thought to roam the sewers Why did 1920s working class Londoners wear necklaces of blue beads Who was the original inspiration for the pearly king costume And did Spring heeled Jack scourge of Victorian London ever really exist Exploring everything from local superstitions and ghost stories to annual customs this is an enchanting guide to the ancient legends and deep rooted beliefs that can be found the length and breadth of the city , Technen: Elements of Recent History of Information Technologies with Epistemological Conclusions Andrzej Piotr Wierzbicki, 2014-07-25 The book expresses the conviction that the art of creating tools Greek techne changes its character together with the change of civilization epochs and co-determines such changes This does not mean that tools typical for a civilization epoch determine it completely but they change our way of perceiving and interpreting the world There might have been many such epochs in the history of human civilization much more than the three waves of agricultural industrial and information civilization This is expressed by the title Technen of the book where n denotes a subsequent civilization epoch During last fifty years we observed a decomposition of the old episteme understood as a way of creating and interpreting knowledge characteristic for a given civilization epoch of modernism which was an episteme typical for industrial civilization Today the world is differently understood by the representatives of three different cultural spheres of strict and natural sciences of human and social sciences especially by their part inclined towards postmodernism and technical sciences that have a different episteme than even that of strict and natural sciences Thus we observe today not two cultures but three different episteme The book consists of four parts First contains basic epistemological observations second is devoted to selected elements of recent history of information technologies third contains more detailed epistemological and general discussions fourth specifies conclusions The book is written from the cognitive perspective of technical sciences with a full awareness and discussion of its differences from the cognitive perspective of strict sciences or human and social sciences The main thesis of the book is that informational revolution will probably lead to a formation of a new episteme The book includes discussions of many issues related to such general perspective such as what is technology proper what is intuition from a perspective of technology and of evolutionary naturalism what are the reasons for and how large are the delays between a fundamental invention and its broad social utilization what is the fundamental logical error using paradoxes that are not real only apparent of the tradition of sceptical philosophy what are rational foundations and examples of emergence of order out of chaos whether civilization development based on two positive feedbacks between science technology and the market might lead inevitably to a self destruction of human civilization etc

To Float in the Space Between Terrance Hayes, 2023-03-07
 Hayes leaves resonance cleaving the air NPR In these works based on his Bagley Wright lectures on the poet Etheridge Knight Terrance Hayes offers not quite a biography but a compilation as speculative motley and adrift as Knight himself Personal yet investigative poetic yet scholarly this multi genre collection of writings and drawings enacts one poet s search for another and in doing so constellates a powerful vision of black literature and art in America The future Etheridge Knight biographer will simultaneously write an autobiography Fathers who go missing and fathers who are distant will become the bones of the stories There will be a fable about a giant who grew too tall to be kissed by his father My father must have kissed me when I was boy I can t really say By the time I was eleven or even ten years old I was as tall as him I was six inches taller than him by the time I was fifteen My biography about Knight would be about intimacy heartache Terrance Hayes is the author of How to Be Drawn which received a 2016 NAACP Image Award for Poetry Lighthouse which won the 2010 National Book Award for poetry and three other award winning poetry collections He is the poetry editor at the New York Times Magazine and also teaches at the University of Pittsburgh American Sonnets for My Past and Future Assassin will also be forthcoming in 2018

Adventure, 1924

The Reliquary and Illustrated Archaeologist, 1877

Hitler s Heroes During the Advance to Stalingrad Jeremy Dixon, 2025-04-28 This the second book by Jeremy Dixon on the subject is a study of those German officers who were promoted to the rank of general and who were also awarded the Knight s Cross during the period of the fighting in Russia between Hitler s assault upon the Soviet Union Operation Barbarossa and the complete destruction of the German 6th Army at Stalingrad The Germans lost 500 000 soldiers during the Stalingrad campaign some 91 000 of whom were taken prisoner a number which included 2 000 officers twenty three generals and one Generalfeldmarschall Friedrich Paulus There were 149 officers who later held the rank of general who were awarded the Knight's Cross for their actions on the Eastern Front between 6 December 1941 and 2 February 1943. One such recipient was Maximilian Fretter Pico who as Generalmajor and Commander of the 97th Infantry Division was awarded the Knight's Cross on 26 December 1941. He was later promoted to Generalleutnant and in June 1942 was Commander of the Army Detachment Fretter Pico with the rank of General der Artillerie. He was awarded the Knight's Cross with Oakleaves as Commanding General of the XXX Army Corps for actions in the Don and Donez area on 16 January 1944. He was personally presented with the award at the Obersalzberg by Hitler. Dietrich von Saucken was awarded the Knight's Cross with Oakleaves and Swords for his bravery and leadership whilst commanding the 4th Panzer Division on the Russian Front. On 8 May 1945 he was awarded the Knight's Cross with Oakleaves, Swords and Diamonds as General der Panzertruppe and Commander in Chief of Army Headquarters East Prussia and presented by Hitler's successor Grossadmiral Karl Dönitz. Saucken was later captured by the Soviets who flew him to Moscow for interrogation and he was later sentenced to twenty-five years imprisonment. The youngest general in the German Army to be awarded the Knight's Cross with Oakleaves and Swords on 23 January 1944 was Erich Brandenberger who was only 29 years old at the time. His award was presented personally by Hitler at his headquarters the Wolf's Lair in Rastenburg. At the time he held the rank of Major and was promoted to Oberstleutnant in February 1944 and was promoted to Generalmajor on 28 April 1945 and named as Battle Commandant of Sector A and Sector B of the Berlin Defensive District. He committed suicide together with his wife in Berlin with Soviet forces fast approaching just four days later. With each individual's entry there is a detailed description of how and where the Knight's Cross was won and in the case of the higher awards such as the Oakleaves, Swords and Diamonds who presented the award where and when. This study provides details of their rank and command at the time of the award as well as also detailing their career during the war and after with investigations into their fate and post-war life. The book is completed with a considerable number of photographs of many of these officers.

Leadon Hill Richmal Crompton, 2017-04-20. A deeply engaging portrait of village life with a matchless cast of characters. Leadon Hill bursts with all the light exuberance of Richmal Crompton's Just William. The quiet English village of Leadon Hill is ruled by Miss Mitcham, a tiny sharp old woman who sees and hears everything from behind her lace curtains and brutally tears apart the lives and reputations of those who cross her. Amongst her victims is Marcia Faversham, wife to the fussy and uninspiring John and mother to three young children: sporty overconfident Hugo, gentle Moyna and little Tim who has been weakened by polio. When John leaves for a four-month fishing trip, Marcia dares to hope for a little tranquility but changes are afoot in Leadon Hill: the house next door has been let to Helen West, a young bohemian woman from Italy, and Miss Mitcham sets out to make her life very unpleasant indeed.
