Baker, PhD, Paul R. Fine, LCSW, 2014-04-04 Half of all marriages end and when they do most parents hope to achieve a good divorce in which they can amicably raise their children with their former spouse Unfortunately about 20% of divorces are high conflict involving frequent visits to court allegations of abuse and chronic disagreements regarding parenting schedules In response to this conflict some children become aligned with one parent against the other even a parent who has done nothing to warrant the hostile rejection of their formerly loving children These targeted parents suffer from the loss of time with their children the pain of watching their children become distant even cruel and the uncertainty of not knowing if and when their children will come back to them These parents are on a painful journey with an uncertain outcome Surviving Parental Alienation fills the tremendous need for concrete help for these parents Too often parental alienation stories that are shared by word of mouth on the internet or in books depict unending pain and frightening outcomes Surviving Parental Alienation provides true stories and information about parents who have reconnected with their lost and stolen children and offers better insight and understanding into what exactly parental alienation is and how to handle it Targeted parents are desperate to be understood and to find cause for hope even as they search for answers Surviving Parental Alienation is where they can start to find this hope Awakening the Creative Spirit Christine Valters Paintner, Betsey Beckman, 2010-02 The resource is designed to help spiritual directors and others use expressive arts in the context of spiritual direction It is the latest book in the unique SDI series designed for professional spiritual directors but also useful for clergy therapists and Christian formation specialists The Spiritual Directors International Series This book is part of a special series produced by Morehouse Publishing in cooperation with Spiritual Directors International SDI a global network of some 6 000 spiritual directors and members

Moreman, 2008 The academic study of death rose to prominence during the 1960s Courses on some aspect of death and dying can now be found at most institutions of higher learning These courses tend to stress the psycho social aspects of grief and bereavement however ignoring the religious elements inherent to the subject This collection is the first to address the teaching of courses on death and dying from a religious studies perspective
