Moniz-Cook, 2020-03-19 This new edited volume seeks to meet the growing need for ways to support people with dementia across the whole course and trajectory of dementia care with a wide scope of expertise The book addresses how practitioners and carers can apply psychosocial interventions which take into consideration the individual social and environmental aspects of a person's life across this trajectory right from the earliest stages through to practice in care home settings Divided into four sections each covers a different context in which people with dementia can be supported at home in community settings family and carer support and those in care homes and hospitals In addition there is a distinct focus throughout on evidence based practice and its implementation in real world settings This book is essential reading for any practitioner and caregiver wanting to support people with dementia Career Development as a Partner in Nation Building Australia Wendy Patton, 2019-07-15 Despite examples of vocational guidance practice being evident in Australia since the mid

1800s there remains a spasmodic and patchwork approach to practice across the country For decades it is a field which has been paradoxically boosted and challenged by changing economic and political agendas Repeated international national and State reviews emphasise the vital nature of a systemic national approach to career development however authors repeatedly lament the lack of a sustained focus on career activity as a major national priority There is no broad comprehensive historical reckoning of the history of career development theory and practice in Australia since this early period Career development theory and practice in Australia has been forged in partnership with developments in an international context In documenting the shared history with other countries the author significantly adds to the body of knowledge on career development as a field in Australia and internationally The book provides new understandings about the historical development of this field of knowledge and in particular the challenging and cyclical nature of its policy history

Transitions and Transformations in Learning and Education Päivi Tynjälä, Marja-Leena Stenström, Marjatta Saarnivaara, 2012-03-28 The breakneck speed of change in today's societies creates enormous challenges for educational institutions at all levels This volume explores ways how to manage change in educational processes and contexts focusing in particular on the concepts of transition and transformation How do we educate a skilled workforce sensitive professionals and responsive citizens who are able not only to cope with change but also to adopt required roles as agents of change How do we prepare students and employees to cope adequately with changes and transitions in their careers and personal lives The first of this book's three sections deals with the conceptual and theoretical aspects of transition transformational processes and human development It defines these concepts and examines the ways in which educational theory and praxis understand concepts of change and development The second section presents empirical studies that offer differing perspectives on educational transitions covering the lifespan from early years education to lifelong learning The third part of the volume focuses on issues of learning and pedagogy and argues that educational practices should change with the changing world With numerous concrete examples included in the analysis and with studies taking a range of forms from personal histories to large scale surveys this new book is a major addition to the literature in a field that has key implications for our future The first of this book's three sections deals with the conceptual and theoretical aspects of transition transformational processes and human development It defines these concepts and examines the ways in which educational theory and praxis understand concepts of change and development The second section presents empirical studies that offer differing perspectives on educational transitions covering the lifespan from early years education to lifelong learning The third part of the volume focuses on issues of learning and pedagogy and argues that educational practices should change with the changing world With numerous concrete examples included in the analysis and with studies taking a range of forms from personal histories to large scale surveys this new book is a major addition to the literature in a field that has key implications for our future

the most urgent social problems in many countries the uncertain school to work transitions of young people As a result a transition machinery has been created consisting of various education and training measures realised by e g teachers and youth workers The volume demonstrates that discourses related to youth transitions do not simply describe young adults but create them For example young people are expected to be active citizens who make themselves attractive to employers and those who fail in doing so may be labelled having psychological deficiencies When failing transitions resulting in lack of higher education or unemployment are treated as individual s problems rather than rising from structural factors the solutions are likewise individualized The book thus underlines the importance of analysing power relations reflected by gender health social class and ethnicity The articles of the book combine perspectives from young people policymakers teachers and youth workers in Iceland Finland Sweden and England

Vocational Psychological and Organisational Perspectives on Career ,2009-01-01 It has long been lamented that although several disciplines contribute to career scholarship they work in isolation from one another thus denying career theory research and practice the benefits that multidisciplinary collaboration would bring This constitutes a lost opportunity at a time when new understandings and approaches are needed in order to respond effectively to global changes in society and work This book takes a major step towards remedying this situation by bringing together two key perspectives on career the vocational psychological and the organisational interpreted broadly to include organisation behaviour and human resource management Written by international experts the book opens by identifying some of the tributaries that flow into the great delta of careers scholarship and noting the need to link what are at present separate islands of scholarship It is structured to allow comparison between the ways in which the two perspectives address career development and career management theory research and interventions It concludes by pointing to the possibilities for dialogue and even collaboration between these perspectives and suggesting ways in which these could be brought about The book will be essential reading for career scholars because with its potential to stimulate new thinking and developments in theory and research and also importantly in practice with beneficial spin offs for policy makers this dialogue could open a new phase in career scholarship With its overviews of the history theory research and practice of both perspectives the book will also be a valuable resource for students of both perspectives
