Spirit Of True Learning The Jubilee History Of New England:

A Spirit of True Learning Matthew Jordan, 2004 Celebrates fifty years of the autonomous University of New England while acknowledging that its history reaches further back through the New England University College founded in 1938 and via an amalgamation with the Armidale College of Advanced Education to 1928 when the Armidale Teachers College was founded the predecessor to the ACAE

No End of a Lesson Stuart Macintyre, André Brett, Gwilym Croucher, 2017-10-02 A revolution swept through universities three decades ago transforming them from elite institutions into a mass system of higher education Teaching was aligned with occupational outcomes research was directed to practical results Campuses grew and universities became more entrepreneurial Students had to juggle their study requirements with paid work and were required to pay back part of the cost of their degrees The federal government directed this transformation through the creation of a Unified National System How did this happen What were the gains and the losses No End of a Lesson explores this radical reconstruction and assesses its consequences

21st Century Homestead: Agroecology Rob Koogler, 2015-02-21 21st Century Homestead Agroecology contains everything you need to stay up to date on organic agroecology

Preserving the Past Julia Horne, Stephen Garton, 2017-03-20 The Dawkins reforms of the late 1980s and the creation of the Unified National System roused passions at many universities across the nation over fears for the academic enterprise and Australia's system of free public university education With much at stake the Dawkins reforms became a hot topic of discussion across university campuses and even between Vice Chancellors and state education ministers Vice Chancellors were threatened with motions of no confidence staff argued furiously against change and students protested against fees yet mostly to no avail The reforms were introduced and universities became subject to new ways of funding by the Commonwealth that changed the way higher education was organised in Australia This volume tells the story of the Dawkins reforms at Australia's oldest university the University of Sydney and the unlikely alliance between the University's Vice Chancellor and the New South Wales government in the scramble for more students Between 1988 and 1996 the University grew exponentially At the same time it strove to preserve its honoured past despite profound change Did this desire to preserve an older tradition compromise its effort to master the future

