In this revised and expanded collection renowned translators Chana Bloch and Stephen Mitchell have selected Amichai's most beloved and enduring poems including forty new poems from his recent work. From Tourists: Once I was sitting on the steps near the gate at David's Citadel and I put down my two heavy baskets beside me. A group of tourists stood there around their guide and I became their point of reference. You see that man over there with the baskets. A little to the right of his head there's an arch from the Roman period. A little to the right of his head. But he's moving. He's moving. I said to myself: Redemption will come only when they are told: Do you see that arch over there from the Roman period? It doesn't matter but near it a little to the left and then down a bit there's a man who has just bought fruit and vegetables for his family.

Reclaiming Assia Wevill Julie Goodspeed-Chadwick, 2019-10-09 Reclaiming Assia Wevill Sylvia Plath, Ted Hughes and the Literary Imagination reconsiders cultural representations of Assia Wevill 1927-1969 according to her a more significant position than a femme fatale or scapegoat for marital discord and suicide in the lives and works of two major twentieth-century poets. Julie Goodspeed Chadwick's innovative study combines feminist recovery work with discussions of the power and gendered dynamics that shape literary history. She focuses on how Wevill figures into poems by Sylvia Plath and Ted Hughes showing that they often portrayed her in harsh, conflicted even demeaning terms. Their representations of Wevill established condemnatory narratives that were perpetuated by subsequent critics and biographers and in works of popular culture. In Plath's literary treatments Goodspeed Chadwick locates depictions of both desirable and undesirable femininity conveyed in images of female bodies as beautiful but barren or as vehicles for dangerous destructive acts. By contrast Hughes's portrayals illustrate the role Wevill occupied in his life as muse and abject object. His late work Capriccio constitutes a sustained meditation on trauma in which Hughes confronts Wevill's suicide and her killing of their daughter Shura. Goodspeed Chadwick also analyzes Wevill's self-representations by examining artifacts that she authored or on which she collaborated. Finally she discusses portrayals of Wevill in recent works of literature, film and television. In the end Goodspeed Chadwick shows that Wevill remains an object of both fascination and anger as she was for Plath and a figure of attraction and repulsion as she was for Hughes. Reclaiming Assia Wevill reconsiders its subject's tragic life and lasting impact in regard to perceived gender roles and notions of femininity, power dynamics in heterosexual relationships and the ways in which psychological traumas impact life, art and literary imagination.

The Ultimate Jewish Teacher's Handbook Nachama Skolnik Moskowitz, 2003 This complete and comprehensive resource for teachers new and experienced alike offers a big picture look at the goals of Jewish education.

Booking Passage Sidra DeKoven Ezrahi, 2023-12-22 Sidra DeKoven Ezrahi's sweeping study of modern Jewish writing is in many ways a long meditation on the thematics of geography in Jewish culture: what she calls the poetics of exile and return. Until the late nineteenth century Jews were identified in their own religious and poetic imagination as wanderers and exiles, their sacred center Jerusalem/Zion fatefully out of reach.

Opening the book with Jewish Journeys Ezrahi begins by examining the work of medieval Hebrew poet Yehuda Halevi to chart a journey whose end was envisioned as the sublime realignment of the people with their original center. When the Holy Land became the site of a political drama of return in the nineteenth century, Jewish writing reflected the shift traced here in the travel fictions of S. Y. Abramovitsh, S. Y. Agnon, and Sholem Aleichem. In Jewish Geographies, Ezrahi explores aspects of reterritorialization through memory in the post-Holocaust writing of Paul Celan, Dan Pagis, Aharon Appelfeld, I. B. Singer, and Philip Roth. Europe, where Jews had dreamed of return, has become the new ruined shrine. The literary pilgrimages of these writers recall familiar patterns of grieving and representation and a tentative reinvention of the diasporic imagination in America, of course, but paradoxically even in Zion. Sidra DeKoven Ezrahi's sweeping study of modern Jewish writing is in many ways a long meditation on the thematics of geography in Jewish culture, what she calls the poetics of exile and return. Until the late nineteenth century, Jews were idle.

After Representation? R. Clifton Spargo, Robert Ehrenreich, 2009-11-11

After Representation explores one of the major issues in Holocaust studies: the intersection of memory and ethics in artistic expression, particularly within literature. As experts in the study of literature and culture, the scholars in this collection examine the shifting cultural contexts for Holocaust representation and reveal how writers, whether they write as witnesses to the Holocaust or at an imaginative distance from the Nazi genocide, articulate the shadowy borderline between fact and fiction, between event and expression, and between the condition of life endured in atrocity and the hope of a meaningful existence. What imaginative literature brings to the study of the Holocaust is an ability to test the limits of language and its conventions. After Representation moves beyond the suspicion of representation and explores the changing meaning of the Holocaust for different generations, audiences, and contexts.
