Subjects Of Terror Nerval Hegel And The Modern Self

Karen L. Taylor

Subjects Of Terror Nerval Hegel And The Modern Self:

Subjects of Terror, 1998-12 Subjects of Terror uses a reading of the French Romantic poet G rard de Nerval to elucidate and critique a death based ideology of subjectivity that has remained in force from Kant to Lacan This model despite variations is distinguished by three principal characteristics that the subject is the self sameness of individual experience that as such it functions like language or more specifically like writing and that this self sameness is the annihilation of all individual experiences Theorized by Hegel Heidegger Koj ve and Lacan this abstract and ultimately impersonal notion of the self was not merely theoretical however It was for example long instantiated and enforced by the guillotine Even in its more intimate and less spectacular forms it provoked strong affective responses as is evidenced by writers of the Romantic period from Hugo to Mallarm Zola and Nietzsche As part of this affective reaction Nerval s writings exemplify not only how this negative self construction determines self understanding but also how it determines self experience or in other words the way it feels to be a self in this cultural and historical context That feeling is fundamentally terror and the context is still in many ways our own The book demonstrates that Nerval s works constitute an aesthetic resistance to that ideology of terror and as such helped open the way for the ethical models of subjectivity that will appear in Kristeva Aulagnier and Levinas Although for two centuries social theoretical and aesthetic forces have coerced individuals into experiencing the world through the morbid filter of their own absolute destruction the author argues through Nerval for the possibility of an alternate open ended model of experience based on the libidization of language itself States of Terror David Simpson,2019-03-08 How have we come to depend so greatly on the words terror and terrorism to describe broad categories of violence David Simpson offers here a philology of terror tracking the concept s long complicated history across literature philosophy political science and theology from Plato to NATO Introducing the concept of the fear terror cluster Simpson is able to capture the wide range of terms that we have used to express extreme emotional states over the centuries from anxiety awe and concern to dread fear and horror He shows that the choices we make among such words to describe shades of feeling have seriously shaped the attribution of motives causes and effects of the word terror today particularly when violence is deployed by or against the state At a time when terror talk is widely and damagingly exploited by politicians and the media this book unpacks the slippery rhetoric of terror and will prove a vital resource across humanistic and social sciences disciplines Hegel and Psychoanalysis Molly Macdonald,2014-06-03 Both Hegel s philosophy and psychoanalytic theory have profoundly influenced contemporary thought but they are traditionally seen to work in separate rather than intersecting universes This book offers a new interpretation of Hegel s Phenomenology of Spirit and brings it into conversation the work of two of the best known contemporary psychoanalysts Christopher Bollas and Andr Green Hegel and Psychoanalysis centers a consideration of the Phenomenology on the figure of the Unhappy Consciousness and the concept of Force two areas that are often overlooked by studies which focus on the master slave dialectic This book offers reasons for why now more than ever we need to recognize how concepts of intersubjectivity Force the Third and binding are essential to an understanding of our modern world Such concepts can allow for an interrogation of what can be seen as the profoundly false and constructed senses of community and friendship created by social networking sites and further an idea of a global community which thrives at the expense of authentic intersubjective relations

Cultural Experiences of Fear, Horror and Terror Mark Callaghan, Kacey Davis, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2016 This volume comprises numerous academic papers concerning essential subjects in relation to fear horror and terror from cinematic representations and their subsequent responses to first person accounts of terror by way of literature and journalism Key scholars are employed to develop these important research areas as they provide new insights into cultural experiences and evaluations of fear horror and terror and their consequent analysis Contributors also explore cross cultural fear the memorialisation of violence and female experiences of fear represented through literature theatre and cinema Valuable research is also demonstrated by way of the conceptualisation and management of fear including the control of public fear in relation to mental illness along with significant insights concerning depictions of sexual violence the concept of the sublime in relation to the visualisation of the universe and the relationship between scales of fright and the bulk of the on screen monster

