Social Problems, Law, and Society Kathryn A. Stout, Richard A. Dello Buono, William J. Chambliss, 2004-07-14 This collection of articles presents a critical issue oriented approach to law and society emphasizing its important relationship to contemporary social problems. By exploring the interstitial area between the sociology of law social problems and social movements the initial chapters trace out a theoretical trajectory which points to the need to move beyond traditional and social constructionist approaches. A variety of empirical studies together explore the contradictory dynamics of class as they relate to race and gender in both a national and global context illustrating the dialectical interplay between the state and social movements. Employing a wide range of perspectives so as to convey the great diversity found in the contemporary sociology of law and justice studies these authors collectively share a broad consensus concerning the need to explore how social movements and the larger political economy play a pivotal role in shaping state reactions to the challenges presented by contemporary social problems. With its integrated presentation of theoretical perspectives and empirical studies this unique anthology will be useful in a variety of sociology criminology and justice studies course offerings such as Law and Society Social Problems Crime and Social Justice Social Movements Law and Social Control Social Change Law and Public Policy Introduction to Legal Studies and others. Undergraduate and graduate students alike will appreciate that these articles selected for their academic rigor are highly readable and strongly oriented towards high profile social issues including those of class race and gender inequalities as well as social movement and legal struggles in community national and global settings.

Disability Through the Life Course Tamar Heller, Sarah Parker Harris, 2012 The SAGE Reference Series on Disability is a cross disciplinary and issues based series incorporating links from varied fields that make up Disability Studies. This volume tackles issues relating to disability through the life course.

Gender and Ageing Theresa W Devasahayam, 2014-11-07 This book examines common themes related to gender and ageing in countries in Southeast Asia Derived from quantitative or qualitative methods of data collection and analysis the chapters reveal how ageing has become tempered by globalization cultural values family structures women s emancipation and empowerment social networks government policies and religion The chapters are concerned primarily with the following questions related to gender and ageing a how do women and men experience old age b do women and men have different means of coping financially and socially in their old age c does having engaged in wage work for longer periods of time serve as an advantage to older men in contrast to older women d does a woman s primary role as caregiver serve to disadvantage her in old age e what kinds of identities have older women and men constructed for themselves f do women and men prepare for ageing differently and has this preparation been mediated by educational levels g does having a higher level of education make a difference to how one experiences ageing h how does class shape the way women and men cope in old age and i what does it mean to be a single older person who has either lost a spouse through death or has never been married Because the book employs a cross country analysis readers gain an understanding of contemporary emergent trends not only in each of the countries but also in Southeast Asia as a whole Wherever relevant some chapters have also identified similarities in trends on gender and ageing between countries in the Western hemisphere and those in Southeast Asia to highlight broader patterns across the world

Violence Against Women Claire M. Renzetti, Raquel Kennedy Bergen, 2005 This is an edited volume of 12 articles previously published in Social Problems that may be considered among the most influential in the development of the sociological study of violence against women

Illegal Drug Use Through The Lifecourse David Moxon, Jaime Waters, 2016-10-04 Hidden older illegal drug users are a seldom researched group most research on illegal drug users instead focusses on the young or the institutionalised To counter this trend this book reports on a study of current hidden users of illegal drugs aged 40 and over These are individuals who have sustained illegal drug use over the long term largely away from the gaze of the authorities whilst living otherwise conventional lives holding down jobs raising families and so on Thus they have much to tell us about how illegal substances can be integrated into life over the long term how that integration intersects with other aspects of one's existence and how illegal drug use is ultimately shaped by changes in personal circumstances and wider social contexts Utilising insights from the life course perspective the development of the participants use over their lives is analysed and placed in social context The book also details the nature of their current drug use Thus the book illustrates the place of illegal drugs in the lives of the participants and how this came to be over the decades as they also juggled work family and the everyday minutiae of life with their use The result is a unique look at the illegal drug use of an often ignored group of older drug users which charts the changing role that illegal drugs have played and continue to play in their lives

Handbook of Social Problems George Ritzer, 2004 Ritzer's Handbook of Social Problems offers a comprehensive treatment of today's major societal issues The articles are authored by some of the top scholars in the field and address problem areas that will capture the interests of students and professors alike The international coverage is most welcome in this time of intensifying global inequalities Nancy Jurik Arizona State University The Handbook of Social Problems A Comparative International Perspective provides a unique broadly comparative perspective on the current state of social problems and deviance in a variety of societies around the world Editor George Ritzer along with leading U S and international sociologists examines the relationship between social problems and a society's level of development and affluence The essays in this volume focus on four interrelated issues involved in the relationship between social problems and the level of development and affluence Less developed and less affluent societies are more likely to experience a range of social problems than developed and affluent societies Affluence causes or at least brings with it a series of social problems that do not exist in less affluent societies It is only with affluence that certain things can come to be imagined as social problems such as excessive consumption The very affluence of a society makes it vulnerable to problems that would not be social problems in poorer societies The Handbook explores the theory of the weakness of the strong in other words strong or wealthy nations may have greater vulnerability to some social problems than less developed or affluent societies This theory is clearly illustrated in this volume by the aftermath of September 11 2001 depicting the vulnerability of the U S to social problems in far removed corners of the world In addition the international and comparative essays in this volume cover other important issues such as the impact of modern technologies on social problems ecological problems global inequality health as a social problem and much more The Handbook of Social Problems is a vital resource for sociologists and graduate students as well as an excellent addition to any academic library

Effective Interventions in the Lives of Criminal Offenders John A. Humphrey, Peter Cordella, 2013-10-24 This book provides the most current thinking on effective interventions in the lives of criminal offenders Original articles by leading criminologists provide in depth analyses of turning points in the desistance process experienced by criminal offenders An understanding of the sources of turning points or interventions across the life course is vital to assessing their impact on criminal behavior Three sources of interventions in criminal careers are identified in the literature structural location human agency and situated choice Structural location refers to the social place occupied by an individual in the social structure including marital and occupational status education and income and so on Human agency means the active will of an individual to change his or her behavior that is the decision to stop engaging in criminal activities In addition situated choice coordinates the offender's willingness to end a life of crime with the social structural supports that increase the odds of criminal desistance This comprehensive book considers all three sources of turning points structural location human agency and situated choice across the life course of criminal offenders The book also provides a section on cross cultural perspectives on the effectiveness of interventions in the careers of criminal offenders The policy implications of each intervention are considered in individual chapters In addition the authors suggest a research agenda to further the understanding of the interplay among the key interventions across the life course This book will be of interest to researchers studying criminology from a life course perspective as well as crime prevention and public policy
