Social Science Applications In Asian Agroforestry:

Social Science Applications in Asian Agroforestry William R. Burch, 1991 An Introduction to Agroforestry P. K. R. Nair, 1993-07-31 This college level textbook summarizes the state of current knowledge in the rapidly expanding field of agroforestry. The book is organized into 25 chapters in six sections, reviews the developments in agroforestry during the past 15 years, and describes the accomplishments in the application of biophysical plant and soil related and socioeconomic sciences to agroforestry. Although the major focus of the book is on the tropics where the practice and potential of agroforestry are particularly promising, the developments in temperate zone agroforestry are also discussed. This text is recommended for students, teachers, and researchers in agroforestry, farming systems, and tropical land use. Applications of Systems Approaches at the Farm and Regional Levels P.S. Teng, M.J. Kropff, H.F.M. ten Berge, J.B. Dent, F.P. Lansigan, H.H. Van Laar, 2012-12-06 Systems approaches for agricultural development are needed to determine rational strategies for the role of agriculture in national development. Mathematical models and computer simulation provide objective tools for applying science to determine and evaluate options for resource management at field, farm, and regional scales. However, these tools would not be fully utilizable without incorporating social and economic dimensions into their application. The second international symposium, Systems Approaches for Agricultural Development, held in Los Baños 6-8 December 1995, fostered this link between the biophysical sciences and the social sciences in the choice of keynote papers and oral presentations, a selection of which is included in this book. The book's contents further reflect how systems approaches have definitely moved beyond the research mode into the application mode. The large number and high quality of interdisciplinary research projects reported from different parts of the globe to determine land use options that will meet multiple goals and yet sustain natural resource bases is a key indicator of this coming of age. At the farm level, where trade-off decisions between processes and products/commodities feature strongly, much progress is also evident in the development of systems-based tools for decision making. This book will be of particular interest to all agricultural scientists and planners as well as students interested in multidisciplinary and holistic approaches for agricultural development. Directions in Tropical Agroforestry Research P. K. Ramachandran Nair, C.R. Latt, 2013-04-18 Large areas of the warm humid tropics in Southeast Asia, the Pacific, Latin America, the Caribbean, and Africa are hilly or mountainous. Jackson and Scherr (1995) estimate that these tropical hillside areas are inhabited by 500 million people, or one-tenth of the current world population, many of whom practice subsistence agriculture. The region most affected is Asia, which has the lowest area of arable land per capita. Aside from limited areas of irrigated terraces, most of the sloping land, which constitutes 60% to 90% of the land resources in many Southeast Asian countries, has been bypassed in the economic development of the region. Maglinao and Hashim (1993) note that poverty in these areas is often high in contrast to the relative wealth of irrigated rice farms in lowland areas that benefited from the green revolution. Rapid population growth in some countries is also exacerbating the problems of hillside areas. Increasingly, people are migrating from high potential lowland areas where land is scarce to more remote hillside areas Such migration together with inherent high population growth is forcing a transformation in land use from subsistence to permanent agriculture on fragile slopes and is creating a new suite of social economic and environmental problems Garritty 1993 Maglinao and Hashim 1993 The Literature of Forestry and Agroforestry Peter McDonald, J. P. Lassoie, 1996 Discusses the evolution of forestry and agroforestry and presents the core literature in these fields covering both traditional and emerging areas Topics include changes in forest science in the 20th century the development of agroforestry literature the role of professional societies and the US A.I.D. Research and Development Abstracts, 1992 Agroforestry Theory and Practices A.J. Raj, S.B. Lal, 2014-01-01 This textbook is one of the finest books on agroforestry that offers a global review of the approaches tools and technologies research innovations and real world practices in agroforestry The book offers a comprehensive guide to basic principles techniques and applications integrative strategies economic and environmental concerns and future trends in agroforestry in different regions of the world It will help all scientists students professors farmers foresters decision makers and politicians who wish to build a safe land use system for food energy and better environment for future generations This textbook will enormously benefit the students for their preparation of competitive exams like UPSC Civil Services UPSC Indian Forest Service ICAR ARS Scientist NET Exam ICFRE Forestry Scientist Exam State Public Service Commission Exams and University Entrance Exam for admission to M Sc and Ph D programmes The Social Sciences in Asian Forestry Curricula Robert E. Clausi, Jeffrey R. Bopp, 1989 Asia Kevin Hillstrom, Laurie Collier Hillstrom, 2003-06-23 A concise yet thorough overview of the environmental issues problems and controversies facing the world's largest and most populous continent Asia Asia tackles the tough issues the complex problems and the political controversies surrounding the environment of this vast landmass This volume encompasses everything from economics land use energy and transportation to air pollution rivers and lakes oceans and species and habitat protection In Malaysia unchecked discharges of industrial waste and human sewage led the government to label 42 of its rivers officially dead According to some estimates Southeast Asia alone accounts for more than half of the world's total transport of sediment to the oceans In the Philippines the Chico River dam project which would have subjected 100 000 tribespeople to relocation was canceled when the World Bank withdrew funding after fierce resistance from the indigenous people This fascinating book offers a comprehensive look at how the most populated continent on earth contends with its complicated environment Report of the International Expert Consultation on Non-Wood Forest Products Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1995-01-01 ,

