Burkhart, 2001 The introduction of the Virgin Mary to the native peoples of Mexico is often closely associated with Our Lady of Guadalupe the principal Mexican Marian devotion Historical evidence indicates that the Mexican shrine was not established until the 1560s the legend was virtually unknown until its initial publication in Spanish in 1648 and in Nahuatl the following year and native people did not participate in the devotion to any extensive degree until after the mid seventeenth century How then was devotion to the Virgin actually introduced to Nahuas during the first decades of Christian evangelization This book addresses this question through the presentation of Nahuatl language devotional texts relating to Mary texts through which Nahuas learned about the Virgin and expressed their own developing devotion to her The wide range of Nahuatl literature on the Virgin shows that Nahuas were introduced to and to varying degrees participated in the full blown medieval and Renaissance devotion to Mary adapted into their own language Native scholars participated in the composition of much of this material Nahuatl text and English translation are presented in parallel columns Each text is preceded by introductory commentary that explicates the European background of the material and its new meanings and uses in the Mexican context

The Prodigal Church Jared C. Wilson, 2015-04-16 Pastors want to reach the lost with the good news of Jesus However we've too often assumed this requires loud music flashy lights and skinny jeans In this gentle manifesto Jared Wilson a pastor who knows what it's like to serve in a large attractional church challenges pastors to reconsider their priorities when it comes to how they do church and reach people in their communities Writing with the grace and kindness of a trusted friend Wilson encourages pastors to reexamine the Bible's teaching not simply return to a traditional model for tradition's sake He then sets forth an alternative to both the attractional and the traditional models an explicitly biblical approach that is gospel focused grace based and fruit oriented
