Social Entrepreneurship Alex Nicholls,2008-04-03 Social Entrepreneurship is a term that has come to be applied to the activities of grass roots activists NGOs policy makers international institutions and corporations amongst others which address a range of social issues in innovative and creative ways Themed around the emerging agendas for developing new sustainable models of social sector excellence and systemic impact Social Entrepreneurship offers for the first time a wide ranging internationally focused selection of cutting edge work from leading academics policy makers and practitioners Together they seek to clarify some of the ambiguity around this term describe a range of social entrepreneurship projects and establish a clear set of frameworks with which to understand it Included in the volume are contributions from Muhammad Yunus the father of microfinance Geoff Mulgan former head of the British prime minister s policy unit and Bill Drayton founder of the Ashoka network of social entrepreneurs Jeff Skoll founder of the Skoll Foundation and first president of eBay provides a preface

Local Economic and Employment Development (LEED) Entrepreneurship A Catalyst for Urban Regeneration OECD,2004-12-14 Entrepreneurship and urban regeneration policy have traditionally been treated as separate fields This volume is one of the first to focus explicitly on the links between the two examining how policy can help regenerate inner cities and other areas of urban distress Exporting Press Freedom Craig LaMay, 2017-07-12 International media assistance is a small but important form of international democracy promotion aid Media assistance boomed after the 1989 transitions in Central Europe but now flows to virtually all regions of the world Today the media assistance industry is focused on the problem of sustainability How are free and independent public affairs media supposed to maintain their editorial mission while facing hostile political systems or the demands of the consumer marketplace Many media in developing countries have been or are grant dependent When grants are exhausted or withdrawn media that were funded to further democratic consolidation typically wither and die Some become mere grant chasers Others abandon public service to the demands of market competition or political patronage As a result governmental and non governmental grant makers now emphasize the need for sustainability in considering grants in the media sector Many grant recipients have grown frustrated sometimes bitter and have sought to take a much more active role in the way assistance programs are put together Just how is sustainability to be achieved while also ensuring a public service editorial mission Exporting Press Freedom examines the history and practice of media assistance and argues that the dilemma of media independence and sustainability is best understood as an economic problem rather than one of poor editorial standards or lack of will It includes profiles of news and public affairs media in developing and democratizing countries and also of two non governmental organizations that have pioneered the use of low interest loans in media assistance These profiles exemplify strategic and entrepreneurial approaches to developing and supporting public service media Such approaches may be of use not only in the developing world but in the consolidated Western democracies as well where concern has grown about poor journalistic performance and its consequences f How to Think Like an Entrepreneur Daniel Smith, 2020-05-14 Learn how to think like the smartest minds in business with this essential guide to the mindsets of the world s best entrepreneurs Political Entrepreneurship Charlie Karlsson, Charlotte Silander, Daniel Silander, 2016-10-28 Political Entrepreneurship explores the role of political entrepreneurs in regional growth and entrepreneurial diversity The authors define a political entrepreneur as a politician bureaucrat or officer within the publicly funded sector who encourages entrepreneurship for growth and employment using innovative approaches This book aims to enrich the established research on entrepreneurship with in depth knowledge of the conditions conducive for political entrepreneurship in Sweden Strategic Management in the Arts Lidia Varbanova, 2013-01-03 Strategic Management in the Arts looks at the unique characteristics of organisations in the arts and culture sector and shows readers how to tailor a strategic plan to help these diverse organizations meet their objectives Strategic management is an essential element that drives an organisation s success yet many cultural organizations have yet to apply strategic thinking and entrepreneurial actions within the management function Varbanova reviews the existing theories and models of strategic management and then relates these specifically to cultural organisations Also included are sections on entrepreneurship and innovations in the arts considering the concept of a learning organisation an organisation able to adapt its strategy within a constantly changing complex environment The book is structured to walk the reader through each element of the strategic plan systematically With a fresh approach key questions examples international cases to connect theory with practice and suggestions for further reading this book is designed to accompany classes on strategic planning cultural management or arts management Social Entrepreneurship Manuel London, Richard G. Morfopoulos, 2009-12-04
