Stranger Passing:

Stranger passing ,2001 Stranger Passing Joel Sternfeld,Douglas Robert Nickel,Ian Frazier,2012 Over a period of fifteen years Joel Sternfeld travelled across America and took portrait photographs that form in Douglas R Nickel s words an intelligent unscientific interpretive sampling of what Americans looked like at the century s end Unlike historical portraits which represent significant people in staged surroundings Sternfeld s subjects are uncannily normal a banker having an evening meal a teenager collecting shopping carts in a parking lot a homeless man holding his bedding Using August Sander s classic photograph of three peasants on their way to a dance as a starting point Sternfeld employed a conceptual strategy that amounts to a new theory of the portrait which might be termed The Circumstantial Portrait What happens when we encounter the other in the mist of a circumstance What presumptions if any are valid What if anything can be known of the other from a photographic portrait Light from the West; or, The Cornish parochial visitor, ed. by H.A. Simcoe. Strange Encounters Sara Ahmed,2013-02-01 Examining the relationship between strangers embodiment and community Strange Encounters challenges the assumptions that the stranger is simply anybody we do not recognize and instead proposes that he or she is socially constructed as somebody we already know Using feminist and postcolonial theory this book examines the impact of multiculturalism and globalization on embodiment and community whilst considering the ethical and political implication of its critique for post colonial feminism A diverse range of texts are analyzed which produce the figure of the stranger showing that it has alternatively been expelled as the origin of danger such as in neighbourhood watch or celebrated as the origin of difference as in multiculturalism The author argues that both of these standpoints are problematic as they involve stranger fetishism they assume that the stranger has a life of its own Catalog of Copyright Entries ,1946 The Eighth Moon Jennifer Kabat,2024-05-07 Beautifully written The Eighth Moon uses a very light touch to probe the most essential unresolvable questions of belief kinship fidelity history and identity Chris Kraus A rebellion guns and murder When Jennifer Kabat moves to the Catskills she has no idea it was the site of the Anti Rent War an early episode of American rural populism As she forges friendships with her new neighbors and explores the countryside on logging roads and rutted lanes finding meadows dotted with milkweed in bloom saffron salamanders a blood moon rising over Munsee Oneida and Mohawk land she slowly learns of the 1840s uprising when poor tenant farmers fought to redistribute their landlords vast estates In the farmers socialist dreams she discovers connections to her parents collectivist values as well as to our current moment Threaded with historical documents the natural world and the work of writers like Adrienne Rich and Elizabeth Hardwick Kabat weaves a capacious memoir where the past comes alive in the present Rich with unexpected correspondences and discoveries this visionary and deeply compassionate debut gives us a new way of seeing and being in place one in which everything is intertwined and all at once

From School to Salon Mary Loeffelholz,2021-06-08 With the transformation and expansion of the nineteenth century American literary canon in the past two decades the work of the era s American women poets has come to be widely anthologized But scant scholarship has arisen to make full sense of it From School to Salon responds to this glaring gap Mary Loeffelholz presents the work of nineteenth century women poets in the context of the history culture and politics of the times She uses a series of case studies to discuss why the recovery of nineteenth century women s poetry has been a process of anthologization without succeeding analysis At the same time she provides a much needed account of the changing social contexts through which nineteenth century American women became poets initially by reading reciting writing and publishing poetry in school and later by doing those same things in literary salons institutions created by the high culture movement of the day Along the way Loeffelholz provides detailed analyses of the poetry much of which has received little or no recent critical attention She focuses on the works of a remarkably diverse array of poets including Lucretia Maria Davidson Lydia Sigourney Maria Lowell Frances Ellen Watkins Harper Emily Dickinson Helen Hunt Jackson and Annie Fields Impeccably researched and gracefully written From School to Salon moves the study of nineteenth century women s poetry to a new and momentous level
