Taking Care State Developments In Child Care:

Taking Care National Governors' Association. Center for Policy Research, 1990 A survey of state policies and practices regarding child care that was conducted prior to most states implementation of the Family Support Act is reported The report summarizes the findings of that survey and provides information from other recent studies State child care roles and responsibilities are assessed in four main areas 1 states as regulators 2 states as funders 3 states as system builders and 4 states as employers Survey results indicate that a total of 30 states baseline licensing standards for child staff ratios in child care centers for children up to the age of one year already meet the high quality accreditation standards used by the National Association for the Education of Young Children A total of 19 states require some type of training for family day care providers States are shifting the methods by which they subsidize care from purchase of service providers to provider agreements and vouchers Half the states set a statewide rate to set the market price for subsidized care Although 45 states use the Social Services Block Grant a variety of other federal sources are also used A total of 44 states spend more than 1 billion in state general revenues on child care per year Outreach activities to the business community to promote employer assisted child care are undertaken by 37 states In general evidence suggests that states are expanding and will continue to expand their role in child care Ten tables provide statistical data Contains 17 references LB

India Social Development Report 2023 Indira Hirway, 2023-12-23 This report highlights that gender inequalities and women's subordination in India are caused by two formidable macro structures patriarchy and the exclusion of unpaid work from the macro economy Both these structures reinforce each other and negatively impact women's empowerment Patriarchy imposes subordination on women and forces a disproportionately higher share of unpaid domestic services and unpaid care onto them This is unfair and unjust a violation of basic human rights Other structures like race religion and caste cut across these main structures The selected papers in this report show how patriarchy causes gender inequalities in all critical dimensions of women's life on the one hand and how unpaid domestic services and unpaid care sustains the macro economy and its growth on the other The contributors discuss pathways to integrate unpaid work with the macro economy such that the strength of patriarchy declines and at the same time gender equality is promoted To put it differently unless the structures are addressed by integrating unpaid work inequalities cannot be addressed effectively The report emphasizes that this is the only way to move to real macroeconomics The papers have explored pathways to break these structures gradually to achieve gender equality and empower women Though the path is challenging it is feasible to reach the goal of pervasive gender equality
