Spiritual Discourse Learning With An Islamic Master:

Spiritual Discourse Frances Trix, 1993 Far from Ottoman Turkey and the Balkans an expanded farmhouse in southern Michigan provides the secure if improbable setting for Baba Rexheb and his Islamic Bektashi community This is also the setting for Spiritual Discourse a study of the process by which Baba Rexheb a ninety year old Albanian leader of the Bektashi order and Frances Trix an American student who has studied with him for over twenty years come to share a common universe of experience and attunement The focus of the study is one lesson with Baba a lesson that is rich in poetry and parable narrative and face saving humor As Trix seeks to understand how Baba teaches she contextualizes the lesson internally in terms of episodes and dialogic patterns and externally in terms of the societal personal and ritual histories it presumes Overall what is being passed on is not facts but a relationship for the relationship of seeker and master mirrors that of human and God Yet on a more immediate level Baba teaches through a highly personalized recursive sort of language play that engenders current attention while constantly evoking an ever growing shared past For scholars of discourse and interaction the study contributes the central concept of language attunement A form of linguistic convergence that operates not at the level of speech community but rather at the level of dialogic encounter and that occurs most often among people who have long interacted For scholars of Islam and religious studies the study represents a rare application of sociolinguistics to transmission of spiritual knowledge The importance of oral interaction in such transmission has long been appreciated but the conceptual framework and methodology for its analysis have been lacking An ethnography of learning a sociolinguistics of mysticism above all Spiritual Discourse illuminates the process of interpersonal encounter It is a story gracefully and unpretentiously told The Columbia Sourcebook of Muslims in the United States Edward E.

Curtis, 2009-05-18 Presents a patchwork narrative of Muslims from different ethnic and class backgrounds religious orientations and political affiliations bringing together an unusually personal collection of essays and documents from an incredibly diverse group of Americans who call themselves Muslims Celibacy and Religious Traditions Carl Olson, 2008 For an educated general readership and for use in college courses this text introduces the role of celibacy or a lack of it in various religious traditions and the contributors present the rationale for its observance or not within the context of each tradition Routledge Handbook of Turkey's Diasporas Ayca Arkilic, Banu Senay, 2024-08-21 This handbook the first of its kind provides a rich overview of the socio political issues and dynamics impacting Turkey's diasporic groups and diaspora policymaking Turkey constitutes an important case study in the field of diaspora studies with a diaspora population of around 6.5 million This handbook therefore brings together emerging and established scholars to explore the central issues actors and processes relating to Turkey's diasporic groups and diaspora outreach Taken together the historical and contemporary analyses presented in this volume provide readers a multi lens perspective on the trajectories of Turkey's diasporic communities and diaspora policymaking in a wide range of regional contexts including Europe North America and Oceania

The handbook comprises six analytical parts Contextualising Turkey s diasporas past and present Localisation transnational belongings and identity Governing diasporas Micro spaces and everyday practices Cultural production aesthetics and creativity Country specific perspectives The volume offers insights into the debates and processes that structure each of these thematic clusters but also provides a comprehensive overview of the dynamics shaping Turkey s diverse diaspora populations today The contributions encompass a range of disciplines including anthropology history human geography political science international relations and sociology and the volume will be vital reading for anyone interested in Turkey the Middle East and diasporas
