Microbiological Safety and Quality of Food Barbara M. Lund, Tony C. Baird-Parker, Grahame W. Gould, 2000 This authoritative two volume reference provides valuable necessary information on the principles underlying the production of microbiologically safe and stable foods. The work begins with an overview and then addresses four major areas. Principles and application of food preservation techniques covers the specific techniques that defeat growth of harmful microorganisms how those techniques work how they are used and how their effectiveness is measured. Microbial ecology of different types of food provides a food by food accounting of food composition naturally occurring microflora effects of processing how spoiling can occur and preservation. Foodborne pathogens profiles the most important and the most dangerous microorganisms that can be found in foods including bacteria viruses parasites mycotoxins and mad cow disease. The section also looks at the economic aspects and long term consequences of foodborne disease. Assurance of the microbiological safety and quality of foods scrutinizes all aspects of quality assurance including HACCP hygienic factory design methods of detecting organisms risk assessment legislation and the design and accreditation of food microbiology laboratories. Tables photographs illustrations chapter by chapter references and a thorough index complete each volume. This reference is of value to all academic research industrial and laboratory libraries supporting food programs and all institutions involved in food safety microbiology and food microbiology quality assurance and assessment food legislation and generally food science and technology.

High Pressure Fluid Technology for Green Food Processing Tiziana Fornari, Roumiana P. Stateva, 2014-10-31 The aim of this book is to present the fundamentals of high pressure technologies from the perspective of mass transfer phenomena and thermodynamic considerations. Novel food applications are exposed and their relation to chemical analysis extraction reaction and particle formation processes are outlined. The chapters are written by a diverse group of scientists with expertise in chemistry food processes analytical chemistry chemical engineering and chemical engineering thermodynamics and biotechnology. The mission of green food engineering is to promote innovative technologies that reduce or eliminate the use or generation of hazardous materials solvents reagents in the design and operation of food related processes with the view to improve food safety and quality. Several efficient environmentally friendly and benign technologies based on the use of high pressure and green solvents have demonstrated to be sustainable alternatives to traditional processes in the food industry. Although hundreds of new ideas are being published in the open literature reliable engineering tools to simulate and design those processes are still under development High Pressure Fluid Technology for Green Food Processing presents in depth analyses and outlines the ways towards their maturity Tiziana Fornari Research Institute of Food Science CIAL Universidad Autonoma de Madrid Madrid Spain Roumiana P Stateva Institute of Chemical Engineering Bulgarian Academy of Sciences Sofia Bulgaria
