Strange Tales From Makedo Studio:

Strange Tales from Make-Do Studio Pu Songling, 2005-01-01 Strange Tales from Make Do Studio is a famous collection of about 500 short stories by Pu Songling 1640 1715 a writer of the Qing Dynasty Fifty one stories are selected for this English edition These stories cover a wide range of subjects such as werewolves and fish spirits and ghosts and monsters that are personified Like human beings they have feelings of good and evil beauty and ugliness love and hatred as well as happiness and discontent These mystical stories reflect the social life of the time in which they were written Living under a feudal monarchy the writer had to criticize the unfairness of the feudal system and express his indignation by writing of fox spirits and monsters Although most of these stories are progressive and written with a critical slant some of them still have ideas of feudal superstition and fatalism The stories in Strange Tales from Make Do Studio are written in simple and straightforward language but they are highly structured with complicated plots that often employ the technique of combining illusion with reality Some of these stories are based on popular folk legends and thus have a plain folksy style The ideological and artistic achievements of Strange Tales from Make Do Studio have greatly influenced later novels and operas

Translating Chinese Literature Eugene Chen Eoyang, Yaofu Lin, 1995 Enth Papers presented at the first International conference on the translation of Chinese literature held in Taipei Nov 19 21 1990 Reading China [electronic resource] Daria Berg, 2007 This volume develops a new style of reading Chinese sources as pioneered in Chinese Studies by Professor Glen Dudbridge providing fascinating new insights into Chinese literature history and popular culture The analysis of self fashioning representation and political propaganda sheds new light on Chinese perceptions of the world Chinese Narratology II Yang Yi, 2023-11-30 As the second volume of a two volume set on Chinese narratology this title investigates the quintessential characteristics of the Chinese narrative style with a focus on image and perspective The first chapter introduces two opposing concepts of perspective focalization and blind spot to connect perspective with traditional aesthetics highlighting the mutual relation of the nonexistent and the existent The author believes that both the narrator and perspective are central to the narrative forms and strategies adopted by Chinese writers and that study of the narrator and perspective is integral to understanding the cultural aesthetic and philosophical connotations of the narrative text and the spiritual world of the author Drawing on perceptual phenomenology the chapter on image broadens the extant knowledge of image and points out that image narration is unique to Chinese narratology and central to Chinese aesthetics The final chapter illustrating the achievements of influential critics of classical Chinese novels proving that these critics have contributed to the canonization of the genuine masterpieces of Chinese narrative literature The book is a must read for scholars and students interested in narrative theory Chinese culture and literature and dialogue between Chinese and Western narratological studies Chinese Aesthetics and Literature Corinne H. Dale, 2004-03-18 Featuring the work of renowned scholars this anthology provides an introduction to Chinese aesthetics and literature The Vernacular World of

Pu Songling Zhenzhen Lu,2025-08-28 This study presents a lively world of vernacular writing from Zichuan Shandong the home region of Pu Songling 1640 1715 Based on Keio University's Liaozhai Collection it examines a world of local reading and writing through the manuscripts of village scholars including those of a topolectal primer and various song narratives attributed to the author famed for his classical tales Liaozhai zhiyi The study sheds light on intertwined realms of local textual transmission the place of manuscript culture in ordinary literary life and the role of language and locality in shaping the plural literatures of late imperial China

Imperial Illusions Kristina Kleutghen,2015-01-01 In the Forbidden City and other palaces around Beijing Emperor Qianlong r 1736 1795 surrounded himself with monumental paintings of architecture gardens people and faraway places The best artists of the imperial painting academy including a number of European missionary painters used Western perspectival illusionism to transform walls and ceilings with visually striking images that were also deeply meaningful to Qianlong These unprecedented works not only offer new insights into late imperial China's most influential emperor but also reflect one way in which Chinese art integrated and domesticated foreign ideas In Imperial Illusions Kristina Kleutghen examines all known surviving examples of the Qing court phenomenon of scenic illusion paintings tongjinghua which today remain inaccessible inside the Forbidden City Produced at the height of early modern cultural exchange between China and Europe these works have received little scholarly attention Richly illustrated Imperial Illusions offers the first comprehensive investigation of the aesthetic cultural perceptual and political importance of these illusionistic paintings essential to Qianlong's world Art History Publication Initiative For more information visit <http://arthistorypi.org/books/imperial-illusions>

The Search for the Beautiful Woman Cho Kyo, 2012-10-16 While a slender body is a prerequisite for beauty today plump women were considered ideal in Tang Dynasty China and Heian period Japan Starting around the Southern Song period in China bound feet symbolized the attractiveness of women But in Japan shaved eyebrows and blackened teeth long were markers of loveliness For centuries Japanese culture was profoundly shaped by China but in complex ways that are only now becoming apparent In this first full comparative history of the subject Cho Kyo explores changing standards of feminine beauty in China and Japan over the past two millennia Drawing on a rich array of literary and artistic sources gathered over a decade of research he considers which Chinese representations were rejected or accepted and transformed in Japan He then traces the introduction of Western aesthetics into Japan starting in the Meiji era leading to slowly developing but radical changes in representations of beauty Through fiction poetry art advertisements and photographs the author vividly demonstrates how criteria of beauty differ greatly by era and culture and how aesthetic sense changed in the course of extended cultural transformations that were influenced by both China and the West

