ERICA BORNSTEIN

William Outhwaite, Stephen Turner

The Spirit of Development Erica Bornstein, 2004-06-01 This work is an ethnographic account of the work of transnational Christian non governmental organizations NGOs in Zimbabwe Protestant NGOs are one of the voices of pluralism in southern Africa sometimes challenging the state and at other times collaborating with it The tensions of such engagement are key to understanding the successes and failures of transnational humanitarian endeavors to foster democratic governance in Zimbabwe While much scholarship has been focused theoretically on the role of NGOs in democratization in Africa regarding international foreign policy few studies offer empirically grounded insights into how transnational NGOs operate The Spirit of Development addresses ethnographically how an American discourse of Christian humanitarianism transforms and is transformed by local settings Between Humanitarianism and Evangelism in Faith-based Organisations May Ngo,2018-04-27 Religion has always played an important if often contested role in the public domain This book focuses on how faith based organisations FBOs interact with the public sphere showing how faith based actors are themselves shaped by wider processes and global forces such as globalisation migration foreign policy and neoliberal markets Focusing on a case study of an FBO in Morocco which gives aid to sub Saharan African irregular migrants the book reveals some of the challenges the organisation faces as it tries to negotiate at once local national and international contexts through their particular Christian values This book contends that the contradictions tensions and ambiguities that arise are primarily a result of the organisation having to negotiate a normative global secular liberalism which requires a strict demarcation between religion and politics and religion and the secular Faith based actors particularly within humanitarianism have to constantly navigate this divide and in examining the question of how religious values translate into humanitarian and development practices categories such as religion the secular and politics and the boundaries between them will need to be interrogated This book explores the diversity and complexity of the work of FBOs and will be of great interest to students and researchers working at the intersections of humanitarianism and development studies politics and religion

Non-Governmental Organizations and Development David Lewis, Nazneen Kanji, 2009-09-10 Non governmental organizations NGOs are high profile actors in the field of international development both as providers of services to vulnerable individuals and communities and as campaigning policy advocates This book provides a critical introduction to the wide ranging topic of NGOs and development Written by two authors with more than twenty years experience of research and practice in the field the book combines a critical overview of the main research literature with a set of up to date theoretical and practical insights drawn from experience in Asia Europe Africa and elsewhere It highlights the importance of NGOs in development but it also engages fully with the criticisms that the increased profile of NGOs in development now attracts Non Governmental Organizations and Development begins with a discussion of the wide diversity of NGOs and their roles and locates their recent rise to prominence within broader histories of struggle as well as within the ideological context of neo liberalism It then moves on to analyze how interest in NGOs has both reflected and informed wider theoretical trends and debates within development studies before analyzing NGOs and their practices using a broad range of short case studies of successful and unsuccessful interventions David Lewis and Nazneen Kanji then moves on to describe the ways in which NGOs are increasingly important in relation to ideas and debates about civil society globalization and the changing ideas and practices of international aid The book argues that NGOs are now central to development theory and practice and are likely to remain important actors in development in the years to come In order to appreciate the issues raised by their increasing diversity and complexity the authors conclude that it is necessary to deploy a historically and theoretically informed perspective This critical overview will be useful to students of development studies at undergraduate and masters levels as well as to more general readers and practitioners The format of the book includes figures photographs and case studies as well as reader material in the form of summary points and questions Despite the growing importance of the topic no single short up to date book exists that sets out the main issues in the form of a clearly written academically informed text until now

