Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Kathleen Sheldon, 2016-03-04 African women's history is a vast topic that embraces a wide variety of societies in over 50 countries with different geographies social customs religions and historical situations Africa is a predominantly agricultural continent and a major factor in African agriculture is the central role of women as farmers It is estimated that between 65 and 80 percent of African women are engaged in cultivating food for their families and in the past that percentage was likely even higher Thus one common thread across much of the continent is women's daily work in their family plot This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on individual African women in history politics religion and the arts on important events organizations and publications and on topics important to women in general marriage fertility employment and to African women in particular market women child marriage queen mothers This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Women in Africa

Pentecostalism and Development D. Freeman, 2012-09-03 Development was founded on the belief that religion was not important to development processes The contributors call this assumption into question and explore the practical impacts of religion by looking at the developmental consequences of Pentecostal Christianity in Africa and by contrasting Pentecostal and secular models of change

Shackled Sentiments Eric J. Montgomery, 2019-01-21 The ramifications of the trans Saharan trans Atlantic Indian Ocean and domestic African slave trades are immeasurable and they continue to disaffect black people from Africa to Haiti and Los Angeles to Lagos Shackled Sentiments focuses on the memories and embodiments of slavery through case studies from western eastern and central Africa the Caribbean and Latin America The contributors to this collection examine the ways that memories of slavery have been internalized Slavery and memory are assessed from multiple perspectives as sets of ritual practices community based systems of spirit veneration mechanisms of resistance and national pride sacred languages informing personhood and instruments for healing and well being This book is recommended for scholars of anthropology history religion art and linguistics

Translocal Connections across the Indian Ocean, 2018-06-26 The book describes the worlds where Swahili is spoken as multi centred contexts that cannot be thought of as located in a specific coastal area of Kenya or Tanzania The articles presented discuss a range of geographical areas where Swahili is spoken from Somalia to Mozambique along the Indian Ocean in Europe and the US In an attempt to de essentialize the concepts of translocality and cosmopolitanism the emphasis of the book is on translocality as experienced by different social strata and by gender and cosmopolitanism as an acquired attitude Contributors are Katrin Bromber Gerard van de Bruinhorst Francesca Declich Rebecca Gearhart Mafazy Linda Giles Ida Hadjivayannis Mohamed Kassim Kjersti Larsen Mohamed Saleh Maria Suriano Sandra Vianello

Decolonising State and Society in Uganda Katherine Bruce-Lockhart, Jonathon L. Earle, Nakanyike Musisi, Edgar C. Taylor, 2022 Key book on the debates surrounding the knowledge economy and decolonialization of African Studies that brings the subject up to date for the 21st century Decolonization of knowledge has become a major issue in African Studies in recent years brought to the fore by social movements such as RhodesMustFall and BlackLivesMatter This timely book explores the politics and disputed character of knowledge production in colonial and postcolonial Uganda where efforts to generate forms of knowledge and solidarity that transcend colonial epistemologies draw on long histories of resistance and refusal Bringing together scholars from Africa Europe and North America the contributors in this volume analyse how knowledge has been created mobilized and contested across a wide range of Ugandan contexts In so doing they reveal how Ugandans have built disputed and reimagined institutions of authority and knowledge production in ways that disrupt the colonial frames that continue to shape scholarly analyses and state structures From the politics of language and gender in Bakiga naming practices to ways of knowing among the Acholi the hampering of critical scholarship by militarism and authoritarianism and debates over the names of streets lakes mountains and other public spaces this book shows how scholars and a wide range of Ugandan activists are reimagining the politics of knowledge in Ugandan public life

Prophecy in the Book of Jeremiah Hans M.

Barstad, Reinhard Gregor Kratz, 2009 This volume contains the proceedings of a Symposium Prophecy in the Book of Jeremiah arranged by the Edinburgh Prophecy Network in the School of Divinity at the University of Edinburgh 11-12 May 2007 Prophetic studies are undergoing radical changes at the moment Whereas it was formerly believed that the historical Jeremiah was hidden under countless additions and reinterpretations and thus changed beyond recognition it was still assumed that it would be possible to recover the real prophet with the tools of historical critical methods However according to a major The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Violence Mark Juergensmeyer, Margo Kitts, Michael K. Jerryson, 2015-11 Violence has always played a part in the religious imagination from symbols and myths to legendary battles from colossal wars to the theater of terrorism The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Violence surveys intersections between religion and violence throughout history and around the world The forty original essays in this volume include overviews of major religious traditions showing how violence is justified within the literary and theological foundations of the tradition how it is used symbolically and in ritual practice and how social acts of violence and warfare have been justified by religious ideas The essays also examine patterns and themes relating to religious violence such as sacrifice and martyrdom which are explored in cross disciplinary or regional analyses and offer major analytic approaches from literary to social scientific studies The contributors to this volume innovative thinkers who are forging new directions in theory and analysis related to religion and violence provide novel insights into this important field of studies By mapping out the whole field of religion and violence The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Violence will prove an authoritative source for students and scholars for years to come

Terrorist Groups and the New Tribalism Jeffrey Kaplan, 2010-02-25 The central focus of this book is a small but vitally important group of movements that constitute a distinct fifth wave of modern terrorism here called the New Tribalism Terrorist Groups and the New Tribalism examines a collection of terrorist or insurgent movements whose similarity in tactics strategic vision and desire to radically reshape their worlds to conform with a Golden Age dream of perfection which is to be achieved through a genocidal or ethnic cleansing process to make way for the emergence of a new radically perfected tribal utopia in a single generation These shared strategic and tactical factors allow them to be examined through a comparative lens as a distinct fifth wave of modern terrorism Structured around the theoretical framework of David Rapoport's Four Waves thesis the book examines anomalous movements that began within a distinct wave of international terrorism but following a crisis model has turned inwards toward radical localism tribalism and xenophobia The text is divided between theory and in depth case studies of the Ugandan Lord's Resistance Army and the Sudanese Janjaweed It concludes with a design for further field work based research This book will be of interest to students of Terrorism and Political Violence Genocide Conflict Studies African politics and Political Science in general Jeffrey Kaplan is an Associate Professor of Religion and the Director of the Institute for the Study of Religion Violence and Memory at the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh He is the author of 11 books on terrorism and political violence Violence and the World's Religious Traditions Mark

