The Last of the Handmade Dams Bob Steuding, 1985 The Last of the Homemade Dams, the Story of the Ashokan Reservoir Robert Steuding, 1985 Building the Ashokan Reservoir Frank Almquist ,2021 The author wanted to bring the story of how this massive dam miles of dikes and water controls come together into a system that provides New York City residents 500 million gallons of water daily Accolades go to the Board of Water Supply engineers who in the 1900s designed the project and to the contractors and their workers who more than 100 years ago and mostly by hand completed an undertaking nearly the magnitude of the Panama Canal Back cover The Bronx River in History & Folklore Stephen Paul DeVillo, 2021-04-13 From Jonas Bronck to today discover stories and legends of New York s Bronx River The Bronx River flows for twenty three miles through Westchester County and the heart of the Bronx It is New York City s only freshwater river and it is exceptionally rich in history folklore and environmental wonder From Revolutionary War battlefields to native forests and lost villages its lore and remarkable history are peopled with an array of legendary characters like Aaron Burr and the redoubtable Aunt Sarah Titus Today the once polluted river is revitalized by decades of citizen activism and it once again plays a unique role in the diverse communities along its length Stephen DeVillo traces the river s long and colorful story from the glaciers to the present day combining human history local legends and natural history into a detailed portrait Lost Towns of the Swift River Valley: Drowned by the Ouabbin Elena of a special part of New York Palladino, 2022-10 In April 1938 Swift River Valley residents held a farewell ball to mark the demise of the guintessential New England town of Enfield and its three smaller neighbors Greenwich Dana and Prescott The Commonwealth of Massachusetts sacrificed these three towns to build the Quabbin a massive reservoir of drinking water for residents of Boston Three prominent residents attended the somber occasion Marion Andrews Smith was the last surviving member of an important manufacturing family Willard Doc Segur was the valley s beloved country doctor and town leader And Edwin Henry Howe was Enfield's postmaster and general store proprietor They helped build their beloved community for decades only to watch grief stricken as it was destroyed by 400 billion gallons of water Author and historian Elena Palladino recounts the story of these communities as seen through eyes of those who lived there until the end Learning the Birds Susan Fox Rogers, 2022-04-15 The thrill of quiet adventure The constant hope of discovery The reminder that the world is filled with wonder When I bird life is bigger more vibrant That is why Susan Fox Rogers is a birder Learning the Birds is the story of how encounters with birds recharged her adventurous spirit When the birds first called Rogers was in a slack season of her life The woods and rivers that enthralled her younger self had lost some of their luster It was the song of a thrush that reawakened Rogers sparking a long held desire to know the birds that accompanied her as she rock climbed and paddled to know the world around her with greater depth Energized by her curiosity she followed the birds as they drew her deeper into her authentic self and ultimately into love In Learning the Birds we join Rogers as she becomes a birder and joins the community of passionate and guirky bird people We meet her birding companions close to home in New York State's Hudson Valley as well as in the desert of Arizona and awash in the midnight sunlight of Alaska Along on the journey are birders and estimable ornithologists of past generations people like Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Florence Merriam Bailey whose writings inspire Rogers s adventures and discoveries A ready knowledgeable and humble friend and explorer Rogers is eager to share what she sees and learns Learning the Birds will remind you of our passionate need for wonder and our connection to the wild creatures with whom we share the land Taking Our Water for the City April M. symbolized America's rise from the Great Depression through monumental public works and technological innovation Jackson relates the practical applications of dams describing their use in irrigation navigation flood control hydroelectric power milling mining and manufacturing He chronicles changing construction techniques from small timber mill dams to those more massive and more critical to a society dependent on instant access to electricity and potable water Concurrent to the evolution of dam technology Jackson recounts the rise of a postcard culture that was fueled by advances in printing photography lowered postal rates and America's fascination with visual imagery In 1910 almost one billion postcards were mailed through the U S Postal Service and for a period of over fifty years postcards featuring dams were all the rage Whether displaying the charms of an old mill the aftermath of a devastating flood or the construction of a colossal gravity dam these postcards were a testament to how people perceived dams as structures of both beauty and technological power Ulster County A.J.
