Mossman, 1993-04 This book is a Absalom! David Daniel Walter, 2004 feminist analysis which combines a psychoanalytic perspective on catastrophic birth with the politics of reproduction in the emergent democracy of nineteenth century France It focuses on three major thinkers whose personal relation to origins is problematic Roussea Constant and Stendhal and also includes a broad reading of the nineteenth century novel within the frame of pathological generation giving special attention to works by Michelet and Zola Professor Mossman identifies important areas of interaction between production and reproduction at the level of aesthetic form and between private birth related discourse and the ideology of the birth of democracy Within the context of the collapse of ancien regime France the nascent ideology of motherhood collides with modes of discourse that invade and colonize the maternal body generating a considerable burden of anxiety expressed in the nineteenth century French novel Figures of Ill Repute Charles Bernheimer, 1997 Ubiquitous in the streets and brothels of nineteenth century Paris the prostitute was even more so in the novels and paintings of the time Charles Bernheimer discusses how these representations of the sexually available woman express male ambivalence about desire money class and the body Interweaving close textual analysis with historical anecdote and theoretical speculation Bernheimer demonstrates how the formal properties of art can serve strategically to control anxious fantasies about female sexual power Drawing on methods derived from cultural studies psychoanalysis social history feminist theory and narrative analysis this interdisciplinary classic available now for the first time in paperback was awarded Honorable Mention in 1990 for the James Russell Lowell prize awarded by the Modern Language Association for the best book of criticism Stories, Theories and Things Christine Brooke-Rose, 1991-01-25 The novelist and critic Christine Brooke Rose investigates those difficult border zones between the invented and the real in fiction Scenes of Seduction Jann Matlock, 1994 Jann Matlock's study of prostitution hysteria and the novel in nineteenth century France considers for the first time the three topics together with their links to constructions of female marginality and desire Made increasingly accessible to a large public by inexpensive printing methods new forms of circulation like the roman feuilleton and rising literacy rates among women and workers the novel became the medium for exchanges over women s bodies and desires Matlock reveals the coincident traffic of the novel in the subjects of women on the fringe of society prostitutes hysterics and madwomen and the invitations extended to its new readers to explore new worlds of sexuality and intrique In addition Matlock examines debates on the tolerance of prostitution sexual continence the relationship between female sexuality and madness and the dangers of literature by incorporating into her study material from a myriad of archives including medical case studies police reports newspaper editorials and memoirs Against this rich background she discusses the novels of Balzac Dumas fils Sand Souli and Sue many of which were directed at a female audience Sex Work, Text Work Jessica Tanner, 2023-05-15 Though male French authors plotted prostitution to make their names mimicking the surveillance of municipal authorities the sex workers in their books manage to evade efforts to contain them While prostitutes in nineteenth century Paris were subject to municipal laws that policed their bodies and movements writers of the era enlisted them to stake their own claims on both the city and the novel as literary territory Sex Work Text Work Mapping Prostitution in the Nineteenth Century French Novel explores how prostitutes depicted by mile Zola Joris Karl Huysmans Edmond de Goncourt Adolphe Tabarant and Charles Louis Philippe write back confounding civil and literary efforts to contain them in space and in narrative In city regulated brothels brasseries femmes Haussmannian boulevards and the novel itself working class prostitutes served to reinforce the boundaries of social inclusion and exclusion And yet Jessica Tanner contends even the novels that most explicitly aligned with the disciplinary logic of regulated prostitution make space for a distinctly literary form of resistance these women elude or disrupt the mapping that would claim them as literary territory revealing their authors failure to secure their narratives as property Tanner pushes back against the critical tendency to attribute agency only to courtesans who became published authors and forwards a new framework for understanding the political work novels engage in as they circulate Observing that debates about the regulation of prostitution surfaced in tandem with racialized anxieties about the boundaries of the French nation Tanner ultimately expands that framework to the history of French colonialism and the politics of immigration in the current day This book shows that while sex workers have been recruited to mark the borders of civic and moral life prostitution can also make space for more inclusive forms of community both in the novel and in the world beyond its bounds The Court of France 1789-1830 Philip Mansel,1988 The post Revolution emergence of a stronger monarchy and larger and more elitist courts than had previously existed is shown in this descriptive account of the succession of courts in France from the revolutionary period to the fall of Charles X Orientation in European Romanticism Paul Hamilton, 2022-10-20 This book frames Romanticism as the epicentre of modern Europe s fascination with orientation and disorientation in literature and politics Writing with a Vengeance Carol A.

