Spode A History Of The Family Factory And Wares From 1733 To 1833:

Spode Leonard Whiter, 1978      Britain in the Hanoverian Age, 1714-1837 Gerald Newman, Leslie Ellen Brown, 1997
In 1714 king George I ushered in a remarkable 123 year period of energy that changed the face of Britain and ultimately had a profound effect on the modern era The pioneers of modern capitalism industry democracy literature and even architecture flourished during this time and their innovations and influence spread throughout the British empire including the United States Now this rich cultural period in Britain is effectively surveyed and summarized for quick reference in a first of its kind encyclopedia which contains entries by British Canadian American and Australian scholars specializing in everything from finance and the fine arts to politics and patent law More than 380 illustrations mostly rare engravings enhance the coverage which runs the whole gamut of political economic literary intellectual artistic commercial and social life and spotlights some 600 prominent individuals and families      18th and 19th Century Porcelain Analysis Howell G. M. Edwards, 2020-07-13
This book addresses the contributions made by analytical chemistry to the characterisation of 18th and early 19th Century English and Welsh porcelains commencing with the earliest reports of Sir Arthur Church and of Herbert Eccles and Bernard Rackham using chemical digestion techniques and concluding with the most recent instrumental experiments which together span more than a hundred years of study From the earliest experiments which required necessarily the sacrifice of significant portions of each specimen which may already have been damaged to the latest experiments which needed only microsampling or the non destructive interrogation of valuable perfect specimens a comprehensive survey is undertaken of more than twenty manufactories of quality porcelains The correlation is made between the quantitative elemental oxide determinations of the scanning electron microscopic diffraction and X-ray fluorescence data and the qualitative molecular spectroscopic Raman data to demonstrate their complementarity and use in the holistic forensic assessment of the origin of the fired porcelains this will form the groundwork for the adoption of analytical techniques for the attribution of unknown or questionable porcelains to their potential source factories The book will also examine the perception of what constitutes a porcelain and its definitions and examines the assignment of porcelains to types which currently employs the definitions of hard paste soft paste hybrid magnesian and bone china from the conclusions derived from the analytical data and a consideration of the raw materials employed in their manufacturing processes During the discussion of this analytical evidence several themes and protocols have been established for its utilisation in the potential identification of porcelains and several case studies undertaken for this purpose are cited The book will be of interest to analytical scientists to museum ceramics curators and to ceramics historians      The First Industrialists François Crouzet, 2008-10-30 This book is focused on the social and occupational origins of the founders of modern British industry what kind of families did they come from What was their occupation before they set up as industrialists In discussing these and other issues this study makes an important contribution to the problem of social mobility during the Industrial Revolution      The World of British Stoneware

Frank L. Wood,2014-03-28 For nearly three hundred years from the late seventeenth to the middle twentieth century stoneware was a major part of British ceramic output This book concentrates on that particular area of ceramics and covers the history and development of stoneware in all its many variations Those variations range widely from brown salt glazed tavern wares to such refined wares as jasper Castleford ware and the later art wares to name a few A specific aspect of the book is to give anyone interested in ceramics and collectors in particular very comprehensive information on the manufacture of the different types of stoneware from the preparation of the clay or body through the forming decorating and glazing techniques to the firing Such is likely to provide a greater appreciation and understanding of stoneware in its many variations There are separate chapters on the later art wares and their makers bottle wares and marks and identification as well as an appendix listing manufacturers a comprehensive glossary and a list of museums The illustrations cover a wide range of types Many books on ceramics include information on stoneware but this in depth book benefits from the experience of a writer who is both a collector and ex potter Late Georgian and Regency England, 1760-1837 Robert A.

Ceramics and Globalization Neil Ewins,2017-05-04 Neil Ewins study of the Staffordshire potteries in a period of great global change traces how ceramics production has been affected by globalisation in both familiar and unexpected ways Although many manufacturers such as Wedgwood initially moved production to cheaper labour markets in East Asia others remained in or returned to England once it became clear that outsourcing manufacturing was affecting the brand value and customer perception of their products Neil Ewins explores the complex behaviour of the UK ceramics industry using a combination of evidence from the press trade journals ceramic objects and primary interview evidence of manufacturers retailers and a ceramic designer Ewins suggests that although the surface designs of UK ceramics invariably reflect diverse cultural and stylistic influences a notion of authenticity often still resides in the place and context in which the ceramic product was originally made Overall the book argues that UK ceramics remain culturally complex because of issues of supply and demand and ties to heritage imagined or otherwise Within a context of globalization the book highlights compelling issues which have huge ramifications on UK manufacturing futures Northwest Anthropological Research Notes ,1977
