Francophone Belgian Cinema Jamie Steele, 2018-12-19 Francophone Belgian Cinema offers an original critical analysis of filmmaking in an oft neglected national and regional cinema The book draws key distinctions between the local national small national regional and transnational frameworks in both representational and industrial terms Alongside the Dardenne brothers this book considers four promising Francophone Belgian filmmakers who have received limited critical attention in academic publications on contemporary European cinema Joachim Lafosse Olivier Masset Depasse Lucas Belvaux and Bouli Lanners Exploring these filmmakers themes of post industrialism paternalism the fractured nuclear family and spatial dynamics as well as their work in the more commercial road movie and polar genres Jamie Steele analyses their stylistic continuities and filiation This is complemented by an analysis of how the industrial aspects of film production distribution and exhibition contribute to the creation of both a regional and transnational cinema

The Decentralization of Cultural Identity and its Depiction in Cinema. Family and Migration on Film, 2021-10-27 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2021 in the subject Cultural Studies Pacific Rim grade 1 7 University of Bremen course English Speaking Cultures language English abstract This thesis aims to investigate how the medium of film thematizes the issue of the decentralization of cultural identity based on Indian immigrant families in the film The Namesake by Mira Nair The intent behind this paper s focus on family is to include not only first generation immigrants that undergo a change regarding their identity but also the likewise affected second generation immigrants within these families On that note it is evident that in order to answer the question of how film approaches the issue of the decentralization of cultural identity an adequate case example is required to represent that subject matter sufficiently The selected film The Namesake by Mira Nair possesses the vital attribute of showcasing a persuasive display of clashing cultural identities and puts emphasis on the topic of migration