Handbook of Forest Resource Economics Shashi Kant, Janaki Alavalapati, 2014-04-03 It is increasingly recognized that the economic value of forests is not merely the production of timber Forests provide other key ecosystem services such as being sinks for greenhouse gases hotspots of biodiversity tourism and recreation They are also vitally important in preventing soil erosion and controlling water supplies as well as providing non timber forest products and supporting the livelihoods of many local people This handbook provides a detailed comprehensive and broad coverage of forest economics including traditional forest economics of timber production economics of environmental role of forests and recent developments in forest economics The chapters are grouped into six parts fundamental topics in forest resource economics economics of forest ecosystems economics of forests climate change and bioenergy economics of risk uncertainty and natural disturbances economics of forest property rights and certification and emerging issues and developments Written by leading environmental forest and natural resource economists the book represents a definitive reference volume for students of economics environment forestry and natural resource economics and management Sustainable Regional Development

Agroforestry Jagdish Chander Dagar,Vindhya Prasad Tewari,2018-04-06 Agroforestry AF is a dynamic ecologically based natural resources management system that by integrating trees on farms ranches and in other landscapes diversifies and increases production and promotes social economic and environmental benefits for land users Further it is receiving increasing attention as a sustainable land management option worldwide because of its ecological economic and social attributes Advances have been achieved by building on past research accomplishments and expanding AF s stakeholder base which now includes private public partnerships communities ecologists farmers indigenous peoples and policymakers in both temperate and tropical countries AF has now been recognized as a valuable problem solving approach to ensuring food security and rebuilding resilient rural environments Recent studies have shown that more than 1 billion hectares of agricultural land have more than 10% tree cover Of this area 160 million hectares have more than 50% tree cover Agricultural ecosystems can be further improved through AF to achieve environmental restoration greater farm productivity and key ecological services including climate change mitigation and adaptation for improved rural livelihood In fact it is largely considered synonymous with climate smart agriculture and a remedy for many modern environmental challenges Consequently AF s knowledge base is being expanded at a rapid rate as illustrated by the increasing number and quality of scientific publications on various forms and different aspects of AF This book offers state of the art information on the fundamental concepts and history of AF and its evolution as a science presenting a wealth of advanced research results and evaluations relating to different aspects of AF Accordingly it will be useful for a broad readership including students foresters farmers local communities indigenous peoples civil society institutions media policymakers and the general public

Tropical Agroforestry Alain Atangana,Damase Khasa,Scott Chang,Ann Degrande,2013-10-29 Agroforestry is recognized as a sustainable land use management in the tropics as it provides environmental friendly ecosystems it also provides people with their every day need for food and cash Since the recognition of agroforestry as a science curricula have been developed for agroforestry programs for undergraduate and graduate trainings in Universities Therefore there is an urgent need to develop and make available educational material This textbook strives to provide up to date information on tropical agroforestry to serve as educational material in the tropical context The authoritative textbook of Nair 1993 on agroforestry was published 18 years ago and before the advent of tree domestication an important agroforestry practice today In addition many other research activities such as carbon sequestration and integrated pest management have been included in the agroforestry agenda This textbook is intended for agroforestry students teachers and practitioners

Integrating Landscape Ecology Into Natural Resource Management Jianguo Liu, William W. Taylor, 2002-08 The rapidly increasing global population has dramatically increased the demands for natural resources and has caused significant changes in quantity and quality of natural resources To achieve sustainable resource management it is essential to obtain insightful guidance from emerging disciplines such as landscape ecology This text addresses the links between landscape ecology and natural resource management These links are discussed in the context of various landscape types a diverse set of resources and a wide range of management issues A large number of landscape ecology concepts principles and methods are introduced Critical reviews of past management practices and a number of case studies are presented This text provides many guidelines for managing natural resources from a landscape perspective and offers useful suggestions for landscape ecologists to carry out research relevant to natural resource management In addition it will be an ideal supplemental text for graduate and advanced undergraduate ecology courses

Valuing Agroforestry Systems Janaki R.R. Alavalapati, D. Evan Mercer, 2006-03-30 The primary objective of this book is to offer practical means for strengthening the economics and policy dimension of the agroforestry discipline This book written by the leading experts in economics and agroforestry encompasses case studies from Australia China Kenya India Indonesia Malawi Mexico Micronesia Tanzania United Kingdom United States Zambia and Zimbabwe The applied economic methodologies encompass a wide variety of case studies including enterprise farm budget models through Faustmann models Policy Analysis Matrix production function approach risk assessment models dynamic programming linear programming meta modeling contingent valuation attribute based choice experiments econometric modeling and institutional economic analysis It is our belief that these methodologies help agroforestry students and professionals conduct rigorous assessment of economic and policy aspects of agroforestry systems and to produce less biased and more credible information Furthermore the economic and policy issues explored in the book profitability environmental benefits risk reduction household constraints rural development and institutional arrangements are central to further agroforestry adoption in both tropical and temperate regions All of the chapters in this volume were subject to rigorous peer review by at least one other contributing author and one external reviewer We would like to acknowledge the indispensable collaboration of those who provided careful external reviews Ken Andrasko Chris Andrew Peter Boxall Norman Breuer Bill Hyde Tom Holmes Sherry Larkin Jagannadharao Matta Venkatrao Nagubadi Roz Naylor Thomas Randolph Gerald Shively Changyou Sun Bo Jellesmark Thorsen and Yaoqi Zhang All reviews were coordinated by the book editors
