The civil war test to see if a democracy will work. We are dedicating this cemetery to those who died for their country.

The Gettysburg Address

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow—ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for the living, rather, that we are dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is for them, for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that these dead shall live in our hearts and their unswerving devotion to high principle shall guide us to the new nation of the future. We here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.