The Sublime, Terror and Human Difference Christine Battersby, 2013-01-11 Christine Battersby is a leading thinker in the field of philosophy gender studies and visual and literary aesthetics In this important new work she undertakes an exploration of the nature of the sublime one of the most important topics in contemporary debates about modernity politics and art Through a compelling examination of terror transcendence and the other in key European philosophers and writers Battersby articulates a radical female sublime A central feature of The Sublime Terror and Human Difference is its engagement with recent debates around 9 11 race and Islam Battersby shows how since the eighteenth century the pleasures of the sublime have been described in terms of the transcendence of terror Linked to the feminine the sublime was closed off to flesh and blood women to Orientals and to other supposedly inferior human types Engaging with Kant Burke the German Romantics Nietzsche Derrida Lyotard Irigaray and Arendt as well as with women writers and artists Battersby traces the history of these exclusions while finding resources within the history of western culture for thinking human differences afresh The Sublime Terror and Human Difference is essential reading for students of continental philosophy gender studies aesthetics literary theory visual culture and race and social theory

Terror and Its Discontents Caroline Weber, 2003-01-01 Camille Desmoulins a journalist writing under the Montagnard regime of 1793 94 remarked that France s government had replaced the language of democracy with the cold poison of fear which paralyzed thought in the bottom of people s souls and prevented it from pouring forth at the tribunal or in writing How this happened how the Reign of Terror reached even into the realms of thought and language is the subject of Caroline Weber s book a revealing look into the paradoxical embargo on free expression that underpinned the Robespierrists self proclaimed despotism of liberty during the French Revolution Weber examines Jean Jacques Rousseau's and the Robespierrists articulation of a series of initiatives designed to curtail and control the dissemination of alternative political and philosophical messages in the republic Here Weber underscores the internal contradictions and limitations of an enterprise that promised universal freedom while oppressing particularism and that railed against the very language that it was compelled to adopt as a principal political tool The book then focuses on two eloquent contemporary critics of this phenomenon Desmoulins and the Marquis de Sade the infamous libertine author Weber demonstrates how Desmoulins reconfigured the Montagnard regime's rhetoric to conjure up a political system based on tolerance not terror and how Sade deftly parodied the Robespierrists brutality and hypocrisy proposing a republic based on the ruthless elimination of dissident voices and on the unabashed celebration of despotism and bloodshed A balanced account of how the discourse of totality actually restricted particular freedoms in the wake of the French Revolution this book provides a highly original and timely exposition of the political uses of rhetoric and of the links between language and power

Historical Dictionary of Romanticism in Literature Paul Varner, 2014-11-18 The Historical Dictionary of Romanticism in Literature provides a large overview of the Romantic Movement that seemed at the time to have swept across Europe from Russia to Germany and France to Britain and across the Atlantic to the United States The Romantics saw themselves as inaugurating a new era They frequently referred to themselves or their contemporaries as Romantics and their art as Romantic From the early stirrings in Germany to the last decade of the eighteenth century in England with the political radicals and the Lake Poets to the Transcendental Club in Massachusetts the leaders of the age acknowledged their new Romantic attitudes This volume takes a close and comprehensive look at romanticism in literature through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 800 cross referenced entries on the writers and the poems novels short stories and essays plays and other works they produced the leading trends techniques journals and literary circles and the spirit of the times are also covered This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more romanticism in literature

Thoughts of Love Fiona Peters, Gary Peters, 2013-07-29 Perhaps because love is a feeling rather than a thought there is a serious shortage of thinking on love available for the increasing number of students studying on courses devoted to the subject This volume aims to address this lack providing a much needed resource that will support and enliven research across a wide range of disciplines The essays collected here have been contributed by both established and emerging international scholars in the field and are drawn from a variety of subject areas including continental philosophy ethics critical theory psychoanalysis feminist theory post colonial theory literary theory and personal memoir Addressing a varied but overlapping set of concerns that speak of desire friendship obsession destructiveness sympathy and loss the writers here bring a shared commitment to the theme of love in the face of its denial and destruction in so many quarters so much of the time In such dark times it is work such as this that perhaps can restore our faith in the power of thinking This volume will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as researchers in the field but most of all is intended for all readers whether specialist or non specialist who wish to give some serious thought to the most human of human feelings love