Routledge Handbook of Africa-Asia Relations Pedro Amakasu Raposo, David Arase, Scarlett Cornelissen, 2017-10-30 The Routledge Handbook of Africa Asia Relations is the first handbook aimed at studying the interactions between countries across Africa and Asia in a multi disciplinary and comprehensive way Providing a balanced discussion of historical and on going processes which have both shaped and changed intercontinental relations over time contributors take a thematic approach to examine the ways in which we can conceptualise these two very different yet inextricably linked areas of the world Using comparative examples throughout the chronological sections cover Early colonialist contacts between Africa and Asia Modern Asia Africa interactions through diplomacy political networks and societal connections Africa Asia contemporary relations including increasing economic security and environmental cooperation This handbook grapples with major intellectual questions defines current research and projects future agendas of investigation in the field As such it will be of great interest to students of African and Asian Politics as well as researchers and policymakers interested in Asian and African Studies Regulating Romance Shanti Parikh, 2016-04-11 Drawing on ten years of ethnographic research two hundred fifty interviews and over three hundred youth love letters author Shanti Parikh uses lively vignettes to provide a rare window into young people s heterosexual desires and practices in Uganda In chapters entitled Unbreak my heart I miss you like a desert missing rain and You re just playing with my head she invites readers into the world of secret longings disappointments and anxieties of young Ugandans as they grapple with everyday difficulties while creatively imagining romantic futures and possibilities Parikh also examines the unintended consequences of Uganda's aggressive HIV campaigns that thrust sexuality and anxieties about it into the public sphere In a context of economic precarity and generational tension that constantly complicates young people s notions of consumption based romance communities experience the dilemmas of protecting and policing young people from reputational and health dangers of sexual activity They arrested me for loving a school girl is the title of a chapter on controlling delinquent daughters and punishing defiant boyfriends for attempting to undermine patriarchal authority by asserting their adolescent romantic agency Sex education programs struggle between risk and pleasure amidst morally charged debates among international donors and community elders transforming the youthful female body into a platform for public critique and concern The many sides of this research constitute an eloquently executed critical anthropology of intervention Faith in Schools Amy Stambach, 2009-12-07 American Evangelicals have long considered Africa a welcoming place for joining faith with social action but their work overseas is often ambivalently received Even among East African Christians who share missionaries religious beliefs understandings vary over the promises and pitfalls of American Evangelical involvement in public life and schools In this first hand account Amy Stambach examines missionary involvement in East Africa from the perspectives of both Americans and East Africans While Evangelicals frame their work in terms of spreading Christianity critics see it as destroying traditional culture Challenging assumptions on both sides this work reveals a complex and ever evolving exchange between Christian college campuses in the U S where missionaries train and schools in Kenya Uganda and Tanzania Providing real insight into the lives of school children in East Africa this book charts a new course for understanding the goals on both sides and the global connections forged in the name Humanitarianism and Challenges of Cooperation Volker Heins, Kai Koddenbrock, Christine Unrau, 2016-02-05 of faith Humanitarianism as a moral concept and an organized practice has become a major factor in world society It channels an enormous amount of resources and serves as an argument for different kinds of interference into the internal affairs of countries and regions At the same time and for these very reasons it is an ideal testing ground for successful and unsuccessful cooperation across borders Humanitarianism and the Challenges of Cooperation examines the multiple humanitarianisms of today as a testing ground for new ways of global cooperation General trends in the contemporary transformation of humanitarianism are studied and individual cases of how humanitarian actors cooperate with others on the ground are investigated This book offers a highly innovative empirically informed account of global humanitarianism from the point of view of cooperation research in which internationally renowned contributors analyse broad trends and present case studies based on meticulous fieldwork This book will be of great interest to students and researchers in the areas of political science international relations and humanitarianism It is also a valuable resource for humanitarian aid workers Strangers to Neighbors Ryan Alaniz, 2017-12-06 Natural disasters the effects of climate change and political upheavals and war have driven tens of millions of people from their homes and spurred intense debates about how governments and nongovernmental organizations NGOs should respond with long term resettlement strategies Many resettlement efforts have focused primarily on providing infrastructure and have done little to help displaced people and communities rebuild social structure which has led to resettlement failures throughout the world So what does it take to transform a resettlement into a successful community This book offers the first long term comparative study of social outcomes through a case study of two

Honduran resettlements built for survivors of Hurricane Mitch 1998 by two different NGOs Although residents of each arrived from the same affected neighborhoods and have similar demographics twelve years later one resettlement wrestles with high crime low participation and low social capital while the other maintains low crime a high degree of social cohesion participation and general social health Using a multi method approach of household surveys interviews ethnography and analysis of NGO and community documents Ryan Alaniz demonstrates that these divergent resettlement trajectories can be traced back to the type and quality of support provided by external organizations and the creation of a healthy cohesive community culture His findings offer important lessons and strategies that can be utilized in other places and in future resettlement policy to achieve the most effective and positive results The Oxford Handbook of Law and Anthropology Marie-Claire Foblets, Mark Goodale, Maria Sapignoli, Olaf Zenker, 2022-04-01 The Oxford Handbook of Law and Anthropology is a ground breaking collection of essays that provides an original and internationally framed conception of the historical theoretical and ethnographic interconnections of law and anthropology Each of the chapters in the Handbook provides a survey of the current state of scholarly debate and an argument about the future direction of research in this dynamic and interdisciplinary field The structure of the Handbook is animated by an overarching collective narrative about how law and anthropology have and should relate to each other as intersecting domains of inquiry that address such fundamental questions as dispute resolution normative ordering social organization and legal political and social identity The need for such a comprehensive project has become even more pressing as lawyers and anthropologists work together in an ever increasing number of areas including immigration and asylum processes international justice forums cultural heritage certification and monitoring and the writing of new national constitutions among many others The Handbook takes critical stock of these various points of intersection in order to identify and conceptualize the most promising areas of innovation and sociolegal relevance as well as to acknowledge the points of tension open questions and areas for future development

