Songs Of Enchantment:

Songs of Enchantment Ben Okri, 2020-06-30 Set in an African village this follow up to the Man Booker Prize winning novel is sometimes whimsical sometimes bawdy Fraught with wild visions The Times All is not well in the African village where Azaro lives The child narrator of poet and novelist Okri's The Famished Road who had outwitted death in the previous book again relates the oppressive events that continue to plague his village and his family While political factionalization shatters the community's cohesiveness the prodigious bar owner Madame Koto chief exponent of the Party of the Rich alternately exudes portentous metaphysical malaise and miraculous erotic force Little Azaro himself touched and distracted by a series of animuses follows the heels of dad who is a resounding vessel by turns of cantankerous egotism and abased self sacrifice This Nigerian epic reveals a violent provincial world opaque with magical spirits which place horrendous ethical demands on fragile and fickle humanity as if to test each individual for a thread of virtuous constancy at the core Events drench the essentially linear narrative with all the ruthless sensuousness of a tropical storm and Okri's prose is lucid and deft Publishers Weekly Okri conjures up the fabulous with the same ease as he affectingly details the ways of the human spirit in a lovingly evoked African setting teeming with life both real and mythic Stunning Kirkus Reviews Once again we're bedazzled and bedeviled by Okri's phantasmagoric prose and the strange and wondrous sensibility of Azaro a spirit child living in a poor African village Booklist Both a love story and an account of the political turmoil between the parties of Rich and Poor The Independent Passages of extraordinary beauty Okri paints a convincing surrealist picture The Sunday Times The Infinite Longing for Home David C. L. Lim, 2005 This is a groundbreaking study of Ben Okri's and K S Maniam's literary problematization of home in relation to subjectivity and the nation within and beyond the context of Nigeria and Malaysia Drawing on Lacan Žižek Laclau and Mouffe and weaving through history politics philosophy and literature this book critically examines the motives and means by which peoples forced to live together in a country love and hate each other and overlook the truths about themselves their actions and beliefs It looks into why some embrace heterogeneity and open endedness while others are internally compelled to over identify passionately with their religion and race and to posit theirs as irreducibly distinct from and superior to others The Infinite Longing for Home also traces through Okri's and Maniam's writings a way out of today's political aporia a path to the re creation of a new society humbled unified by the recognition of its participation in flawed humanity Songs of Enchantment Ben Okri, 1994 Coterminous Worlds, 2020-10-12 The present collection of essays endeavours to furnish informed responses to central questions posed by the editors Is the fact that the marvellous coexists with the factual and never resolves itself into the supernatural an indication that the whole literary project of magical realism is an instrumental and representational form which can be regarded as particularly suitable for reconciling dichotomies and oppositions otherwise experienced as intolerable Was magical realism an explosive process in cultural dynamics taking place at intersections of heterogeneous cultures most favourable to the efflorescence of this type of literature The authors of the various essays on Patrick White and David Malouf Ben Okri Syl Cheney Coker Robert Kroetsch Gwendolyn MacEwan Jack Hodgins Salman Rushdie Janet Frame Wilson Harris and others provide a dynamic focus on the reality at stake beneath the surface representations of magical realism in post colonial literatures

Songs of the Enchantment Ben Okri, 2002. Azaro, the spirit child, is a reluctant traveller in the realities of this world. His adventures begin with the disruption of his family when, under the pressure of poverty and myth, his mother goes off to follow the legendary Madame Koto. An obsession for a beautiful beggar girl ensnares his father into forbidden visions. Through the experiences of this unique family, the reader learns that life lived with compassion, fire, and serenity can vanquish the forces of oppression and counter the darkness with light.

African Identity Today in the Writings of John Maxwell Coetzee and Ben Silver Okri Heba Mohamed Abdelaziz, 2024-12-15. African Identity Today in the Writings of John Maxwell Coetzee and Ben Silver Okri is a comparative study of the writings of the South African author John Maxwell Coetzee and the Nigerian author Ben Silver Okri. It charts the thematic and technical presentation of cultural identity in the literary output of both authors, with special reference to their respective trilogies: namely Coetzee's Scenes from Provincial Life and Okri's The Famished Road. Through examining these texts, the book explores the dilemmas faced by many contemporary authors while discussing issues related to the construction of cultural identity in a postcolonial world. Studying Coetzee's and Okri's texts from a postcolonial perspective reveals how their very different writings share a range of commonalities. Both authors seek to find a middle ground between colonised and colonising cultures as they attempt to deconstruct the stereotypical images of the Other, creating a world purified of racial influences.

Fertile Crossings Pietro Deandrea, 2021-11-01. In retracing some of the routes followed by West African literature in English over the course of the last three decades, this book employs an original multidimensional approach whereby the three main genres—narrative, poetry, and drama—are considered in the light of their intricate web of fecund rapport and mutual influence. Authors such as Tutuola

Armah Aidoo and Awoonor translated the fluid structures of orality into written prose and consequently infused their works with poetic and dramatic resonance thereby challenging the canonical dominance of social realism and paving the way for the birth of West African magical realism in Laing Okri and Cheney Coker Starting in the 1970s poetry on stage has become a mainstream genre in Ghana thanks to performances by Okai Anyidoho and Acquah Boundaries between literary theatre and other genres have undergone a similar dissolution in the affirmation of the concept of total art from Efua Sutherland to ben Abdallah Osofisan and others Fertile Crossings offers a study of these topics from various viewpoints blending in depth textual analysis with reflections on the political import of the works in question within the context of the present state of African societies all supported by interviews with most of the authors Stray Leaves from Strange Literature ; And, Fantastics and Other Fancies Lafcadio Hearn,1922 Bloomsbury Encyclopedia of Popular Music of the World John Shepherd,2015 Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress.
