Ancestral Power Lynne Hume, 2013-05-31 The Dreaming or the Dreamtime is the English translation of a complex Aboriginal religious concept It relates to the idea of an ancestral presence which exists as a spiritual power that is deeply present in the land This presence or power also exists in certain paintings in some dance performances and in songs blood and ceremonial objects In Ancestral Power Lynne Hume seeks to further our understanding of human consciousness by looking through a Western lens at the concept of the Dreaming She examines the idea that Aboriginal people may have used certain techniques for entering altered states of consciousness Could their experiences in such states together with their extensive knowledge of their environment have helped to create the cosmological scheme we call the Dreaming With these questions in mind she brings together and examines for the first time a wide range of existing literature on Aboriginal cosmology and spiritual practices together with studies of Aboriginal art data from anthropologists and ethnomusicologists and statements by Aboriginal people from many different regional areas of Australia Much of the information she highlights is little known Ancestral Power suggests that Aboriginal spirituality is much more complex and compelling than the early missionaries could ever have imagined CMJ New Music Monthly ,1996-08 CMJ New Music Monthly the first consumer magazine to include a bound in CD sampler is the leading publication for the emerging music enthusiast NMM is a monthly magazine with interviews reviews and special features Each magazine comes with a CD of 15 24 songs by well established bands unsigned bands and everything in between It is published by CMJ Network Inc Hearings United States.