Introducing World Christianity Charles E. Farhadian,2012-02-20 This interdisciplinary introduction offers students a truly global overview of the worldwide spread and impact of Christianity It is enriched throughout by detailed historic and ethnographic material showing how broad themes within Christianity have been adopted and adapted by Christian denominations within each major region of the world Provides a comprehensive overview of the spread and impact of world Christianity Contains studies from every major region of the world including Africa Asia Latin America the North Atlantic and Oceania Brings together an international team of contributors from history sociology and anthropology as well as religious studies Examines the significant social cultural and political transformations in contemporary societies brought about through the influence of Christianity Discusses Protestant Evangelical Catholic and Orthodox forms of the faith Features useful maps and illustrations Combines broader discussions with detailed regional analysis creating an invaluable introduction to world Christianity

AIDS and Governance Bjorg Sandkjaer, Professor Alan Whiteside, Professor Nana K

Poku, 2013-03-28 The political impact of HIV AIDS varies greatly and is difficult to map States depend on how governments choose to manage the political implications of HIV and AIDS both those stemming from the erosions of its own capacity as well as those that originate from their changing relationship on a national and international level Across the developing world HIV AIDS is slowly killing adults in their most productive years hollowing out state structures deepening poverty and raising profound questions that touch on the organization of all aspects of social economic and political life With the epidemic showing scant signs of slowing down this innovative volume assesses how HIV AIDS affects governance and conversely how governance affects the course of the epidemic In particular the volume employs a compelling analytical and polemic framework for mapping the multiple dynamic mechanisms of governance and HIV AIDS brings together contributions from renowned international scholars from a variety of disciplines draws on comprehensive and detailed perspectives of the roles of actors institutions and structures provides an incisive study of a global plague which threatens existing social economic and human interrelations Institutionalised Dreams Elżbieta Drążkiewicz, 2020-01-01 Using examples from Poland El bieta Dr kiewicz explores the question of why states become donors and individuals decide to share their wealth with others through foreign aid She comes to the conclusion that the concept of foreign aid requires the establishment of a specific moral economy which links national ideologies and local cultures of charitable giving with broader ideas about the global political economy It is through these processes that faith in foreign aid interventions as a solution to global issues is generated The book also explores the relationship linking a state institution with its NGO partners as well as international players such as the EU or OECD The Request and the Gift in Religious and Humanitarian Endeavors Frederick Klaits, 2017-07-13 This collection revisits classical anthropological treatments of the gift by documenting how people may be valued both through the requests they make and through what they give Many humanitarian practitioners the authors propose regard giving to those in need as the epitome of moral action but are liable to view those people's requests for charity as merely utilitarian Yet in many religious discourses prayers and requests for alms are highly valued as moral acts obligatory for establishing relationships with the divine Framing the moral qualities of asking and giving in conjunction with each other the contributors explore the generation of trust and mistrust the politics of charity and accountability and tensions between universalism and particularism in religious philanthropy A Handbook of Economic Anthropology, Second Edition James G. Carrier, 2012-01-01 Acclaim for the first edition The volume is a remarkable contribution to economic anthropology and will no doubt be a fundamental tool for students scholars and experts in the sub discipline Mao Mollona Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute This excellent overview would serve as an excellent text for advanced undergraduate and graduate level classroom use Because of the clarity conciseness and accessibility of the writing the chapters in this volume likely will be often cited and recommended to those who want the alternative and frequently culturally comparative perspective on economic topics that anthropology provides Highly recommended All academic levels libraries K F Rambo Choice The first edition of this unique Handbook was praised for its substantial and invaluable summary discussions of work by anthropologists on economic processes and issues on the relationship between economic and non economic areas of life and on the conceptual orientations that are important among economic anthropologists. This thoroughly revised edition brings those discussions up to date and includes an important new section exploring ways that leading anthropologists have approached the current economic crisis Its scope and accessibility make it useful both to those who are interested in a particular topic and to those who want to see the breadth and fruitfulness of an anthropological study of economy This comprehensive Handbook will strongly appeal to undergraduate and post graduate students in anthropology economists interested in social and cultural dimensions of economic life and alternative