Stranger Than Fiction Present Past:

Stranger Than Fiction Edwin Frank, 2024-11-19 One of the Washington Post's 50 Best Nonfiction Books of 2024 A New York Times Book Review Editors' Choice Ambitious intelligent and happily unpretentious Louis Menand The New Yorker Convincing idiosyncratic and often felicitous Alexandra Jacobs The New York Times Book Review A legendary editor's reckoning with the twentieth century novel and the urgent messages it sends How can we live differently a young woman urgently demands in Virginia Woolf's novel The Waves It is the 1930s war and death are in the air but her question was asked again and again in the course of a century where things changed fast and changed all the time The century brought world wars revolutions automobiles movies and the internet votes for women death camps The century brought questions Novelists in the twentieth century had a question of their own how can we write a novel as startling and unforeseen as the world we live in Again and again they did transforming the novel as the century remade the world Imagine the history of the twentieth century novel recounted with the urgency and intimacy of a novel That's what Edwin Frank the legendary editor who has run the New York Review Books publishing imprint since its inception does in Stranger than Fiction With penetrating insight and originality Frank introduces us to books some famous some little known from the whole course of the century and from around the world Starting with Dostoevsky's Notes from Underground of 1864 Frank shows how its twitchy self-undermining and never satisfied narrator established a voice that would echo through the coming century He illuminates the political vision of H G Wells's science fiction Colette and Andre Gide's subversions of traditional gender roles and Gertrude Stein's untethering of the American sentence He describes the monumental ambition of books such as Mrs Dalloway The Magic Mountain and The Man Without Qualities to rebuild a world of human possibility upon the ruins of World War I and explores how Japan's Natsume Soseki and Nigeria's Chinua Achebe broke open European models to reflect their own distinct histories and experience Here too are Vasily Grossman Anna Banti and Elsa Morante reckoning in specific ways with the traumas of World War II while later chapters range from Marguerite Yourcenar and V S Naipaul to Gabriel Garcia Marquez and W G Sebald The story as a whole is one of fearless often reckless exploration as well as unfathomable desolation Throughout we discover the power of the novel to reinvent itself to find a way for itself to live differently Stranger than Fiction offers a new vision of the history and art of the novel and of a dark and dazzling time in whose light and shadow we still stand Kill, Cry or Die Peter A. Muller, 2015-11-06 During my time in the army a lot of my intellectual pursuits had been on hold Within the first year of getting out I began to use the Internet for research one of my favorite things to look up was famous quotations One day after reading some I wondered to myself if I could write things to similar affect In my room there was laying an unused journal my mother had brought for me so I sat down with the journal and made my first attempt at writing an epigram I came up with about four or five to which I know at least one of has made the final copy of the book Being satisfied I decided that I would take up the habit of writing things down in a journal Within a month or so I became inspired to write the poem Kill Cry or Die Up until that point I had been unaware of my talent for poetry and poems would then on make appearances in my journals Over the years I did not write with great consistency as that months would go by and nothing would be written to the contrast of other times would I would write something virtually every day for a month Much of the journals progress was affected by my bipolar disorder as that during depressions my writing had gone all but forgotten for whole years and then when in mania I would write frequently but would latter deem a lot of the material unusable During my last period of mania I began to consolidate my work into one journal and after doing so had thrown much of my work into fires as well as using a black marker to edit out traces of things written I regretfully lost a lot of material in this process but I feel that I managed to save most of what was good from it From June of 2013 to September of 2014 I had not touched my journals to write or read from them they sat forgotten in a box thinking I would never write again One day I pulled them out and decided to read them over I found that I had forgotten most of what I had written and with a sober mind began to type up the material that I felt was worth keeping and sharing with others After the task was complete I fear that I had excluded so much material that I would not have enough for a book but this problem was quickly resolved that I had become inspired to write again and began to come up with new material and I felt I had improved some as that all the new stuff was usable Over all the completion of this book took about eight years from when I first put pen to paper I hope you enjoy this book as I feel that I only put my best foot forward and been far more critical of my work than anyone else has been

Myers,2024-03-11 Nathan Feldman a fortyish Jewish professor of philosophy returns to his condo complex after a Saturday morning walk only to find that his name is no longer on his mailbox The key to his condo isn t in his pocket and a resident across the hall a good friend refuses to buzz him in because she claims not to know him As it turns out no one recognizes him

He cannot find his wallet or cell phone He suddenly has no way to prove who he is He walks to his university and finds a different name on what he thought was his office door Although he can provide detailed information about their lives to individuals whom he thought were friends and acquaintances they treat him as a complete stranger The life he remembers including his name seems to be nothing more than fiction He suddenly finds himself homeless and penniless Is he suffering from a strange form of amnesia characterized by false memories His nightmare is only beginning What he ultimately discovers about his true identity will completely unnerve him

Literary Medicine: Brain Disease and Doctors in Novels, Theater, and Film J. Bogousslavsky, S. Dieguez, 2013 An amazing and fascinating look at neurological conditions in fiction and film Classical and modern literature is full of patients with interesting neurological cognitive or psychiatric diseases often including detailed and accurate descriptions which suggests the authors were inspired by observations of real people In many cases these literary portrayals of diseases even predate their formal identification by medical science Fictional literature encompasses nearly all kinds of disorders affecting the nervous system with certain favorites such as memory loss and behavioral syndromes There are even unique observations that cannot be found in scientific and clinical literature because of the lack of appropriate studies Not only does literature offer a creative and humane look at disorders of the brain and mind but just as authors have been inspired by medicine and real disorders clinicians have also gained knowledge from literary depictions of the disorders they encounter in their daily practice This book provides an amazing and fascinating look at neurological conditions patients and doctors in literature and film in a way which is both nostalgic and novel