High Lean Country Iain Davidson, Andrew Piper, JS Ryan, 2020-07-22 High Lean Country captures the rich history and haunting character of the New England region of northern New South Wales The authors explore how memory of land of family of patterns of life on the other side of the world has influenced the identity of New England They also consider how the high country itself has shaped its people and their sense of regional uniqueness In doing so this book sets a new direction for understanding Australia as a whole Weaving together the histories of human settlement economic social and cultural development as well as interactions with the environment High Lean Country shows how colonial settlers strived for decades to literally create a new England It traces the story of the graduates of Oxford and Cambridge who turned their hands to sheep husbandry and developed a squattocracy the establishment of schools and other institutions and the cultivation of traditional arts It also examines the early colonial bushranging period and a history of not always friendly relations between white settlers and the local Aboriginal population A project of the Heritage Futures Research Centre at the University of New England High Lean Country is a fascinating study of this distinctive Australian high country HKU SPACE and Its Alumni Lawrence M. W. Chiu, Peter Cunich, 2008-01-01 This book examines in detail the efforts of the University of Hong Kong to provide adult education opportunities at university level the establishment of its Department of Extra Mural Studies in 1956 and the School of Professional and Continuing Education HKU SPACE in 1992 Mediterranean Collections in Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand Candace Richards, Elizabeth Minchin, 2025-04-04 This volume brings together academics and museum professionals responsible for ancient Mediterranean collections across Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand to report on their collections legacies and their ongoing value for research education and community engagement in the twenty first century An introductory chapter offers an overview of the themes that unite these Mediterranean collections their colonial legacies their more recent history and the network of scholars who have fostered their development Subsequent chapters offer thematic case studies from the perspective of curators museum professionals educators and researchers working with collections across Australasia They explore several themes including museum archaeology provenance studies pedagogy and participatory programming and engagement and they address two issues that are of interest to everyone who engages with museum collections today restitution and the ethical management and display of human remains Taken together these contributions situate the region's collections on a global scale highlighting their continued relevance in the present and for the future The volume includes a distribution guide to all known ancient Mediterranean collections in Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand a much needed resource for students provenance researchers and museum professionals This volume will be of interest to researchers in Mediterranean archaeology and related disciplines to museum studies scholars and postgraduate students and to a general audience Australian Economic History Claire E. F. Wright, 2022-06-02 In a time of pandemics war and climate change fostering knowledge that transcends disciplinary boundaries is more important than ever Economic history is one of the world's oldest interdisciplinary fields with its prosperity dependent on connection and relevance to disciplinary behemoths economics and history Australian Economic History is the first history of an interdisciplinary field in Australia and the first to set the field's progress within the structures of Australian universities It highlights the lived experience of doing interdisciplinary research and how scholars have navigated the opportunities and challenges of this form of knowledge These lessons are vital for those seeking to develop robust interdisciplinary conversations now and in the future This previously untold story of economic history in Australia exposes the centrality of economic thought and scholarship to Australian intellectual and political life Deftly positioning economic history in an innovative institutional place based and person focused narrative Claire Wright entangles economics with the history of education to produce a tale of university interdisciplinarity influence and impact Written with vitality and bursting with both data and anecdote this book makes an exceptional contribution to the intersecting fields of history economics and higher education studies Hannah Forsyth author of A History of the Modern Australian University Few readers would expect to find a classical tragedy in the story of an academic field Yet that is what Claire Wright shows us in this study of Economic History as it has been practiced in Australia She traces the field from legendary beginnings to triumphant growth to organisational collapse and renaissance on other terms Carefully researched and vigorously written this book raises questions about disciplines and interdisciplinary fields universities and markets and social bases of intellectual work that are relevant to all fields today Raewyn Connell author of The Good University Australia proved a pioneer in the study of economic history nurturing a discipline with innovative data and understanding of material trends Yet by the 1990s economic history departments closed as senior scholars retired and the field was subsumed by conventional economics In this absorbing study Dr Claire Wright challenges the conventional account She is tough minded about financial and institutional pressures on the field but cautiously optimistic about the future It is a mistake she argues to see institutional representation as the benchmark of influence Instead the interdisciplinary nature of economic history has encouraged new research and teaching across the humanities and social sciences With close attention to individual scholars and their university departments and a deep sense of the trajectory of the field Australian Economic History Transformations of an Interdisciplinary Field is an original and important contribution to Australian intellectual history Glyn Davis Distinguished Professor of Political Science in the Crawford School of Public Policy The Australian National University Politics, Pride and Perversion Erik Eklund, 2025-03-06 Frank Arkell 1929 1998 was the most successful politician of his generation an Independent who served as Wollongong's Lord Mayor 1974 1991 and state member 1984 1991 Arkell dominated Wollongong public life with unstoppable energy eccentric flair and a single minded determination to support the city through economic restructuring Despite his popularity at the edges of public consciousness there was growing disquiet over Arkell's private life A compelling biography Eklund provides a nuanced exploration of Arkell's relentless efforts to transform Wollongong from a steel city to the Leisure Coast as well as his connections to an extensive paedophile network exposed during the 1997 Wood Royal Commission Associate Professor Jayne Persian University of Southern Queensland Eklund discloses the tragic consequences of unbridled male lust deep social inequality and unaccountable class power we have here a shocking story of sexual abuse and official corruption that brought untold suffering political disgrace and in the end a brutal murder Professor Frank Bongiorno AM author of Dreamers and Schemers The Political History of Australia 'Now is the Psychological Moment' Stephen Wilks, 2020-10-12 Earle Christmas Grafton Page 1880 1961 surgeon Country Party leader treasurer and prime minister was perhaps the most extraordinary visionary to hold high public office in twentieth century Australia Over decades he made determined efforts to seize the psychological moment and thereby realise his vision of a decentralised regionalised and rationally ordered nation Page's unique dreaming of a very different Australia encompassed new states hydroelectricity economic planning cooperative federalism and rural universities His story casts light on the wider place in history of visions of national development He was Australia's most important advocate of developmentalism the important yet little studied stream of thought that assumes that governments can lead the nation to realise its economic potential His audacious synthesis of ideas delineated and stretched the Australian political imagination Page's rich career confirms that Australia has long inspired popular ideals of national development but also suggests that their practical implementation was increasingly challenged during the twentieth century Effervescent intelligent and somewhat eccentric Page was one of Australia's great optimists Few Australian leaders who stood for so much have since been so neglected
