Social Inequality Rajendra Pandey, 1982 Structured Social Inequality Celia Stopnicka Heller, 1919 Structured Social Inequality Celia Stopnicka Heller, 2017-05-25 Excerpt from Structured Social Inequality A Reader in Comparative Social Stratification Among the earliest written thoughts and judgments about social inequality were those of the Hebrew prophets who denounced the excesses of the rich and mighty And as could easily be guessed because there is hardly a subject that cannot be traced to them Plato and Aristotle paid attention to this phenomenon Plato was preoccupied with the conception of a society in which social inequality would correspond perfectly to the inherent inequality of men Thus his Republic is a utopian society where each man assumes the occupation for which he is best fitted Aristotle the great classifier gave us the scheme of three classes present in all states One class is very rich another very poor and a third is a mean 7 Knowing his preference for the mean in all things it is not surprising that he thought the middle class the best of the three and those states possessing a large middle class the best administered In his Politics we also find differing dichotomous schemes One is the basic division of people everywhere into free and slave and the other is the division of every population into those who work and those who do not About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction

Social Stratification and Inequality Harold R. Kerbo,1983 Income Inequality and Social Stratification Joseph Turek,2008 Rapid technological advances in communication data processing and transportation have made possible the integration of global markets on an unprecedented scale The world has become smaller our days have become shorter and competition between firms and across nations has intensified The economic forces set in motion by globalization have blurred national boundaries and rendered concepts such as Made in America utterly meaningless And yet ironically as the economic ties that bind us pull us closer together we become increasingly aware of the vast gulf that separates us The world's citizens many of whom have grown up watching American television and listening to American music can not help but notice the tremendous differences that separate nations We conduct business in virtual meetings and communicate instantaneously over immense distances but are becoming increasingly insulated from one another by the technology that fuels our interaction This is the world in which we live today But income inequality and social stratification are not new to the 21st century they have existed in all cultures countries and stages of economic development This volume draws together a collection of classical readings from economics political science sociology and philosophy to shed light on the fundamental nature of diversity in society From Adam Smith to Thorstein Veblen from Milton Friedman to Karl Marx and from Henry Thoreau to W E B Du Bois these selections will challenge your thinking on important social problems that continue to command national and international attention
