Hitler's Stuka Squadrons

John Ward,2004 Hitler's Stuka Squadrons is a book that separates fact from fantasy regarding the achievements and military career of the Ju 87 aircraft. Able to deliver its bombs accurately onto a target, the Stuka wreaked havoc in Poland and France against ground targets and refugee columns. Hitler's Stuka Squadrons charts the Ju 87's career in 1939-40 when German aerial superiority ensured aircraft losses were low. However, against Spitfires and Hurricanes in the Battle of Britain in 1940, the Stuka was shot out of the skies. The campaign in Russia saw the re-establishment of the Ju 87's supremacy and would lead to a change in role to one of tank busting. Hitler's Stuka Squadrons also covers the individual Stuka squadrons, their campaigns, tactics, and pilots. Illustrated with full color artworks which show the various changes in livery and design that the Ju 87 underwent during its career, accompanied by a full specifications table that lists range, armament, performance, dimensions, ceiling, and weights. An authoritative book written by an expert on Military history. First hand accounts from Stuka pilots. Full colored artworks. Specifications boxes.

Stuka Spearhead

Peter C. Smith,1998-09-30 This addition to the Luftwaffe at War Series is a fully illustrated guide to the formative years of the Ju 87 dive bomber which dominated the opening campaigns of World War II.

Combat Biplanes of World War II Peter C. Smith,2015-09-30 Aviation and maritime historian Peter C. Smith reveals how both Allied and Axis powers used World War I era aircraft in Combat Biplanes of World War II. The era of the combat biplane is usually thought to have been between 1914 and 1938. By the outbreak of World War II, most of the advanced air forces of the world had moved on to monoplane aircraft for their front line battle forces, both in bomber and fighter capacities. Yet despite this, many biplanes did still survive, both in front line service and in numerous subsidiary roles, and not just as training machines, but as fully operational warplanes. Thus in 1939, the majority of major European powers still retained some, albeit few, biplane aircraft. Great Britain had the bulk of such obsolescent machines, including the Gladiator, Swordfish, Walrus, Vildebeeste, and Audax, while the inferior Albacore, meant to replace the Swordfish, had yet to enter service. Germany still managed to conduct missions in which biplanes like the He 50, He 51, and Hs 120 excelled. Both France and Italy had active biplanes. Mussolini's Regia Aeronautica attaching great importance to the type as a fighter aircraft as late as 1941, while the Soviet Union also retained some machines like the Po 2 in front line service right through the war and beyond. By the time Japan and the United States entered the war two years later, they had mainly rid themselves of biplanes, but even here a few specialized types lingered on. Combat Biplanes of World War II describes many of these gallant old warriors, representing the author's own personal selection from a surprisingly large range of aircraft that, despite all predictions, fought hard and well.
