The Last Of The Sweet Bananas New And Selected Poems:

The Last of the Sweet Bananas Jack Mapanje, 2004 Because he was a radical poet Jack Mapanje was imprisoned without trial or charge by the dictator Hastings Banda of Malawi for nearly four years The themes of his poetry range from the search for a sense of dignity and integrity under a repressive regime incarceration release from prison exile and return to Africa and reconciliation with torturers to the writer in Africa and the continuing African liberation struggle in a hostile world While often deadly serious Mapanje s poems are lifted by the generosity of spirit and irrepressible humour which helped sustain him through his prison ordeal The Last of the Sweet Bananas Jack Mapanje, 2004

The Cambridge Companion to Postcolonial Poetry Jahan Ramazani, 2017-02-27 This Companion is the first to explore postcolonial poetry through regional historical political formal textual and gender approaches

The Oxford Companion to Modern Poetry in English Jeremy Noel-Tod, Ian Hamilton, 2013-05-23 This impressive volume provides over 1 700 biographical entries on poets writing in English from 1910 to the present day including T S Eliot Dylan Thomas and Carol Ann Duffy Authoritative and accessible it is a must have for students of English and creative writing as well as for anyone with an interest in poetry Postcolonial Poetry in English Rajeef S. Patke, 2006-06-15 This book offers an introductory survey of contemporary poetry in English from all the regions that have developed into modern nations from the former British Empire It is ideally suited for readers interested in world writing in English contemporary literature postcolonial writing cultural studies and postmodern culture

From Home and Exile Joanna Woods, 2014-12-03 This book is about home With Malawi as its focus it seeks to understand ideas about home as expressed through poetry written by Malawians in English Although African Literatures are studied those of Malawi have not received agreeable attention This book surveys poetry by five Malawian writers Felix Mnthali Frank Chipasula Jack Mapanje Lupenga Mphande and Steve Chimombo The discussion negotiates scribed experience of exile engendered by Dr Bandas regime and shows that the selected poets effectively converse with a sense of home reflecting on its transformations in their work Interrogating the strict definitions of home the argument highlights that far from home less exiles in fact clarify the sense of what home is The manoeuvre is one of thinking towards an unboundaried home This book will be of value not only to readers interested in the cultures of Africa but to all those with an interest in worldwide literary phenomena and ideas therein of home and exile

Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement

The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods

Malawian Writers and Their Country Bridgette Kasuka, Editor, 2013-01-31 This is a general survey of writers from Malawi and the books they have written The book is also a general introduction to Malawi as a country and as a nation

Partial Stories Claire L. Wendland, 2022-04-22 A close look at stories of maternal death in Malawi that considers their implications in the broader arena of medical knowledge By the early twenty first century about one woman in twelve could expect to die of a pregnancy or childbirth complication in Malawi Specific deaths became object lessons Explanatory stories circulated through hospitals and villages proliferating among a range of practitioners nurse midwives traditional birth attendants doctors epidemiologists herbalists Was biology to blame Economic underdevelopment Immoral behavior Tradition Were the dead themselves at fault In Partial Stories Claire L Wendland considers these explanations for maternal death showing how they reflect competing visions of the past and shared concerns about social change Drawing on extended fieldwork Wendland reveals how efforts to legitimate a single story as the authoritative version can render care more dangerous than it might otherwise be Historical biological technological ethical statistical and political perspectives on death usually circulate in different expert communities and different bodies of literature Here Wendland considers them together illuminating dilemmas of maternity care in contexts of acute change chronic scarcity and endemic inequity within Malawi and beyond

African Writers Bridgette Kasuka, 2013-05 This work looks at some African writers including those who are not well known to show the potential and diversity in the works produced by Africans Included is a profile of Chinua Achebe and commentaries on his works soon after he passed away

Historical Dictionary of Malawi Owen J. M. Kalinga,2012 Malawi established as the British protectorate of Nyasaland in 1891 gained its independence in 1964 and moved immediately into three decades of one party rule Since the mid 1990s however the country has held multi party elections as directed by its constitution and President Bingu wa Mutharika is currently serving his second term The fourth edition of the Historical Dictionary of Malawi now newly expanded and updated covers a wide range of areas in Malawi history including the rise and fall of state systems religious and socio political movements the economy environment transportation war disease and natural sciences Author Owen J M Kalinga charts developments from pre history to the post Banda Malawi from Tom Bokwito to James Sangala and from the UMCA mission at Magomero to the second term of Bingu wa Mutharika s presidency paying particular attention to the individuals groups communities and forces that have molded this South African country The dictionary itself contains over 1 000 cross referenced entries on crucial aspects of Malawi history and it is the most extensive single volume reference work on Malawi available In addition to the dictionary entries Kalinga provides a chronology containing important dates and events and an informative bibliographical section organized by subject The final part of the bibliography gives the reader a list of current and obsolete newspapers and periodicals related to Malawi an ideal resource for further research This newly updated edition is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Malawi

Malawi in Pictures Sarah De Capua,2009-01-01 Describes the geography history people culture and political issues of Malawi

Incarceration and human rights Melissa McCarthy,2013-01-18 A collection of essays and responses from diverse contributors united in original examination of the intersection between incarceration and human rights What do human rights concerns dictate about the practices that we tolerate in places of incarceration And conversely what can prisons their hard facts and the ideas underpinning them tell us about human rights The book offers a diversity of voices from the inside view of Her Majesty s Inspector of Prisons to the words of a poet and former political prisoner from an international policy overview of abuses of the mentally ill to a socio economic reading of race and class in prisons This range of approaches offers a uniquely rounded view of the topic while each contributor s eminence in their field gives great depth of expertise
