Marshall,2005 This bibliography is a record of British relations with Tibet in the period 1765 to 1947 As such it also involves British relations with Russia and China and with the Himalayan states of Ladakh Lahul and Spiti Kumaon and Garhwal Nepal Sikkim Bhutan and Assam in so far as British policy towards these states was affected by her desire to establish relations with Tibet It also covers a subject of some importance in contemporary diplomacy It was the legacy of unresolved problems concerning Tibet and its borders bequeathed to India by Britain in 1947 which led to border disputes and ultimately to war between India and China in 1962 These borders are still in dispute today It also provides background information to Tibet s claims to independence an issue of current importance The work is divided into a number of sections and subsections based on chronology geography and events The introductions to each of the sections provide a condensed and informative history of the period and place the books and article in their historical context Most entries are also annotated This work is therefore both a history and a bibliography of the subject and provides a rapid entry into a complex area for scholars in the fields of international relations and military history as well as Asian history

World and Its Peoples ,2007 Most of what is known about the outside world remains superficial and stereotypical World and Its Peoples Eastern and Southern Asia brings a long rich story to light about ethnic groups the impact of terrain and natural resources and the influence of history This unique reference work maps out how the nations of the modern world became what they are today through photographs of the geography and people of foreign lands through discussion of ancient and contemporary works of art and events and through scores of maps detailing geographical features historic and modern places natural habitats rainfall locations of ethnic and linguistic groups natural resources and centers of industry and transportation No single resource assembles such comprehensive insight into the world and the people who live in it     A Change in Worlds on the Sino-Tibetan Borderlands Jack Patrick Hayes,2013-12-19 A Change in Worlds explores the environmental economic and political history of the Sino Tibetan Songpan region of northern Sichuan from the late imperial Qing Dynasty to the early 21st century A historically Tibetan region on the eastern edge of the Tibetan Plateau with significant Han and Muslim Chinese populations Songpan played important roles in the development of western and modern China s ethnic relations policies forestry sector grasslands and environmental conservation and recent developments in eco and ethnic tourism as part of various Chinese states However in spite of close associations with various Tibetan and Chinese regimes the region also has a rich history of local independence and resilient nomadic semi nomadic and agricultural populations and identities The Sino Tibetan diversity in Songpan partly formed by unique ecological conditions conditioned all attempts to incorporate the region into larger and more centralized state homogenizing structures This historical study analyzes the social force of markets and nature in the Songpan region in concert with the political and social conflicts and compromise at the heart of changing political regimes and the area s ethnic groups It presents new perspectives on the social transformation and economies of Tibetans and Han Chinese from the late Qing Dynasty to Mao era and contemporary western China It not only allows for a new understanding of how the natural environment and landscapes fit into the imagination of the Sino Tibetan borderlands it also figures in the challenges of negotiating ethnic and market relations among societies The mix of complicated relations over natural environment resources politics and markets was at the heart of the region s social and political infrastructures with far reaching implications for both historical and contemporary China
