The researchers who have written this volume are clear not only that mass poverty is still the leading humanitarian crisis in developing countries but that if effective policies are to be put in place the national elites who control governments and economies need to be convinced of both the reasons why reducing poverty is in their own and the national interest and that public action can make a difference Remarkably in the rapidly growing literature on poverty this volume is the first to use survey techniques to explore Third World elites attitudes to poverty Five cases intended to be broadly representative of the diversity of situations in developing countries were chosen Brazil South Africa the Philippines Bangladesh and Haiti While the authors found major differences in how national elites understand and represent poverty the classic threats that induced elites in late 19th Century Europe to be concerned with reducing poverty the fear of crime epidemics military weakness or political unrest do not feature prominently in the consciousness of most Third World elites Nor do most of them believe that there is a viable solution to poverty through public action The findings in this book throw light on one reason for the relative ineffectiveness of poverty reduction strategies hitherto and the huge importance of presenting the problem of poverty in ways that fit more closely with the ways in which national elites understand their world Historical Dictionary of

History of Bangladesh Willem van Schendel,2020-07-02 A revised and updated edition of Willem van Schendel s state of the art history revealing the vibrant and colourful past of Bangladesh Criminal Sentencing in Bangladesh Muhammad

Mahbubur Rahman,2017-03-20 In Criminal Sentencing in Bangladesh Muhammad Mahbubur Rahman critically examines the sentencing policies of Bangladesh and demonstrates that the country's sentencing policies are not only yet to be developed in a coherent manner and shaped with an appropriate and contextual balance but also remain part of the problem rather than part of the solution. The author forcefully argues that the conception of sentencing policies cannot and should not always be confined exclusively to institutional understandings. The typical realities of post colonial societies call for rethinking the traditional judiciary centred understanding of what is meant by criminal sentences. This book thus raises the question for theoretical sentencing scholarship whether the prevailing judiciary centred understanding of sentencing should be rethought.

Megacity Management in the Asian and Pacific Region: City and country case studies Jeffery Stubbs, Giles Clarke, 1996. The Chittagong University Journal of Social Science, 2005. The Politics of Urban Land in South Asia Urmi Sengupta, Kenneth Nielsen, 2025-03-18. Cities in South Asia are homes to one of the highest concentrations of people anywhere in the world and the allocation of land and urban resources and the benefits that can be derived from them in this region have become increasingly contested. This book explores the politics of urban land in South Asia and the challenges related to their respective urban futures. For most people land comes at a premium and as a result conflicts and contestations over land and urban resources are rife in countries such as India, Bangladesh, Pakistan, Sri Lanka and Nepal as witnessed in the many struggles of low income groups and vulnerable or marginalised communities to fight off dispossession or displacement. This book maps current challenges shared across national borders and charts out new directions for future research and land policy With contributions from emerging and established authors the book offers a critical accounting of the situation that exists in urban South Asia while also critically engaging with the current challenges and future directions for land use and land politics The book will be useful to students and researchers of public policy development studies economics urban and regional development studies and sociology as well as to policy makers real estate professionals and commercial firms engaged in property market real estate study in Asia Chapter 10 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
