Language Change Larry Trask, 2013-06-17 In Language Change R L Trask uses data from English and other languages to introduce the concepts central to language change. Language Change covers the most frequent types of language change and how languages are born and die. It uses data-based exercises to show how languages change and looks at other key areas such as attitudes to language change and the consequences of changing language.

The Soft Power of the Russian Language Arto Mustajoki, Ekaterina Protassova, Maria Yelenevskaya, 2019-06-12 Exploring Russian as a pluricentric language, this book provides a panoramic view of its use within and outside the nation and discusses the connections between language, politics, ideologies, and cultural contacts. Russian is widely used across the former Soviet republics and in the diaspora, but speakers outside Russia deviate from the metropolis in their use of the language and their attitudes towards it. Using country case studies from across the former Soviet Union and beyond, the contributors analyze the unifying role of the Russian language for developing transnational connections and show its value in the knowledge economy. They demonstrate that centrifugal developments of Russian and its pluricentricity are grounded in the language and education policies of their host countries as well as the goals and functions of cultural institutions such as schools, media, travel agencies, and others created by migrants for their co-ethnics. This book also reveals the tensions between Russia's attempts to homogenize the Russian world and the divergence of regional versions of Russian reflecting cultural hybridity of the diaspora.

Interdisciplinary in its approach, this book will prove useful to researchers of Russian and post-Soviet politics, Russian studies, Russian language and culture, linguistics, and immigration studies. Those studying multilingualism and heritage language teaching may also find it interesting.

Promoting Heritage Language in Northwest Russia Laura Siragusa, 2017-10-19 This volume illustrates how language revival movements in Russia and elsewhere have often followed a specific pattern of literacy bias in the promotion of a minority's heritage language, partly neglecting the social and relational aspects of orality. Using the Vepsian Renaissance as an example, this volume brings to the surface a literacy/orality dualism new to the discussion around revival movements. In addition to the more theoretically oriented scopes, this book addresses all the actors involved in revival movements, including activists, scholars, and policy makers, and opens a discussion on literacy and orality and power and agency in the multiple relational aspects of written and oral practices. This study addresses issues common to language revival movements worldwide and will appeal to researchers of linguistic anthropology, sociolinguistics, education, and language policy and culture studies.

The Strand Magazine Herbert Greenhough Smith, 1900 SPOKEN AMERICAN ENGLISH, 1964 A typology of questions in Northeast Asia and beyond Andreas Hölzl, 2018-08-29 This study investigates the distribution of linguistic and specifically structural diversity in Northeast Asia (NEA), defined as the region north of the Yellow River and east of the Yenisei. In particular, it analyzes what is called the grammar of questions (GQ), i.e., those aspects of any given language that are specialized for asking questions or regularly combine with these. The bulk of the study is a bottom up description and comparison of GQs in the languages of NEA The addition of the phrase and beyond to the title of this study serves two purposes First languages such as Turkish and Chuvash are included despite the fact that they are spoken outside of NEA since they have ties to or even originated in the region Second despite its focus on one area the typology is intended to be applicable to other languages as well Therefore it makes extensive use of data from languages outside of NEA The restriction to one category is necessary for reasons of space and clarity and the process of zooming in on one region allows a higher resolution and historical accuracy than is usually the case in linguistic typology The discussion mentions over 450 languages and dialects from NEA and beyond and gives about 900 glossed examples The aim is to achieve both a cross linguistically plausible typology and a maximal resolution of the linguistic diversity of Northeast Asia
