Taytay's Tales Elizabeth Willis Dehuff, 2017-11-25 Excerpt from Taytay's Tales Collected and Retold As is always true with stories that are passed on orally from one generation to another these folk tales must have been somewhat changed in the relating but judging from the accuracy of detail insisted upon when they were told to me I believe that the change has been very slight To what extent if any they have been influenced by the folk lore of other countries and races or the Indian tales have influenced those of other races I do not know There is a marked similarity between Little Red Riding Hood and Juanita Marianita the Cat and the Bear and also between Uncle Remus's Tar Baby and The Gum Baby but the Indian relaters insist that these two tales were told to them by their grandfathers and they were already then very old when my grandfather heard them It is interesting to compare the stories of the different pueblos where the Indians have intermarried among themselves for so many generations that each pueblo is a distinct world unto itself In Sehat Chen a book of myths collected from the Laguna Pueblo by John M Gunn the story The Coyote and the Horned Toad is almost identical with The Fox and the Lizard which was also gotten from the Laguna Pueblo but told by a different narrator About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do