The Art of Women in Contemporary China Patricia Eichenbaum Karetzky, 2020-01-08 This book presents in eight chapters the work of over 75 Chinese female artists both pictorial and poetic Their art is viewed within a framework of eight themes The broad topics explored include the body life the representation of the experience of being a woman home and the world a view of children and other women clothes social conscience fantasy and abstraction nonfigurative work and its viability as a medium to express the spiritual These themes provide several lenses through which to enjoy and compare these artists approaches and outputs The volume is unique in its inclusion of poetry by contemporary women whose voices articulate so many of the same concerns as the visual artists In China poetry has always been the prime form of artistic expression and it remains so today Looking at this poetry affords us a different means of appreciating the art of women in contemporary society Insect Musicians & Cricket Champions Lisa Gail Ryan,1996 This fascinating book examines the rich social history between insects and humans in myth art literature and science in East Asian society Paradoxes of Traditional Chinese Literature Eva Hung,1994 This book is a collection of nine articles on various paradoxical aspects of traditional Chinese literature The literary works chosen for analysis range from the Tang dynasty to the late Qing Besides providing new approaches to the well known classic authors such as Honglou Meng Jin Ping Mei Xixiang ji and Liaozhai zhiyi there are also detailed analysis of such diverse works as Liu Zongyuan s fiction analogues of the Liu Yi story lesser known versions of the play White Rabbit as well as a number of late Qing fictions Contributors to this volume include some of the most respected names in sinology today Ming Erotic Novellas Richard G Wang,2011-03-13 Richard Wang s Ming Erotic Novellas is path breaking in its attention to a virtually ignored body of literature that certainly influenced the writing of the Jin Ping Mei the Sanyan vernacular stories and most likely Li Yu s fiction Compared to other titles in the field this is the first scholarly monograph in any language to contextualize the erotic novellas of late imperial China Moreover existing studies in this area have tended to concentrate on a limited number of works of Chinese erotic fiction or have only brushed up against these works tangentially during more general discussion of Ming and Qing literature Ming Erotic Novellas adopts a provocative approach to fiction moving beyond the traditional textual analyses of gender politics and the qing cult and examining these erotic novellas as a new genre within the contexts of print culture readership consumption patterns as well as religious dimensions Ming Erotic Novellas focuses on a group of mid to late Ming literary wenyan novellas which are all stories of erotic romance These novellas include a profusion of poems mixed with prose narratives that are characterized by simple literary Chinese with a tendency toward the vernacular Their plots are complex with some running 20 000 characters or more allowing for nuanced character development rich dialogue and psychological description Circulated widely during the Ming the novellas had a significant impact on later erotic and scholarbeauty caizi jiaren novels This particular group of novellas was of great importance in the development of Chinese fiction functioning as a transitional link between the classical tale to the vernacular novel By approaching these works through the lens of a cultural study Wang is able to explore the social functions of the novellas as well as their significance in the development of Chinese fiction in the Ming cultural context The Sword Or the Needle Roland Altenburger,2009 Focusing on narratives about female knights errant xia along thematic lines in Chinese literacy history this text provides an overview of the narrative subgenre the literary representation of gender and the particularities of the Chinese knight errantry narrative Ghostwise Dan Yashinsky,1997 Collects supernatural stories from different cultures by such authors as Rita Cox Sheldon Oberman Tony Montague and Jim Meeks Love, Hatred, and Other Passions Paolo Santangelo,Donatella Guida,2006-12-01 This volume aims at starting a debate on functions role and relevance of states of mind in Chinese History and civilization It focuses on an anthropological aspect of human experience the affective world as it is represented and evaluated in the various sources A number of well known specialists ranging from the philosophical basic concepts to some fundamental questions about terminology analyze literary historical and judicial materials this collection of essays presents different opinions experiences and perspectives on the understanding of emotional and mental states in Chinese civilization as well as about the difficulties met on the topic A fascinating and useful reading for all those who are interested in humanities and in the history of mentality The Columbia Anthology of Traditional Chinese Literature Victor H. Mair,1994 Brings together fiction poetry drama folk stories elegies letters travelogues criticism and theory It emphasizes the distinctive features of Chinese literature through the ages by means of its topical arrangement Love and Women in Early Chinese Fiction Daniel Hsieh,2009-03-02 In traditional China upper class literati were inevitably strongly influenced by Confucian doctrine and rarely touched upon such topics as love and women in their writings It was not until the mid Tang a generation or two after the An Lushan rebellion that literary circles began to engage in overt discussion of the issues of love and women through the use of the newly emerging genres of zhiguai and chuanqi fiction The debate was carried out with an unprecedented enthusiasm since the topics were considered to be the key to understanding the crisis in Chinese civilization This book examines the repertoire of chuanqi and zhiguai written during the Six Dynasties and Tang periods and analyzes the key themes topics and approaches found in these tales which range from expressions of male fantasy sympathy fear and anxiety to philosophical debate on the place of the feminine in patriarchal Chinese society Many of these stories reflect tensions between masculine and feminine aspects of civilization as seen for example in the conflict of male aspiration and female desire as well as the ultimate longing for reconciliation of these divisions These stories form a crucial chapter in the history of love in China and would provide much of the foundation for further explorations during the late imperial period as seen in seminal works such as The Peony Pavilion and Dream of the Red Chamber
