Hermeneutical Community C. S. Barefoot, 2024-12-23 Many Western initiatives exist for theological development in the majority world but how often do practitioners from the West pause to examine the role they should play in that endeavor Missions history and church history have revealed inadequacies of imposing foreign theology on local churches yet the alternative of withdrawing from local theological development appears equally problematic If therefore the outsider's role is neither to impose theology nor withdraw from the task then what is his or her role Hermeneutical Community addresses this fundamental question and seeks to lay a sound missiological foundation for local theological development Faith, Race and Inequality amongst Young Adults in South Africa Nadine Bowers Du Toit, 2022-07-04 For many young South African adults often called born frees who were born just before or just after the demise of political apartheid the ongoing realities of poverty and inequality bring to light the question of whether they truly are free in contemporary South Africa Their lived experiences of poverty and inequality seem to be in conflict with theologically laden concepts that remain prominent in social and political life such as reconciliation forgiveness justice and restitution This leads to a bi-directional process of contesting and being contested by such notions and discourses Furthermore in light of the double legacy of both the church and youth as resisting injustice this publication seeks to explore the many perspectives from which the Christian faith race and inequality amongst youth can be brought to light Christian Hope in Context I A. van Egmond, Dirk van

Sámi Nature-Centered Christianity in the European Arctic Tore Johnsen, 2022-07-22 Sámi Nature Centered Christianity in the European Arctic unpacks the theological significance of North Sámi indigenous Christianity demonstrating how the tension between Sámi nature centered Christianity and official Norwegian Lutheranism has broad theological relevance Focusing on Christian cosmological orientation the author argues that this is not fully given within the Christian faith itself It is partly shaped by the religious philosophical frameworks that various historical receptions of Christianity were filtered through The author substantiates that two different types of Christian cosmological orientation are negotiated in the North Sámi Christian experience one reflecting a Sámi historical reception of Christianity primarily filtered through the egalitarian world intuition of the Sámi indigenous tradition another reflecting official Norwegian Lutheranism primarily filtered through a Greek hierarchical world construct passed down among European intellectual elites The argument is developed through thick description of local everyday Christianity among reindeer herding river and sea Sámi communities in Finnmark Norway through critical engagement with historical and contemporary Lutheranism and through constructive dialogue with African and Native American theologies The author suggests that the egalitarian multi relational logic of Sámi nature centered Christianity points beyond the hierarchical binaries delimiting much of the theological imagination of dominant Christian theologies

Interruptions J. Matthew Ashley, 1998-12-08 Johann Baptist Metz is one of the most important Roman Catholic theologians in the post Vatican II period however there is no comprehensive overview of his theological career This book fills that gap It offers careful analyses and summaries of Metz's work at the various stages of his career beginning with his work on Heidegger and his collaboration with Karl Rahner It continues with his work in the nineteen sixties when he moved off in a radically different direction to found a new political theology culminating in his seminal work Faith in History and Society Metz addresses themes ranging from the situation of the Church after Auschwitz the future of religious life in the Church and the relationship between religion and politics after the end of the cold war J. Matthew Ashley covers all of Metz's writings along with his crucial relationships to figures like Karl Rahner Martin Heidegger Ernst Bloch Walter Benjamin and the social critics of the early Frankfurt School Interruptions shows that despite the dramatic turn in the nineteen sixties there is an underlying continuity in Metz's thought Ultimately however the underlying continuity in Metz's career is defined by a spirituality a spirituality that is painfully yet hopefully open to the terrible suffering that characterizes our century a spirituality founded in the Prophets in Lamentations and in the figures of Job and the Jesus of Mark's Gospel This book shows how Metz has tried to find theological concepts adequate for expressing this spirituality which he calls a Mysticism of open Eyes or of suffering unto God and to work out its political implications To this end the book has an opening chapter on the relationship between spirituality and theology and a closing chapter that shows that the most fundamental difference between Rahner and Metz is rooted in the different Christian spiritual traditions out of which the two operate

Interruptions is essential reading for anyone interested in Spirituality and Mysticism and in their relation to political philosophy

Hope for the Earth Ernst M. Conradie, 2005-05-18 Hope for the Earth explores the viability of an eschatological approach to an ecological theology spirituality and praxis in the South African context The basic intuition of such an eschatological approach is that an environmental praxis can only be empowered on the basis of an adequate understanding of Christian hope Despair in the face of environmental destruction will inevitably lead to a spirit of resignation Where then can a vision of hope that includes hope for the earth be found The author proposes a road map for eschatology based on the observation that eschatology has traditionally responded to three aspects of the human predicament namely 1 the evil effects of sin 2 the problem of finitude and transience and 3 the limitations of human power and knowledge in space Part A This analysis is used to fathom the depths of despair as a result of environmental destruction Part B The Biblical roots and subsequent history of Christian eschatology are discussed briefly Part C Recent contributions in Christian eschatology ecological theology cosmology and South African expressions of hope are explored in depth in search of a vision of hope that includes hope for the earth itself Part D The eschatological road map is used to develop a vision of hope for the earth on the basis of a theology of life life amidst death and destruction life beyond death and eternal life in the presence of God Part E Finally the implications of this vision for an ecological ethos spirituality and praxis in the South African context are indicated Part F