Mossman, 2009-10-03 Writing with a Vengeance examines the life and works of a nineteenth century French courtesan C leste V nard later the Countess de Chabrillan A notorious Paris courtesan Chabrillan married into the nobility taught herself to write penning two series of memoirs and upon being widowed wrote novels to support herself ten between 1857 and 1885 These novels and memoirs constitute exceptional literary and historical documents particularly as very few sex workers before the twentieth century have left written records of their lives Writing with a Vengeance intertwines the courtesan's autobiographical account of the horrors of her life on the streets with that era s political medical and cultural discourses surrounding prostitution Though French society both silenced and refused to pardon the prostitute Carol Mossman's literary analysis of Chabrillan's novels contends that it is through the process of writing itself that she arrived at self forgiveness and ultimately refashioned for her damaged self a new identity and narrative Balzac Michael Tilby, 2017-07-28 This canon of French literature Honore de Balzac 1799 1850 is also a major European figure in the development of realism His work is dominated by an inter related sequence of novels and short stories La Comedie Humanine which charts the idiosyncrasies of French society from the beginning of the nineteenth century to the 1840 s Among the most famous of these are Le Pierre Goriot and La Cousine Bette Iin this study Dr Tilby concentrates on the main approaches in practice and discusses some of the earliest responses to Balzac s work His introduction and headnotes set Balzac s work in context This book will be of interest to students of French language and literature and also to those studying French in combined studies or humanities Shimmering in a Transformed Light Rosemary Lloyd, 2005 Although much has been written lately on the links courses between painting and writing little or no attention has been paid to those moments in literature when the narrative stops to allow for the description of those objects we associate with still life Rosemary Lloyd's book shows how fascinating this overlooked area is how rich in suggestions of class race and gender how much it indicates about human pleasures and about the experience of space and time Lloyd focuses on the last two centuries particularly at points marked by the irruption of images of contingency and rapid change into the fields of art for example the year of the Terror in French history the decade in which Haussman's politically driven transformation of Paris led Baudelaire to write his great modernist poem Le Cygne and on or about December 1910 the date to which Virginia Woolf attributes a revolution in the definition of literary character Lloyd's central concern lies with the ways in which the still life written or painted both evokes and attempts to deal with the sense of contingency While she makes frequent reference to paintings she focuses above all on written still lifes particularly those moments when novels pause to address the subject matter of still life a bowl of fruit a hat rack a desk cluttered with pens and papers in ways that invite contemplation of other and broader cultural domains She draws on literary and art works from Australia England France Germany Ireland Italy and the United States Allegory Old and New M. Kronegger, Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2012-12-06 Bringing allegory into the light from the neglect into which it fell means focusing on the wondrous heights of the human spirit in its significance for culture Contemporary philosophies and literary theories which give pre eminence to primary linguistics forms symbol and metaphor seem to favor just that which makes intelligible communication possible But they fall short in accounting for the deepest subliminal founts that prompt the mind to exalt in beauty virtue transcending aspiration The present rich collection shows how allegory incorporating the soaring of the spirit offers highlights for culture with its fluctuations and transformation This collective effort rich in ideas and intuitions and covering a vast range of cultural manifestations is a pioneering work retrieving the vision of the exalted human spirit bringing together literature theatre music and painting in a variety of revealing perspectives. Berg, 2007 Literature is ostensibly a sequential and thus temporal medium and painting a static and spatial one yet writers like George Sand and Emile Zola have attempted repeatedly to represent visual and spatial phenomena in literary texts just as painters like Eugene Delacroix and Claude Monet have sought consistently to capture effects of time and movement on canvas The incorporation of elements from one artistic medium into another creates a dynamic interplay of image and ideology both between art forms and within individual texts and paintings which constitutes the crux of this book Each chapter involves the detailed analysis of a text and a painting related through topic theme and technique By juxtaposing the works of ten major writers and ten painters of comparable stature the book explores the various modalities and layers of meaning in nineteenth century French art both verbal and visual and proposes ways of reading the ambivalent artifacts of modernity Illustrated Balzac Gaëtan Picon,1974-01-01T00:00:00+01:00 Cet ouvrage est une r dition num rique d un livre paru au XXe si cle d sormais Weaving Balzac's Web James Madden, 2003 This study explores the process by indisponible dans son format d origine which Balzac made use of the unique structure of his fictional world to create subtlety and complexity both within and between the individual works of La Comedie humaine Internal narrations scenes of story telling offer a particularly rich field of study as characters tell each other stories about other characters Because of the system of recurring characters Balzac s narrative framing creates layers of meaning thus raising questions that resonate throughout the whole textual edifice Weaving Balzac s Web shows how story telling scenes can serve as windows into the depths of Balzac s masterpiece and reveal the carefully construction complexities and ambiguities that lie enmeshed in its vast narrative web Honore de Balzac Harold Bloom, 2009 Presents critical essays on the works of French author Honore de Balzac Power and Crime Vincenzo Ruggiero, 2017-11-27 This book provides an analysis of the two concepts of power and crime and posits that criminologists can learn more about these concepts by incorporating ideas from disciplines outside of criminology Although arguably a rendezvous discipline Vincenzo Ruggiero argues that criminology can gain much insight from other fields such as the political sciences ethics social theory critical legal studies economic theory and classical literature In this book Ruggiero offers an authoritative synthesis of a range of intellectual conceptions of crime and power drawing on the works and theories of classical as well as contemporary thinkers in the above fields of knowledge arguing that criminology can humbly renounce claims to intellectual independence and adopt notions and perspectives from other disciplines The theories presented locate the crimes of the powerful in different disciplinary contexts and make the book essential reading for academics and students involved in the study of criminology sociology law politics and philosophy
