Successful Innovation Michel Syrett, Jean Lammiman, 2002-01-01 Successful innovation is crucial to a business's competitive edge even its survival but study after study reveals that many organisations are failing to tap the potential of their staff This book pinpoints and describes the processes and capabilities required by organisations to foster creative thinking and equally important to capture and shape the resulting output Its findings are based on original research conducted by the authors and work done by leading business professors in America Europe and Asia Companies and organisations featured in the book include Kvaerner British Airways BMW software design firm Integrysis Glaxo Wellcome the National Theatre Japanese cosmetics company Shiseido French hotel and catering group Accor and Chinese software firm Oticon Chapters look at what inspires and informs original ideas the role of champions and teams in getting ideas off the ground the importance of continuous evaluation and testing of ideas throughout their development together with the free flow of information the roles of consultants and specialists and the crucial factor of leadership Successful Strategy Execution Michel Syrett, 2007-12-01 Companies rarely track their performance against long term plans and results often fail to meet projections When companies do track performance it seldom matches the prior year's projection and a great deal of value is lost in translation This new title in The Economist series shows how businesses can overcome such failings and implement strategy effectively using facts and anecdotal evidence from the real experiences of firms EBOOK: Managing Organizational Change: A Multiple Perspectives Approach (ISE) Ian Palmer, Richard Dunford, David Buchanan, 2016-03-16 Providing the Skills to Successfully Manage Change Managing Organizational Change A Multiple Perspectives Approach 3e by Palmer Dunford and Buchanan offers managers a multiple perspectives approach to managing change which recognizes the variety of ways to facilitate change and reinforces the need for a tailored and creative approach to fit different contexts The third edition offers timely updates to previous content while introducing new and emerging trends developments themes debates and practices Research, Quality, Competitiveness Attilio Stajano, 2008-09-22 The European Union EU was launched as a response to the economic dominance of the United States and to a lesser degree the Soviet Union The nations of Western Europe were too small to compete against large scale and diversified economies on their own Six countries eventually expanding to 27 and counting took a series of steps toward progressively deeper integration the removal of internal tariffs the construction of a common external tariff the elimination of many but not all non tariff barriers leading to a single market and the adoption of a common currency by 15 of the member states The EU today equals and even exceeds the U S on many key indicators of performance In the process two similar but nonetheless divergent models of social and economic life stand in contrast with each other The U S is more committed to capitalism and does little to dilute its harsh edges while the nations of Europe support wider social safety nets and more active regulation of commercial activity to mute the crueler aspects of the free market Until recently the economic dynamism of the U S called into question whether the so called

European social model was sustainable in an era of globalization The EU was slipping in competitiveness and was being challenged by new global powerhouses like China and India Although the US economy has slowed there is little indication that European countries are capable of leveraging the situation to their advantage

CoolSearch Jean Lammiman, Michel Syrett, 2004-08-20 There never has been a time when changes in taste social outlook and lifestyle have been faster and more fundamental Coolsearch shows that the revolution that is going on inside the workplace and that which is taking place in the marketplace are two sides of the same coin Traditional divisions between work and play and between home and the office are being eroded. Twentieth-century companies are using their mastery of new technology to transform product development, marketing and merchandising as consumers and ideas generation and decision making as workers. But how can older companies with deeper vested interests and complex hierarchies keep in touch with the needs generated by the new generation? Syrett and Lammiman show how street-wise market research, better use of technology, shorter decision making, hierarchies, corporate venturing and bottom-up leadership has helped a variety of seeming dinosaurs get abreast of the trends. Stories and case studies of companies such as IKEA, GM, 3M and L'Oréal and their championing the latest trends and thinking are throughout the book. Coolsearch draws on original research by the authors on how new ideas are inspired and shaped in organisations as well as on interviews with leading thinkers in innovation including London Business School's Costas Markides, Strategos's Gary Hamel and Insead's W Chan Kim and Renee Mauborgne. The Owl and the Dove Willemijn Verkoren, 2008. Makes concrete recommendations for peacebuilders in conflict-torn countries to improve capacity building, organisational learning, research and networking in locally appropriate ways. Local non-governmental organisations in conflict-torn countries find themselves in rapidly changing circumstances. This calls for flexibility and the capacity to learn. Locally appropriate ways to deal with conflict are needed but difficult to find. Peacebuilders the dove face various constraints as they develop and share their knowledge the owl. Based on research carried out mainly in Liberia, Sierra Leone, Cambodia and the Philippines, The Owl and the Dove maps these elements in order to find out how peace workers can become more effective learners. It pays attention to exchanges with donor organisations, knowledge institutions and networks. The book makes concrete recommendations for capacity building, organisational learning, research and networking so that these activities may help overcome structural inequalities and constraints, strengthen the learning capacity of peacebuilders and improve the global knowledge base for better peace policy and practice. Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker, Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004.
