Turner,2017-03-23 First published in 1974 Social Work Treatment remains the most popular and trusted compendium of theories available to social work students and practitioners It explores the full range of theoretical approaches that drive social work treatment and knowledge development from psychoanalysis to crisis intervention A treasure trove of practice knowledge the text equips professionals with a broad array of theoretical approaches each of which shine a spotlight on a different aspect of the human condition Emphasizing the importance of a broad based theoretical approach to practice it helps readers avoid the pitfalls of becoming overly identified with a narrow focus that limits their understanding of clients and their contexts This sweeping overview of the field untangles the increasingly complex problems ideologies and value sets that define contemporary social work practice The result is an essential A to Z reference that charts the full range of theoretical approaches available to social workers regardless of their setting or specialty   The First Compendium of Social Network Research Focusing on Children and Young Adult Suzanne Salzinger,John Antrobus,Muriel Hammer,2015-01-28 Research on adult personal social networks has contributed greatly to an understanding of mental health illness and responses to stress Fueled by this successful research and a growing concern for today s youth the contributors to this volume have conducted investigations into the functioning and structures of the social networks of toddlers school age children adolescents and college students The editors of this volume move beyond vague generalizations about characteristic and behavior acquisition through socialization in childhood by applying a longitudinal perspective to the sampling of child adolescent and young adult network research Social Networks of Children Adolescents and College Students unites several major empirical studies of children s social networks investigating the acquisition of specific behaviors from particular groups of individuals under certain conditions Topics covered include the effects of social networks on child development and disorder the relationship between social networks and coping with stress the role of friends or groups in positive socialization Of special interest to practitioners researchers and advanced students

Handbook of Social Support and the Family Gregory R. Pierce,I.G. Sarason,2013-06-29 While insights sometimes are slow in coming they often seem obvious when they finally arrive This handbook is an outcome of the insight that the topics of social support and the family are very closely linked Obvious as this might seem the fact remains that the literatures dealing with social support and the family have been deceptively separate and distinct For example work on social support began in the 1970s with the accumulation of evidence that social ties and social integration play important roles in health and personal adjustment Even though family members are often the key social supporters of individuals relatively little re search of social support was targeted on family interactions as a path to specifying supporter processes It is now recognized that one of the most important features of the family is its role in providing the individual with a source of support and acceptance Fortunately in recen t years the distinctness and separateness of the fields of social support and the family have blurred This handbook provides the first collation and integration of social support and family research This integration calls for specifying processes such as the cognitions associated with poor support availability and unrewarding faIllily constellations and factors such as cultural differences in family life and support provision that are pertinent to integration   Support Networks in a Caring Community J.A. Yoder,J.M.L. Jonker,R.A.B. Leaper,2012-12-06 The historic Binnenhof seat of the Dutch government in The Hague provided the setting January 1985 for a conference in which participants from eleven countries met to consider the theme Support networks in a caring community research and policy fact and fiction At the outset conference leadership provided by Professors J M L Jonker The Netherlands and R A B Leaper United Kingdom urged the conferees not to allow their enthusiasm for informal support networks to combine with the pervasive awareness of the failures of welfare states into a simplistic stance of advocacy with a consequent appeal to politicians to direct state funds accordingly Legitimate criticisms of the responses of welfare states to the needs of citizens were to be seen as the context for discussion not the substance of conference deliberations More specifically if it is now apparent to many people that governmental assistance of individuals with social needs can lead to an undesirable dependency on the part of increasingly passive citizens that awareness does not lend logical support to an ideological position that governmental expenditures are pern c ous per se to be replaced as rapidly as possible by a return to reliance on self family friends and associations that are developed voluntarily and financed by those who are sufficiently interested
