Tales From Sacred Wind Coming Of Age In Appalachia:

Tales from Sacred Wind Cratis D. Williams, 2003-03-11 Prior to his death in 1985 Cratis Williams was a leading scholar of and spokesperson for Appalachian life and literature and a pioneer of the Appalachian studies movement Williams was born in a log cabin on Caines Creek Lawrence County Kentucky in 1911 To use his own terms he was a complete mountaineer This book is an edited compilation of Williams memoirs of his childhood These autobiographical reminiscences often take the form of a folktale with individual titles such as Preacher Lang Gets Drunk and The Double Murder at Sledges Schooled initially in traditional stories and ballads he learned to read by the light of his grandfather s whiskey still and excelled at the local one room school After becoming the first person from Caines Creek to attend and graduate from the county high school in Louisa he taught in one room schools while pursuing his own education He earned both a BA and MA from the University of Kentucky before moving to Appalachian State Teacher s College in 1942 later he earned a Ph D from New York University and then returned to Appalachian State

Appalachia on the Table Erica Abrams Locklear, 2023-04-15 When her mother passed along a cookbook made and assembled by her grandmother Erica Abrams Locklear thought she knew what to expect But rather than finding a homemade cookbook full of apple stack cake leather britches pickled watermelon or other traditional mountain recipes Locklear discovered recipes for devil s food cake with coconut icing grape catsup and fig pickles Some recipes even relied on food products like Bisquick Swans Down flour and Calumet baking powder Where Locklear wondered did her Appalachian food script come from And what implicit judgments had she made about her grandmother based on the foods she imagined she would have been interested in cooking Appalachia on the Table argues in part that since the conception of Appalachia as a distinctly different region from the rest of the South and the United States the foods associated with the region and its people have often been used to socially categorize and stigmatize mountain people Rather than investigate the actual foods consumed in Appalachia Locklear instead focuses on the representations of foods consumed implied moral judgments about those foods and how those judgments shape reader perceptions of those depicted The question at the core of Locklear s analysis asks How did the dominant culinary narrative of the region come into existence and what consequences has that narrative had for people in the mountains
