Sophie Ristelhueber Details Of The World:

Sophie Ristelhueber Sophie Ristelhueber, 2001 Sophie Ristelhueber. Edition Bilingue Francais/Anglais Ann Hindry, Sophie Ristelhueber, 1998 Sophie Ristelhueber is concerned first and foremost with the ambivalence of things the porous borderline between reality and fiction the dialectical relationship between words and image and the variable hierarchy of figures of speech be it iconographic or linguistic speech the said and the unsaid more for less part for whole Trained in the nominalist enumeration of the Nouveau Roman once the subject of her essay Sophie Ristelhueber explores the crannies and confines of the iconic field of what makes imagery with her invariably sober and discreet approach Sophie Ristelhueber Sophie Ristelhueber, Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, 2001 Sophie Ristelhueber Sophie Ristelhueber, 1998

Art and War Laura Brandon, 2012-11-25 This is a truly encyclopedic survey of artists responses both official and personal to the horrors of war Art and War reveals the sheer diversity of artists portrayals of this most devastating aspect of the human condition from the heroic paintings of Benjamin West and John Singer Sargent to brutal and iconic works by artists from Goya to Picasso and the equally oppositional work of Leon Golub Nancy Spero and others who reacted with fury to the Vietnam War Laura Brandon pays particular attention to work produced in response to World War I and World War II as well as to more recent art and memorial work by artists as diverse as Barbara Kruger Alfredo Jarr and Maya Lin She looks finally to the reactions of contemporary artists such as Langlands and Bell to the US invasion in 2001 of Afghanistan and the War on Terror Critical Zones Bruno Latour, Peter Weibel, 2020-10-13 Artists and writers portray the disorientation of a world facing climate change This monumental volume drawn from a 2020 exhibition at the ZKM Center for Art and Media portrays the disorientation of life in world facing climate change It traces this disorientation to the disconnection between two different definitions of the land on which modernizing humans live the sovereign nation from which they derive their rights and another one hidden from which they gain their wealth the land they live on and the land they live from Charting the land they will inhabit they find not a globe not the iconic blue marble but a series of critical zones patchy heterogenous discontinuous With short pieces longer essays and more than 500 illustrations the contributors explore the new landscape on which it may be possible for humans to land what it means to be on Earth whether the critical zone the Gaia or the terrestrial They consider geopolitical conflicts and tools redesigned for the new geopolitics of life forms The thought exhibition described in this book can opens a fictional space to explore the new climate regime the rest of the story is unknown Contributors include Dipesh Chakrabarty Pierre Charbonnier Emanuele Coccia Vinciane Despret Jer me Gaillarde Donna Haraway Joseph Leo Koerner Timothy Lenton Richard Powers Simon Schaffer Isabelle Stengers Bronislaw Szerszynski Jan A Zalasiewicz Siegfried Zielinski Copublished with ZKM Center for Art and Media Karlsruhe Sophie Ristelhueber Sophie Ristelhueber, 2002 This volume investigating the work of a particular photographer in this case Sophie Ristelhueber comprises a 4000 word essay by an expert in the field 55 photographs presented chronologically each with a commentary and a biography of the featured photographer Annual Bibliography of Modern Art Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.). Library, 2001

Operations Bruno Latour, Sophie Ristelhueber, David Mellor, Thomas Schlessner, 2009 In Sophie Ristelhueber's large scale artworks and installations the photographed landscape appears in fragments damaged rent pockmarked These traces of history and conflict which the artist calls details of the world are like scars on a body and they convey a similar tale of wounds scarcely healed Ristelhueber has photographed these metaphorical landscapes in war torn places like Beirut Kuwait Bosnia and Iraq since 1982 recording the violence inflicted on the surface of the earth by the machinery of war Rather than focusing on the geopolitical meaning of a particular conflict Ristelhueber is engaged with the ambiguities of what she calls the terrain of the real and of collective emotions In her magisterial triptych Iraq rows of burnt decapitated palm trees stand in a blasted out landscape they are like the artist says the remains of a defeated army Although the image clearly resonates with the current war in Iraq and ongoing conflicts in the Middle East Ristelhueber's approach implies that the current situation is part of an unceasing historical cycle of destruction and construction In her photographs the surface of the land becomes a kind of palimpsest on which the disfiguring marks of decades of conflict continue to be recorded