Juergensmeyer, Margo Kitts, Michael K. Jerryson, 2017 An introductory survey of the whole field of study of religion and violence It includes overviews of major religious traditions and it analyzes patterns and themes relating to religious violence It also explores major analytic approaches and forges new directions in the study of this important emerging field The Other Cold War Heonik Kwon, 2010-12-01 In this conceptually bold project Heonik Kwon uses anthropology to interrogate the cold war's cultural and historical narratives Adopting a truly panoramic view of local politics and international events he challenges the notion that the cold war was a global struggle fought uniformly around the world and that the end of the war marked a radical universal rupture in modern history Incorporating comparative ethnographic study into a thorough analysis of the period Kwon upends cherished ideas about the global and their hold on contemporary social science His narrative describes the slow decomposition of a complex social and political order involving a number of local and culturally creative processes While the nations of Europe and North America experienced the cold war as a time of long peace postcolonial nations entered a different reality altogether characterized by vicious civil wars and other exceptional forms of violence Arguing that these events should be integrated into any account of the era Kwon captures the first sociocultural portrait of the cold war in all its subtlety and diversity Living History Ana Lucia Araujo, 2009-05-05 This book focusses on the several forms of reconstructing the slave past in the present The recent emergence of the memory of slavery allows those who are or who claim to be descendents of slaves to legitimize their demand for recognition and for reparations for past wrongs Some reparation claims encompass financial compensation but very often they express the need for memorialization through public commemoration museums and monuments In some contexts presentification of the slave past has helped governments and the descendants of former masters and slave merchants to formulate public apologies For some expressing repentance is not only a means to erase guilt but also a way to gain political prestige The authors analyse different aspects of the recent phenomenon of memorializing slavery especially the practices employed to stage the slave past in both public and private spaces The essays present memory and oblivion as part of the same process they discuss reconstructions of the past in the present at different public and private levels through historiography photography exhibitions monuments memorials collective and individual discourses cyberspace religion and performance By offering a comparative perspective on the United States and West Africa as well as on Western Europe South America and the Caribbean the chapters offer new possibilities to explore the resurgence of the memory of slavery as a transnational movement in our contemporary world Borders and Healers Tracy J. Luedke, Harry G. West, 2006-02-02 This important book contributes to understandings of the ways in which healing practices in southeast Africa mediate divides between the wealthy and the impoverished the traditional and the modern the local and the global Miracles : 2 Volumes Craig S. Keener, 2011-11-01 Christianity Today 2013 Book Award Winner Winner of The Foundation for Pentecostal Scholarship's 2012 Award of Excellence 2011 Book of the Year Christianbook.com's Academic Blog Most modern prejudice against biblical miracle reports depends on David Hume

s argument that uniform human experience precluded miracles Yet current research shows that human experience is far from uniform In fact hundreds of millions of people today claim to have experienced miracles New Testament scholar Craig Keener argues that it is time to rethink Hume s argument in light of the contemporary evidence available to us This wide ranging and meticulously researched two volume study presents the most thorough current defense of the credibility of the miracle reports in the Gospels and Acts Drawing on claims from a range of global cultures and taking a multidisciplinary approach to the topic Keener suggests that many miracle accounts throughout history and from contemporary times are best explained as genuine divine acts lending credence to the biblical miracle reports

Prophecy and the Prophets in Ancient Israel John Day,2010-06-03 This major work re examines prophecy and the prophets in ancient Israel with essays ranging all the way from Israel s ancient Near Eastern background right up to the New Testament The majority of essays concentrate on prophecy and the prophets in the Old Testament which are approached from a remarkable number of different angles Particular attention is paid to the following subjects Prophecy amongst Israel s ancient Near East neighbours female prophets in both Israel and the ancient Near East Israelite prophecy in the light of sociological anthropological and psychological approaches Deuteronomy 18 9 22 the Prophets and Scripture Elijah Elisha and prophetic succession the theology of Amos Hosea and the Baal cult the sign of Immanuel the rewriting of Isaiah in Isaiah 28 31 Deutero Isaiah and monotheism Jeremiah and God Aniconism and anthropomorphism in Ezekiel Habakkuk s dialogue with God and the language of legal disputation Zephaniah and the Book of the Twelve hypothesis Structure and meaning in Malachi Prophecy and Psalmody Prophecy in Chronicles Prophecy in the New Testament

The Pauline Concept of Supernatural Powers Kabiro wa Gatumu,2009-02-20 The study of supernatural powers is fraught with vexing hermeneutical challenges which aggravate further in the African context While on the one hand Western anthropology tends to discount the idea of supernatural powers by attempting to explain them away on the other Western biblical scholarship has mainly worked from the premise of demythologizing them But none of these approaches make tangible sense to African scholars for whom supernatural powers constitute an integral component of their spiritual psyche This book based on an examination of over a thousand documentary sources both classic and modern attempts to address the issue of interpreting supernatural powers from an African worldview The author analyzes identifies and critiques major hermeneutical errors and offers a bridging hermeneutic using the method of reader response criticism