approaches to economic life political economists political scientists and historians Muslim Environmentalisms Anna M. Gade, 2019-08-20 How might understandings of environmentalism and the environmental humanities shift by incorporating Islamic perspectives In this book Anna M Gade explores the religious and cultural foundations of Islamic environmentalisms. She blends textual and ethnographic study to offer a comprehensive and interdisciplinary account of the legal ethical social and empirical principles underlying Muslim commitments to the earth Muslim Environmentalisms shows how diverse Muslim communities and schools of thought have addressed ecological questions for the sake of this world and the world to come Gade draws on a rich spectrum of materials scripture jurisprudence science art and social and political engagement as well as fieldwork in Indonesia and Southeast Asia The book brings together case studies in disaster management educational programs international development conservation projects religious ritual and performance and Islamic law to rethink key theories Gade shows that the Islamic tradition leads us to see the environment as an ethical idea moving beyond the established frameworks of both nature and crisis Muslim Environmentalisms models novel approaches to the study of religion and environment from a humanistic perspective reinterpreting issues at the intersection of numerous academic disciplines to propose a postcolonial and global understanding of environment in terms of consequential relations The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology Simon Coleman, Susan B. Hyatt, Ann Kingsolver, 2016-11-25 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology is an invaluable guide and major reference source for students and scholars alike introducing its readers to key contemporary perspectives and approaches within the field Written by an experienced international team of contributors with an interdisciplinary range of essays this collection provides a powerful overview of the transformations currently affecting anthropology The volume both addresses the concerns of the discipline and comments on its construction through texts classroom interactions engagements with various publics and changing relations with other academic subjects Persuasively demonstrating that a number of key contemporary issues can be usefully analyzed through an anthropological lens the contributors cover important topics such as globalization law and politics collaborative archaeology economics religion citizenship and community health and the environment The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology is a fascinating examination of this lively and constantly evolving discipline Ideologies and Infrastructures of Religious Urbanization in Africa David Garbin, Simon Coleman, Gareth Millington, 2022-11-17 How do urbanization and development intersect with religious dynamics to shape contemporary African cityscapes To answer this timely question contributors from across Europe North America and Africa are brought together to explore mega cities including Lagos Cape Town Dar es Salaam and Kinshasa as powerful venues for the creation and implementation of religious models of urbanization and development This book interrogates how religious socio spatial models and strategies engage with challenges of infrastructural development urban social cohesion inequalities and inclusion Chapters explore how faith based practices of urban and infrastructural development link moral subjectivities with individual and wider aspirations for modernization change deliverance and prosperity The volume brings together ethnographically rich and theoretically grounded case studies of religious urbanization across the African continent It advances discussions of the ambivalent role of urban religion in development and documents the complex multifaceted socio cultural and political dynamics associated with religious urbanization in Africa The SAGE Handbook of Political Sociology, 2v William Outhwaite, Stephen Turner, 2017-10-30 The SAGE Handbook of Political Sociology offers a comprehensive and contemporary look at this evolving field of study The focus is on political life itself and the chapters written by a highly respected and international team of authors cover the core themes which need to be understood in order to study political life from a sociological perspective or simply to understand the political world The two volumes are structured around five key areas PART 1 TRADITIONS AND PERSPECTIVES PART 2 CORE CONCEPTS PART 03 POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES AND MOVEMENTS PART 04 TOPICS PART 05 WORLD REGIONS This future oriented and cross disciplinary handbook is a landmark text for students and scholars interested in the social investigation of politics City of God Kevin Lewis O'Neill, 2010 City of God explores the role of neo Pentecostal Christian sects in the religious social political life of Guatemala O Neill examines one such church looking at how its practices have become acts of citizenship in a new politically relevant era for Protestantism All I Eat Is Medicine Ippolytos Kalofonos, 2021-08-24 All I Eat Is Medicine charts the lives of individuals and the operation of institutions in the thick of the AIDS epidemic in Mozambique during the global scale up of treatment for HIV AIDS at the turn of the twenty first century Even as the AIDS treatment scale up saved lives it perpetuated the exploitation and exclusion that was implicated in the propagation of the epidemic in the first place This book calls attention to the global social commitments and responsibilities that a truly therapeutic global health requires