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of North Carolina Presents Defying Gravity Huston Paschal, Linda Johnson Dougherty, North Carolina Museum of Art, 2003 The centenary of the Wright Brother's outlandish feat prompted the North Carolina Museum of Art to organize an exhibition celebrating their creativity The show and this accompanying fully illustrated publication show how the human obsession with flight has provided fertile ground for contemporary artists working in disparate media Works by artists ranging from Panamarenko and Malcolm Morley to Albert Chong and Vera Lutter illustrate the protean response flight has engendered The exhibition notes the paradoxical gifts of technology and the psychic benefits of fantasy concoctions hybrids merging man machine and natural fliers like birds bats and butterflies book jacket

Artistic Approaches to Cultural Mapping Nancy Duxbury, W.F. Garrett-Petts, Alys Longley, 2018-09-03 Making space for imagination can shift research and community planning from a reflective stance to a future forming orientation and practice Cultural mapping is an emerging discourse of collaborative community based inquiry and advocacy This book looks at artistic approaches to cultural mapping focusing on imaginative cartography It emphasizes the importance of creative process that engages with the felt sense of community experiences an element often missing from conventional mapping practices International artistic contributions in this book reveal the creative research practices and languages of artists a prerequisite to understanding the multi modal interface of cultural mapping The book examines how contemporary artistic approaches can challenge conventional asset mapping by animating and honouring the local giving voice and definition to the vernacular or recognizing the notion of place as inhabited by story and history It explores the processes of seeing and listening and the importance of the aesthetic as a key component of community self expression and self representation Innovative contributions in this book champion inclusion and experimentation expose unacknowledged power relations and catalyze identity formation through multiple modes of artistic representation and performance It will be a valuable resource for individuals involved with creative research methods performance and cultural mapping as well as social and urban planning

Alfredo Jaar : la politique des images Alfredo Jaar, 2007 Spanning from the 1970s until today this compelling new monograph traces the development of the respected Chilean born New York based conceptualist from his earliest public interventions to his latest installations Some of the highly political subjects range from the plight of Amazonian gold miners to the 1994 genocide in Rwanda and there are several previously unpublished works that the artist created in his hometown of Santiago during Pinochet's repressive military dictatorship as well as numerous works made by collating and rethinking press clippings Working with public interventions installations photography and video Jaar examines the nature of images and their viewers relationships to them His work tackles the very possibility of producing art based on events that we would prefer to ignore and of creating images in a context characterized both by their over abundance and paradoxically by their invisibility

Disruption in the Arts Lars Koch, Tobias Nanz, Johannes Pause, 2018-08-21 The volume examines from a comparative perspective the phenomenon of aesthetic disruption within the various arts in contemporary culture It assumes that the political potential of contemporary art is not solely derived from presenting its audiences with openly political content but rather from creating a space of perception and interaction using formal means a space that makes hegemonic structures of action and communication observable thus problematizing their self evidence The contributions conceptualize historical and contemporary politics of form in the media which aim to be more than mere shock strategies which are concerned not just with the narcissistic exhibition of art as art but also with the creation of a new common horizon of experience They combine the analysis of paradigmatic works procedures and actions with reference to theoretical debates in the fields of literature media and art of the twentieth and twenty first centuries The essay collection shows how textual visual auditive or performative strategies disclose their own ways of functioning intervene in automated processes of reception and thus work on stimulating a sense of political possibilities The editors acknowledge support from the European Union's Seventh Framework Program FP 7 2007 2013 ERC grant agreement no 312454

Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and Photography Henrik Gustafsson, 2019-05-24 This book offers a rare and innovative consideration of an enduring tendency in postwar art to explore places devoid of human agents in the wake of violent encounters To see the scenery together with the crime elicits a double interrogation not merely of a physical site but also of its formation as an aesthetic artefact and ultimately of our own acts of looking and imagining Closely engaging with a vast array of works made by artists filmmakers and photographers each who has forged a distinct vantage point on the aftermath of crime and conflict the study selectively maps the afterlife of landscape in search of the political and ethical agency of the image By way of a thoroughly interdisciplinary approach Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and Photography brings landscape studies into close dialogue with contemporary theory by paying sustained attention to how the gesture of retracing past events facilitates new configurations of the present and future GeoHumanities Michael Dear, Jim Ketchum, Sarah Luria, Doug Richardson, 2011-04-14 In the past decade there has been a convergence of transdisciplinary thought characterized by geography's engagement with the humanities and the humanities integration of place and the tools of geography into its studies GeoHumanities maps this emerging intellectual terrain with thirty cutting edge contributions from internationally renowned scholars architects artists activists and scientists This book explores the humanities rapidly expanding engagement with geography and the multi methodological inquiries that analyze the meanings of place and then reconstructs those meanings to provoke new knowledge as well as the possibility of altered political practices It is no coincidence that the geohumanities are forcefully emerging at a time of immense intellectual and social change This book focuses on a range of topics to address urgent contemporary imperatives such as the link between creativity and place altered practices of spatial literacy the increasing complexity of visual representation in art culture and science and the ubiquitous presence of geospatial technologies in the Information Age GeoHumanities is essential reading for students wishing to understand the intellectual trends and forces driving scholarship and research at the intersections of geography and the humanities disciplines These trends hold far reaching implications for future work in these disciplines and for understanding the changes gripping our societies and our globalizing world Art Now Gallery Guide ,2002 Director's Choice Malcolm Rogers, Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, 2004 Malcolm Rogers director of the Museum of Fine Arts Boston here takes the reader on a virtual tour of the MFA's most outstanding masterworks The objects presented cover a full range of times and cultures from Yorumba veranda posts Mayan drinking vessels and Asian decorative arts to paintings sculptures and prints by the likes of Hopper O Keeffe Pollock Homer Rubens Turner and many other old and modern masters Based on the Director's Choice Audio Tour one of the museum's most popular attractions Director's Choice presents the best of the best allowing both frequent visitors and those who have never set foot in the museum to enjoy its most notable treasures at leisure Nothing can replace an actual visit of course but the combination of Rogers's authoritative and enthusiastic commentary and the large full color reproductions of each object bring one as close as any book can come Not only that but the experience can be replayed again and again A perfect souvenir and an ideal introduction Director's Choice informatively and enjoyably demonstrates why the Museum of Fine Arts Boston is one of the world's leading cultural institutions Book Review Index ,2003 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation In My View Simon Grant, 2012-09-18 Features artworks from the fifteenth to the mid twentieth century often supplemented by images of work by the selecting contemporary artist Some of the artist contributors provide unusual and individual reflections on familiar figures from art history Front jacket flap War without Bodies Martin Danahay, 2022-03-18 Historically the bodies of civilians are the most damaged by the increasing mechanization and derealization of warfare but this is not reflected in the representation of violence in popular media In War Without Bodies author Martin Danahay argues that the media in the United States in particular constructs a war without bodies in which neither the corpses of soldiers or civilians are shown War Without Bodies traces the intertwining of new communications technologies and war from the Crimean War when Roger Fenton took the first photographs of the British army and William Howard Russell used the telegraph to transmit his dispatches to the first of three video wars in the Gulf region in 1990 91 within the context of a war culture that made the costs of organized violence acceptable to a wider public New modes of communication have paradoxically not made more war real but made it more ubiquitous and at the same time unremarkable as bodies are erased from coverage Media such as photography and instantaneous video initially seemed to promise more realism but were assimilated into existing conventions that implicitly justified war These new representations of war were framed in a way that erased the human cost of violence and replaced it with images that defused opposition to warfare Analyzing poetry photographs video and video games the book illustrates the ways in which war was framed in these different historical contexts It examines the cultural assumptions that influenced the reception of images of war and discusses how death and damage to bodies was made acceptable to the public War Without Bodies aims to heighten awareness of how acceptance of war is coded into texts and how active resistance to such hidden messages can help prevent future unnecessary wars
